MARKET 'BULLISH,' CLOSES HIGHER

Today

Something Was Done.
Prices Up, Loans Down.
We Make Good Rugs.
Women's Colleges Starved.

—By ARTHUR BRISBANE—

BROKERS' loans, borrowed for stock investment and speculation, dropped seven hundred million dollars in a week, a very "bull" point.

General Motors declared an extra dividend of thirty cents that will give stockholders in a few days $12,900,000 more than they would have had ordinarily. That was cheerful news.

THE powers of government and finance did something about the shrinkage in stock values and public confidence yesterday. A lower income tax was announced. And later came a lowering of the rediscount rate to four and one-half per cent. All that will help.

THE important thing is for the public to come out of its hysteria and realize that the foolishness of a few gamblers does not justify throwing away securities for less than their value.

Don't gamble, and don't be panic-stricken.

ALL kinds of plus signs appeared in the stock list. Up 5, up 10¼, up 13⅞, up 17. It was a regular up, up, day, a sort of "excelsior" poem in Wall Street.

Those that had mourned, rejoiced. And some of the bears that had rejoiced, mourned.

BY way of comfort, a Wall Street writer tells you: "The panic of 1837 came to an end."

The panic of 1857 came to an end.

The panic of 1873 came to an end.

The panic of 1893 came to an end.

The panic of 1907 came to an end.

And the panic of 1929 will come to an end.

CERTAINLY it may have ended now. It wasn't a panic based on bad economic conditions that usually cause panics. It was a toppling over of pyramided gambling that had to topple.

Panics come to an end, but unfortunately human foolishness does not come to an end.

THE governments of Turkey and Persia protest against "misrepresentations by American rug and carpet manufacturers marketing products under Oriental names."

NO American merchant of consequence misrepresents goods.

Americans are manufacturing rugs and carpets, superb in color and wearing qualities, that will take the place of Oriental rugs in time.

Ask James Simpson, of Chicago, for details.

ONCE the Romans drank only Greek wines, thinking their own inferior.

Later French aristocrats accepted only Italian wines, although their own were admirable.

This country's wealthy would drink only French claret and champagne, although we made good wines here until prohibition came along and sent the country back to the whisky of Jefferson's day, only worse.

Before long Americans will realize that their own rugs and carpets are as good as any in the world.

CHARLES E. HUGHES made a good speech on Wednesday, demanding more generous endowment of women's education.

Seven leading women's colleges have not one-tenth the endowment of the seven leading men's colleges.

That is extremely foolish, for the mothers of the human race are at least ten times as important as the fathers.

What women learn they remember and tell to their children. What men learn they forget in business and don't tell anybody.

VENIZELOS, prime minister and ablest man in Greece, knows what airplanes will mean when war comes.

He will establish a separate air ministry, and run it himself.

President Hoover, able engineer, ought to have a separate air ministry as one of three branches of a national defense system, and be his own air minister. Nobody could do the work better. A subsecretary could look after details.

JUST now, as you know, the Red Cross is making a drive for more members, and more money. The President urges all to join.

Some busy gentlemen in Wall street felt uneasy yesterday when a huge Red Cross flag was seen floating over the Stock Exchange. It recalled, painfully, battle, war, sudden death.

However, prices went up, so the flag was a good omen.

THE Senate, refusing to adjourn on November 23, by a vote of 2 to 34, will go on working at the tariff.

European countries, afraid of higher duties, had rejoiced to hear of the adjournment and a more or less feeble move to boycott Uncle Sam was abandoned.

It may be taken up again.

Confident Tone Restored to Trading; Many Leaders Score Big Gains for Day

BULLETIN.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—Governors of the New York Stock Exchange today decided to continue the 3-hour sessions all next week.

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
International News Service.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—Stimulated by a flood of constructive developments, the stock market rallied again today and closed substantially higher.

It was the second consecutive "bullish" market after a succession of "bear" sessions that had hammered prices to the lowest level of the year. A wave of optimism has swept Wall street as a result.

The recoveries today, added to yesterday's price gains, have restored from 15 to 30 points to current prices of scores of active stocks.

CLOSING STRONG

United States Steel closed at 164¼, up 4¼; General Electric closed at 198, up 8; United Aircraft at 43¾, up 5¼; Anaconda, 85⅜, up 7⅝, and Westinghouse Electric, $123, up $4.50. Many other leaders scored proportionate gains.

The improvement in credit conditions was reflected in every section of the stock market. Another large decrease in brokers' loans also cleared up the speculative loan situation to the satisfaction of the Reserve Bank heads and call money was freely offered in the outside markets today at 4½ per cent, compared with the official rate of 5½ per cent. These factors cheered traders and resulted in a confident tone throughout the whole session today.

It was said on high authority that a standing order has been placed in the market for the purchase of more than 200,000 shares of United States Steel Corporation common stock at $150 a share. This would represent a $30,000,000 transaction.

Call money renewed at 5½ per cent, the lowest renewal rate since August 17, 1928.

BROKERS MUST OPEN

The committee on arrangements of the stock exchange ruled that although their market will be closed for trading tomorrow, members' offices must be open from 10 a. m. to 1 p. m., for the purpose of clearing up hangover business which could not be completed during the week's rush of trading.

GOOD SLIGHTLY IMPROVED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—(AP.)—For the first time since Secretary of War James W. Good was taken ill, his physicians announced today they had noticed signs indicating a slight improvement in his condition.

The secretary is dangerously ill in Walter Reed Hospital after an emergency operation for gangrenous appendicitis.

The Secretary's physicians said they hoped the improvement might continue without complications, but it was said that Good was still in a critical condition.

INDUSTRY SAFE IN TARIFF

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—The Democratic-Insurgent Republican coalition of the Senate has decided to maintain the high level of industrial rates carried in the Fordney-McCumber tariff law of 1922 and thus protect business against injurious tariff legislation, Senator Simmons, of North Carolina, the Democratic tariff leader, announced today, after the opening moonlight session last night.

The decision is the coalition's answer to the charge of Republican elders in the Senate that in attempting to give agriculture parity under the tariff it is attempting to drag down the country's gigantic industrial fabric.

WILLOCK TO SEE PARENTS

SYOSSET, N. Y., Nov. 15.—(INS.)—The doors of magnificent estate here will swing open today to admit the 21-year-old youth who forsook its splendors to marry his mother's Norwegian chambermaid. But whether his bride will be admitted also is a question.

William Walter Willock, Jr., presumptive heir to a fortune estimated at more than $120,000,000, was to pay a visit to his father and mother, temporarily leaving behind the $8 a week "honeymoon room" over a store in Oyster Bay, near here, which he and his bride have inhabited since their sensational marriage.

Willock declined to divulge the purpose of his visit, or to reveal whether his wife would accompany him. While the elder Willock says he has "forgiven" his son, he added

Willock's Wife Relates How Relatives Opposed Union With Heir to Steel Millions

The beautiful young Norwegian chambermaid whose Viking beauty captured the heir to one of the largest fortunes in America—William Willock, Jr.—here tells how she battled the opposition of her simple, hard-working relatives to marry the man she loved.

Young Mrs. Willock, spurning money and all it will buy, here pledges herself to live as the wife of a poor mechanic, since that is the role Willock has chosen in spite of his $120,000,000 heritage and the $7,000,000 trust fund created for him by his grandmother, wife of B. F. Jones, Pittsburgh steel magnate.

Willock's mother was the former Alice Jones. Willock, Sr., is a former vice president of the Jones & Laughlin Steel Company.

Young Willock's age has been variously reported from 20 to 25. In applying for his marriage license, he wrote his age as 21 and said he was born February 19, 1908. His bride gave her age as 20.

By ADELAIDE INGEBRETSEN WILLOCK

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—Why is it so unusual for a chambermaid to marry the man she loves—even if his parents are rich? In the fairy tales of my country—Norway—it was always that way. A girl who is good can marry anyone.

Besides, my husband is just a working man. He wishes to be nothing else. And since I am the daughter of working people, why should I not be an ideal wife for him?

I am not an adventuress! I have had no sweethearts.

When I was a little girl at home in Stavanger, Norway, I went skating with boys of the parish. But they were only friends. I had heard folk stories of my people, which proved that girls who have no sweethearts secure fine husbands. This is very true!

My sister, Margot, came to America first and married a fine Nor-

TOW BLAZING CAR FROM GASOLINE

Switching Crew Runs Flaming Lime Cargo to Fire Plug From Wilkinsburg Yards

Two tank cars, each loaded with 4,500 gallons of gasoline, were in danger of exploding today when a box car loaded with lime caught fire in the Wilkinsburg yards of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

Only the courage of Engineer L. R. Lewis and Conductor Conn Sheehan, in charge of a switching engine, prevented a spread of the fire to the tanks, coupled to the burning car.

TOW BLAZING BOX CAR

The blazing box car was discovered by Sheehan as his engine was passing a string of cars near the city line. It was necessary to run the engine almost half a mile before it could be switched upon the track with the cars, then back to the fire.

Coupling the engine to the box car the crew hauled it several blocks, stopped it near a fire plug, and called the Wilkinsburg fire department.

RAIN STARTS FIRE

The condition of the burning car indicated that the fire had been caused by the slaking of the lime when rain leaked into it through the car roof.

Dense clouds of steam rose from the burning car as the water used by firemen to extinguish the fire caused more lime to slake.

Under Chief Sam Jeffries the firemen worked more than three hours in the suffocating atmosphere about the car before they washed away all of the hot lime.

Lady Astor Declines Flight Aboard R-101

LONDON, Nov. 15.—(INS.)—Lady Astor, British M. P. and the former Nancy Langhorne, of Virginia, stood accused today of having "cold feet." Lady Astor was one of the 100 members of Parliament who drew tickets for a flight aboard the new giant British dirigible R-101. 6 CLAIM 'PINKY,' RESCUED DOG

Pinky, an Eskimo dog who has had adventures, is riding the cushions again today.

Inadvertently, at least most every one so believes. The young animal fell into an East End manhole and for several hours whined there until Animal Rescue Leaguers came to his rescue.

A reception committee met Pinky at the Animal Rescue League. Six in all came to claim him last night and today.

Miss Hazel Hitson, 18, of 229 North Fairmount avenue, stood beside the kennel in the Kirwood street institution. Pinky scratched at his wire door, jumped and leaped and once freed, landed in Miss Hitson's arms.

Miss Hitson explained Pinky has a habit of following her 2-year-old brother, Kenneth. Miss Hitson and Kenneth were walking in the Highland Park area when Pinky did a fade-out and it was in a sewer there that he later was found.

Secrecy Surrounds New Plane Built for Lindy

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 15.—(AP.)—An aircraft manufacturing company here which has been building a new plane for Col. Charles A. Lindbergh allowed it to be known that Col. Lindbergh is expected here Sunday to inspect the ship.

The announcement by the aircraft builders was guarded, and pending Lindbergh's arrival company officials declined to comment on the plane. Lindbergh, they said, had given definite orders that no information be given out until he had seen the ship.

Reports said a speed plane has been under construction for Col. Lindbergh—a low winged type, open monoplane, capable of cruising at 160 miles an hour.

The ship has been constructed in close secrecy, and whether the company's test pilots have tried it out, or the Colonel himself expects to take it aloft on its initial flight was not divulged.

Cost of Recounting Votes Increased by $3,595

The third payroll of the recount board, organized October 1 to count 84 ballot boxes of the primary election, was submitted to the County Commissioners today. It called for $3,595.

So far, including total expenditure, the recounting has cost the county $11,195. The first payroll was for $4,000 and the second $3,600.

The ballot boxes in which was supposed to have been indications of fraud that warrants prosecution have developed nothing, it is reported. The board is still counting.

TWO DIE AS POISON GAS OVERCOMES NINE ON WARSHIP

SEVEN SAVED BY NAVY MATES

Deadly Fumes Attack Party Entering Sealed Blisters On Boat in Norfolk Yard

NORFOLK, Va., Nov. 15.—(AP.)—Lieut. R. H. Hollenbeck and Boatswain's Mate Thomas George Weber lost their lives and seven other men, all members of the crew of the battleship New York, are in a hospital as the result of being overcome by a poisonous gas aboard their ship at the Norfolk Navy Yard.

Weber lost his life when he went to the rescue of Hollenbeck, one of a party of four who were overcome after entering a blister on the side of the ship. Hollenbeck was the son of Dr. J. D. Hollenbeck, 7101 Ashland boulevard, Rogers Park, Chicago. He was married and his wife was to have joined him here today, friends said. Weber's next of kin was given as Anna T. Weber, 249 East Seventy-seventh street, New York.

SEVEN IN HOSPITAL

The seven men in the naval hospital at Portsmouth, where they were taken after being rescued from the blister and partly revived, all of whom are expected to recover, are:

Ewing Ledbetter, coxswain, Livingston, Tenn; Morris Albert, seaman, Louisville, Ky.; Arthur Raymond Nagengast, seaman, Detroit, Mich.; Harry Burnett, shipfitter, Los Angeles; William Lambert Stanford, shipfitter, Philadelphia; Wilkins R. Herrin, seaman, Huntsville, Ala.; A. C. Aherns, shipfitter, address not available.

Asphyxiation was given officially as the cause of death in the cases of both Hollenbeck and Weber, although both had sustained injuries in falls after being overcome.

When the New York, which is now flagship of Rear Admiral H. H. Christie, commanding Battleship Division 3 of the scouting fleet, was modernized several months ago, blisters, actually double hulls, as a protection against torpedo attacks, were installed. They were painetd and then closed.

DEADLY GAS

Hollenbeck led a party of four into the blisters for the purpose of opening them to let in fresh air. During the time the blisters had been closed, it is believed a deadly gas had been generated by paint, iron and other compounds, and all were overcome. Weber, who was the first to enter the chamber in an effort to bring out his superior officer and the latter's companions, was overcome before he could get to the bottom of the iron steps leading down into the blister and fell 15 feet.

Other would-be rescuers also were overcome, partly or wholly, and it was not until fresh air had been forced into the compartment through a hose that actual rescue could be accomplished.

VOTE SUSPECTS OUT ON BOND

Homestead politicians today submitted to the uncomfortable experience of being photographed for the so-called "Rogues Gallery."

Eight of them, accused of encouraging "repeat voters" at the September primary, had appointments to lend the county photographer their features.

They were Joseph Frank, Louis Markowitz, Pat Harrington, Marty Delaney, Lawrence Albies, Julius Izey, Mike Masley and Edward Hertz.

Joseph Boyd Bennett and Richard Durant, Negroes, also under arrest, have confessed that these eight men bribed them with whisky and money to vote time and again for the same candidate.

Each of the defendants posted $2,000 bail today and all were released. They have been served warrants by Mike McDermott, county detective.

While the defendants were filing past the camera, county detectives were continuing their investigation in Homestead. They have orders from Gardner to question the election boards of the Second and Fourth Districts of Homestead's Second Ward, and to investigate Justice of the Peace J. Clyde Miller's statement that ballots from four election district were burned in the presence of election officials.

Gardner has not decided whether to prosecute Miller, who defends that the ballots were burned because the containers were needed for the general election.

spected at an approved service station.

ARRESTS LOOM

Soon after midnight state highway patrolmen and police of various municipalities will begin to make arrests of drivers of machines not bearing the official inspection sticker.

Corp. L. C. Moore, in charge of the state highway patrol sub-station at Perrysville, outlined today the procedure to be followed, beginning tomorrow, in dealing with persons driving uninspected automobiles.

"If the driver," said Moore, "appears to be a respectable citizen with a fixed residence, a person not likely to run away, we will take his name and address and notify him to prepare to answer within 10 days an information charging him with violation of section 823 of the motor vehicle code. The information will be served on him later.

PENALTY IS $10

"If the driver arouses suspicion—if he looks like a man we might have trouble picking up later—we take him to a police station.

"The fine for driving an uninspected car is $10. Aldermens' costs and those of justices of the peace vary. A forfeit of double the fine and costs—say, an amount between $25 and $30—will be required to assure appearance at the hearing.

"If the uninspected car appears to be one that will not stand inspection—one that is unfit to be operated—the Bureau of Motor Vehicles will be notified, the registration will be canceled, and the car will be ordered off the highways."

Former Judge's Fate In Hands of Jury

AUSTIN, Tex., Nov. 15.—(AP.)—Investigation of the death of Miss Lehila Highsmith, 28, in connection with which former Judge John W. Brady, of the Third Texas Court of Civil Appeals, is held without bond on a charge of murder, still was in the hands of a grand jury today.

About 15 witnesses, several of whom were called to testify yesterday, were awaiting their turns in the grand jury ante room, all presumably to testify regarding their knowledge of the slaying.

Hoover Presents Crippled Boy With Radio

IOWA CITY, Ia., Nov. 15.—(AP.)—Bobbie Farr, 12, who has never been able to walk, relieves the tedium of confinement by tuning in on a seven-tube radio sent him through the courtesy of President Herbert Hoover.

In August, 1928, when Hoover changed from a closed to an open car on the outskirts of Iowa City while en route to the West Branch homecoming, he met Bobbie and shook hands with him.

This fall Bobbie wrote President Hoover that he had listened to the Chief Executive's speech for the Golden Jubilee of Light through a hookup with a neighbor's radio set. He enclosed a picture of Hoover shaking his hand.

The President wrote early this month that "a friend" was sending the boy a radio. Now Bobbie can stay at home to listen to the President's speeches.

U. S. CRUISER IN FOG CRASH

BOSTON, Nov. 15.—(INS.)—The light cruiser Marblehead, carrying 352 officers and men, was in collision during a fog off Nantucket with the Shipping Board steamship Evansville, carrying freight from Boston to Norfolk, Va., and with a crew of approximately 40 officers and men.

The two vessels collided some distance off Nantucket Island at 2:45 a. m.

Both vessels were slightly damaged but proceeded under their own power. The Marblehead reaching the navy yard here without the assistance of coast guard vessels which had been ordered to the scene. The Marblehead reported "no injury to the personnel of either vessel."

U. S. CONFIDENT OF PEACE PACT

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—(INS.)—The State Department is so confident the five-power naval limitations conference in London next January will be a success that it has not even considered the possibility of a deadlock, Joseph P. Cotton, acting secretary of state, said today.

He said the department "had at no time ever considered a tri-partite agreement with Great Britain and Japan or any other alternative arrangement in event the London conference breaks."

Arthur Wilson Page, son of the late Walter Hines Page, ambassador to London in the Wilson administration, has been appointed as a personal aid to Secretary Stimson at the forthcoming arms conference.

The White House, in announcing Page's selection, stated specifically that reports that Page would be named assistant secretary of state were erroneous.

PARIS, Nov. 15.—(INS.)—While all the world is talking about disarmament, Minister of Marine Leygues today asked the Chamber of Deputies for authorization to construct a 10,000-ton cruiser, six destroyers, six first-class submarines, one submarine mine-layer and two gunboats.

He estimated the total cost of this naval construction at 1,267,128,000 francs (about $50,685,120).

ROME, Nov. 15.—(INS.)—Executing a sharp right-about-face, the Italian press today launched itself in unanimous favor of President Hoover's recent proposal to make food-carrying ships inviolable in time of war.

Such action, it is pointed out, would guarantee Italian needs in war-time.

DEMOCRATS AIM AT BIGGER TAX CUT

Agreement of Party Leaders Assures Prompt Action For Relief by Congress

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—(AP.)—Prompt congressional approval of the treasury's new scheme of tax reduction was betokened today by an almost unanimous agreement among party leaders that the nation's taxpayers should benefit as quickly as possible from the prosperous financial condition of the government.

Representative Tilson, of Connecticut, the Republican House leader, predicted after a call at the White House today that the reduction proposal would be passed by the House before the Christmas holidays.

Factional spokesmen of both houses, save only those of the Western independent Republicans, were in virtual accord in sanctioning Secretary Mellon's plan of lopping a full 1 per cent from all normal schedules of income taxation.

HOPE FOR GREATER CUT

Administration supporters were quick to speak their approbation and were joined by the Democratic leaders of the House. Senate Democrats agreed, too, but held out the possibility of demanding an even greater reduction than that advanced by the Treasury, conditioning their full approval upon more definite information as to prospective Federal needs and revenues than is now available.

The Western independents were non-committal, although it was indicated that they would raise no serious objection. Their position has been that Treasury surpluses should be applied to a reduction of the national debt, on the theory that this results in decreased Federal disbursements for interest and indirectly permits lowered taxes.

But while there was virtual unison upon the Mellon proposal, the attendant treasury suggestion that legislation be enacted to permit the administration to alter tax rates under a scheme similar to the flexible provisions of the present tariff law, failed by far to evoke the same degree of unstinted commendation.

DISLIKE FLEXIBLE PLAN

The flexible tariff provisions have been the subject of a vigorous and protracted controversy in connection with the pending tariff bill. Meeting the determined opposition of the Democratic-Independent Republican coalition, President Hoover's desire for a continuation and an extension of the authority conferred upon him by the present tariff law was denied and the power now vested in him relegated to Congress.

Similar opposition is expected to develop to the flexible plan for revising the tax schedules.

Under the treasury scheme, the administration would be empowered to alter tax rates to fit estimated government revenues and expenditures.

TEMPORARY MEASURE

In this way, the Treasury could determine each January what the rates on incomes of the year just closed should be. This, in the opinion of Undersecretary Mills of the Treasury Department, would not interfere with the regular provisions of the revenue law nor prelude a permanent reduction in tax rates.

Secretary Mellon's new proposal for reduced taxes is intended to be of temporary effect. It is planned that the changed rates be embodied in a joint resolution of Congress which could be adopted without the delay that would arise from a general revision of the revenue laws. The resolution would be applicable only to taxes on incomes of the present calendar year and by its expiration automatically restore the present rates when taxes on incomes of 1930 become payable.

Before that time arrives, there will be another study of the government's financial condition, on the basis of which the Treasury can ask for the adoption of another such resolution fixing rates in accordance with the estimates then available, or, if the situation is not so favorable as it now is, the present rates can be restored, by permitting the resolution now proposed to lapse.

INDUSTRY SAFE IN TARIFF

Nebraska, and other powers in the coalition, and that there is general agreement on the policy.

"We are not going to give anyone a chance to say we are responsible for upsetting the business of the country," said Simmons. "We will raise some of the 1922 industrial rates—have done so already—and we will lower some of them, but the 1922 law will be the basis of the industrial schedules.

"We will not retain these rates because we approve them, but because this session of Congress was not called to revise them. This is not a proper occasion to revise them. Let those rates remain for the present until we can have ample time during a regular session of Congress to go carefully into them and to revise them as they ought to be revised—downward, not upward."

FARM PRODUCTS HELPED

The coalition plans to give relief to agriculture and to aid "sick industries" and thus conform to the call of President Hoover, Simmons said.

The announcement came as the Senate was swinging into the agricultural schedules, with "farm bloc" members getting generous increases in the tariff upon farm products all along the line.

Accepting the statement of House leaders that it will demand a higher tariff level than the Senate, the coalition leaders believe in the end a tariff bill will be written with agricultural rates much higher than at present and with some increases for industry. The great stumbling blocks in conference, they say, will be the export debenture and the flexible tariff provisions.

INCREASES SPEEDED

That its announced intention of shooting agricultural schedules upward was no idle boast, the coalition proved last night with the opening night session.

More than a dozen increases allowed by the Senate Finance Committee were approved between 7:30 and 10:30 p. m. Progress was brisk, speeches were brief and general criticism was directed at those senators absenting themselves from the session.

20 G. O. P. 'Regulars' Bolt to Insurgents

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON

International News Service.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—Splitting the Republican party into three factions and bolting their regular leaders, a militant group of 20 regular Republican senators joined hands with the insurgent group today to carry out President Hoover's request for passage of the new tariff bill through the Senate before the special session ends.

This new alignment, aided by a handful of Democrats, blocked every attempt to fix a definite date for adjourning the special session. They ignored the regular leadership and announced a determination to keep the Senate in session day and night until it enacts the tariff. Their purpose was to carry out the request of the President, made last week for passage of the bill within two weeks.

The new Republican "stalwarts" were led by Senators Vandenberg, of Mich., Hastings, of Del., and Fess, of Ohio. They organized their group, it was learned, at a dinner party given by Senator Kean, (Rep.), of N. J., and included in their number, Allen, Glenn, Goff, Gillett, Goldsborough, Hatfield, Hebert, Metcalf, Oddie, Patterson, Sackett, Steiwer, Thomas, Ida., Townsend, Walcott and Waterman, besides the leaders. Most of them are serving their first terms in the Senate.

INSURGENTS' ALLIES

This militant band, allying itself with the insurgents solely on the issue of adjournment, planned to keep the Senate in session day and night until the bill passes.

Their very enthusiasm gave some indication they might succeed, since the Insurgents have announced a line purpose. It was even hinted the measure might be sent to conference by the Senate before November 23, the date fixed by the leaders for adjournment, thus allowing the Senate a week's rest before the new session starts December 2.

These Republican "stalwarts" have gone so far as to circulate and sign a petition, pledging their united attendance at night sessions.

Martins Ferry Man, Old Merchant, Dies

MARTINS FERRY, O., Nov. 15.—(AP.)—William Lawrence Noble, 65, head of Noble & Co., oldest business house here, died yesterday. Noble was for 25 years secretary of the board of trade and vice president of the City Hospital trustees, and was war-time organizer of the Red Cross in this county.

SUGAR LOBBY LINKS G.O.P. LEADERS

Attorney Relates Frequent Calls on Smoot, Watson And Edge to Beat Raises

International News Service.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—The Senate Lobby Committee began today to delve into the extensive sugar lobby that has been carried on in Washington throughout the writing and consideration of the tariff bill.

Edwin P. Shattuck, attorney for the United States Sugar Association, was put on the stand today. He admitted coming to Washington last March and "working two or three days a week" to defeat increases in the present bill.

SMOOT VISITED OFTEN

Senators Smoot (Rep.), of Utah, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee; Watson, of Indiana, Republican floor leader of the Senate, and Edge (Rep.), of New Jersey, were all visited often, Smoot practically every day, Shattuck said.

"You were just lobbying here, then?" Senator Robinson (Rep.), of Indiana, said to the witness.

"I don't know what you mean by lobbying; no."

"But you've discussed sugar tariff with members of Congress?"

"Yes."

$25,000 TO BE FEE

Shattuck said he expected to receive "$25,000 or more" for his time spent in Washington this year and that his organization has paid all his expenses since his arrival here. Although denying that he has entertained on any extensive scale, Shattuck said that his office "pays for everything I spend here."

Shattuck was on the United States sugar equalization board during the war and said he was retained afterward by a number of sugar interests.

The Sugar Association maintains an office in the capital, Shattuck said, with Lester Johnson, a "statistician" as head of it.

FUNDS TO BE LISTED

Persistent questioning brought from the witness that his law firm received "$60,000 or more" for his work from 1920 to 1924. Shattuck said much of his work had been in connection with litigation and promised, although he protested it was a "rather personal request," to submit to the committee a list of all moneys received by him from Cuban sugar interests since 1920. "Half a dozen people" were engaged in similar legal work, he said.

"I'm curious to know why anybody in the employ of the government, when his connection with the government is terminated, is immediately employed on an extensive scale by commercial interests," said Senator Caraway.

The witness said he was "working with Senators Smoot and Edge and others, including members of the Department of Commerce, trying to work out a sliding scale under which both the Cuban and domestic people, including Hawaiian, Cuban and Porto Rican interests, could all share equitably under the protective tariff system."

He said the figure of $110,000 arrived at by the committee as the total he has received for work for sugar interests since 1920 was "about right."

JURY DEBATES 24 HOURS, TIED

For more than 24 hours a jury today had been debating the case of John Howell, 21, truck driver, of Elizabeth, charged with involuntary manslaughter in connection with the death of an elderly man.

Two notes were sent the judge, one of which he answered.

The jury started its deliberations about 2 o'clock yesterday after the trial before visiting Judge J. A. McLaughrey, of Mercer county, had been completed.

With Assistant District Attorney E. Kalson prosecuting, Howell was accused of driving his truck past a street car near 418 Walnut street, Versailles, October 27, 1928, striking Charles Holmgreen, 57, of 2207 River street, Versailles.

Attorney William H. Coleman, representing the driver, brought out that the street car was slowing down to go into a switch at the time Holmgreen crossed the street and was hit.

Child Escapes in Nightie, Naps in Strange Auto

Eight-year-old Josephine Panjay, of 336 Fifth street, Rankin, was in custody of the Juvenile Court today all because she did a "Rip Van Winkle" in the back seat of an automobile last night.

Josephine clad only in a nightie, selected the rear seat of the automobile of C. L. Hapgood, of 1840 Plainview avenue, Brookline, for a bed after her escape early yesterday from the Juvenile detention rooms, Oakland police said. The car was parked in the rear of 3500 Forbes street, when little Josephine clambored in and fell asleep.

Hapgood discovered the girl after he reached the downtown post office last night. Startled at her presence, Hapgood hurried to the Oakland Police Station.

Josephine was taken into the station where she was questioned by Serg. Albert Heineman. Her story of being taken on a shopping trip with her mother and then getting lost didn't go far with the sergeant, since shopping in one's nightie is a bit unusual. He checked with Rankin police, and was told that the girl was a habitual runaway and had been in the custody of Juvenile Court.

The police hustled her back to the detention rooms.

Browning Fights $500,000 Suit of 'Cinderella'

International News Service.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—The famous "Cinderella" case of Edward W. Browning, real estate millionaire, came up in court again here.

Browning applied in Brooklyn Supreme Court for a separate trial to determine whether he could obtain a valid release from Mary Louise Spas, whom he once adopted.

Mary Louise is suing Browning for $500,000, claiming breach of contract in his annulment of the adoption.

Browning claims in an affidavit filed that if the release is litigated first and decided in his favor, it will make unnecessary any trial of the breach of contract action.

In opposing severance of the issue, Mary Louise in an affidavit states that due to Browning's alleged obsession for publicity, she was thrown into the limelight. As a result, she charges, her health was impaired, and she lost 24 pounds at the time.

Browning, in his answering affidavit, charges Mary Louise was not averse to publicity and stated she was paid $500 by a newspaper for her life story.

The court reserved decision.

ARMED ROBBERS HOLD UP PRE-NUPTIAL DINNER PARTY

BANDITS GET $400,000 IN GEMS

$70,000 Reward Offered For Raiders Dead, $35,000 Alive; Two Guests Beaten

BUFFALO, N. Y., Nov. 15.—(AP.)—A reward of $35,000 if taken alive and $70,000, if dead, was offered for seven men, who armed and masked, raided the suburban home of John L. Carson, Jr., last night, during a pre-nuptial dinner party.

Lining the 14 guests and half a dozen servants against a wall, the robbers stripped them of jewelry valued by the guests at about $400,000. They also obtained a small amount of cash and fur wraps.

T $250,000 IN PEARLS

The most valuable item in the list of stolen jewels is a triple string of matched pearls, owned by Mrs. Ray Van Clief, said by one of the guests to be worth between $250,000 and $300,000.

Mrs. Philip Metz, wife of one of the business executives of the Buffalo Evening Times and a daughter of Norman E. Mack, estimated the value of her jewelry taken by the bandits at $60,000.

FIANCEE LOSES

Miss Eleanor Cameron, of Waco, Tex., who, with her fiance, Courtland Van Clief, was the guest of honor at the party, also lost costly jewels. Miss Cameron and Van Clief are to be married November 20.

When the bandits burst in upon the dinner party, the guests thought it was a prank, but after two of them, a man and a woman, had been felled by blows of fists or revolver butts, they realized the seriousness of their predicament and quietly submitted to being searched and stripped of their jewels.

The guests were seated in the dining room when the robbers entered through a French window at the rear of the house and a door leading to the kitchen.

GOLFER FELLED

W. Hamilton Gardner, prominent broker and golfer, walked over to the man who appeared to be the leader and reached for his pistol. He was knocked down. A woman who tried to pull the mask off one of the robbers was knocked down and kicked.

After that no more resistance was offered and the robbers set about searching their victims. They took everything in sight, including necklaces, earrings, rings, watches, stick pins and studs. Completing their search they ordered everyone to lie on the floor and remain there at least five minutes. In the meantime they made their escape.

The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Carson, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Alan Van Clief, Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Metz, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Keating, Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Williams, Miss Cameron, Courtland Van Clief, Mrs. Pauline Breustedt and Clarence Sidway, Jr.

Beerless Brewer Society Dies Of Aridity

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 15.—(AP.) A dissolution notice today sounded the knell for the Milwaukee Brewers' Benevolent Society and the picturesque brewers' ball, once so outstanding an event in Milwaukee's social life.

Because the 5,000 members in pre-prohibition days when this city was famed for its manufacture of beer, had dropped to 125, it was decided to disband the organization.

In earlier years the brewers' ball meant the jamming of the municipal auditorium with a crowd of more than 5,000. Last February a dance was given in a little hall on the North Side. Only a few hundred attended.

OPPOSE STREET VACATING

Petitions are being circulated by residents of the Hays street district to block the Board of Education's contemplated plan in closing up a portion of Hays street for the building of an athletic field for the Peabody High School. The signers say they will make protest to the board and the City Council.

The petitions are being circulated by Mrs. M. Singer, 5811 Hays street; Mrs. Bertha Sharman, 5815 Hays street; Edward J. Cyphers, 5808 Hays street; Mrs. R. C. Smith, 5814 Hays street; J. C. Ruswinkle, 720 North St. Clair street; Mrs. C. R. Benner, 5705 Hays street, and Mrs. James A. Hoey, 5819 Hays street.

The Board of Education plans to acquire the Lockhart property which adjoins the school, and the Binns and the Kelly properties across Hays street, to be used as a field for the school's health program.

Residents contend that the closing of the street would depreciate many properties in the district and inconvenience others. They say they will ask Council to not vacate the street.

WILLOCK TO SEE PARENTS

that he "would not know the girl if he saw her."

In the meantime, young Willock puttered about an ancient car on which he and his servant bride are to leave on a honeymoon trip to Florida next week. In overalls and grease-stained, Willock has spent hours every day priming the car for the journey. He is transforming it into a little houseboat on wheels, and declares himself happier in the role of a carpenter than in that of the indolent heir to a colossal fortune.

"We are very happy together," Willock said today, "but there are too many people bothering us, and we're going to get away to Florida as rapidly as we can."

He pointed out with pride to the improvements he is effecting in the decrepit car. He has transformed its truck body into a comfortable traveling conveyance, and is installing two beds, one above the other, and a refrigerator. A 10-gallon water tank and a gasoline stove complete the equipment.

"I am going to be cook," said the bride, the former Adelaide Ingebretsen, daughter of a fishing family in Stravanger, Norway.

Mrs. Willock revealed that the courtship of the young elopers was far from gay, and that he did not shower upon her the entertainments and gifts that the income from his own $7,000,000 trust fund would have permitted him.

"We never went to parties or night clubs," the pretty, blond-haired girl declared. "We went to the movies occasionally, and the first time we went out together it was to a movie of 'Able's Irish Rose' at a place near Syosset."

Willock steadfastly declined to divulge the reason for his visit to the home of his father today. He is reported to have made one previous visit, when he prevailed upon the elder Willock to retain 12 of the 20-odd servants who man the palatial household, who were slated for discharge because their work had brought them into contact with the heir's new bride while she was dusting furniture and making beds.

Doran Halts Use Of Dry Spies In Denver

DENVER, Nov. 15.—(AP.)—John F. Vivian, divisional administrator of prohibtion law enforcement, was ordered by Prohibition Commissioner Doran at Washington to discontinue the use of paid "informers" unless their employment had been authorized by the Washington office.

As one of the reasons for his order, Dorah telegraphed that the use of such informers by Vivian had upset the national prohibtion budget, and that employment of such persons without first obtaining authority from Washington had been contrary to Trasury regulations.

Doran observed that his order was neither a new national nor local policy.

MOTHER SOLD RUM, SAYS SON

A son who said he doesn't drink, testified in Morals Court today against his mother, charged with selling liquor in her home.

Ralph Mighiacco, 17, testified he had bought a half-pint of moonshine whisky last night for his girl friend in the home of his mother, Mrs. Rose Mighiacco, 117 Mendota street.

The girl, Martha Boykin, 18, of 711 Sandusky street, corroborated the youth. On several occasions, she said, she had purchased liquor in the place at $1 a pint.

She was arrested last night, intoxicated, police testified, in company with young Mighiacco, at Sandusky and Ohio streets. Police later raided the Mighiacco home and confiscated a small quantity of homebrew and moonshine.

Mrs. Mighiacco, mother of eight children, denied selling liquor. She was held for court by Magistrate A. D. Brandon, charged with violating the Snyder act.

Raymond Moore, 33, of 232 Isabella street, arrested as a visitor, was fined $10, and Blanche Frazer, 24, of 558 Reedsdale street, arrested on a like charge, was dismissed. Miss Boykin and young Mighiacco were held over.

DRY LAW MESS, PYLE SAYS

Attorney John S. Pyle, who recently appeared before a Senate sub-committee to protest appointment of Louis E. Graham as United States attorney here, told the Men's Bible Class of the Dormont Methodist Episcopal Church last night that the government has made a "mess" of prohibition enforcement.

"I am sure the federal prohibition act is not being properly enforced," he said, "although I believe an honest effort is being made to enforce it."

BRITISH TROOPS IN MUTINY

LONDON, Nov. 15.—(AP.)—Revelation in the House of Commons yesterday that there had been a mutiny of British troops in Jamaica has aroused considerable mystification and curiosity here.

The government, while admitting the mutiny occurred, is unable to state when, or the circumstances.

Answering a question in the House of Commons, Tom Shaw, war minister, said three soldiers of a Scottish regiment stationed in Jamaica had been convicted by court marital "on two charges of joining in mutiny of forces belonging to His Majesty's army." He said no details of the affair had been received.

OWN STORY OF HEIR'S BRIDE

wegian man in Brooklyn. Three years ago she sent for me.

Hindered by Language

It was very strange for me at first, being in a great city where I could not speak the language, and my only friends were those Norwegian people who live near my sister in Brooklyn. Although I had worked in an office at home I had to do house work here, since my English was so poor.

In my sisters house lived the whole Jacobson family, the parents of my brother-in-law, and his brother's family. They were very good to me, considering me as a young sister. I was so happy with them and with the people of the neighborhood that I did not wish to know anyone else.

In the evening I played cards in the living room, or sewed, or went to the theater with young men who were friends of the Jacobsons.

Many times my sister told me that I should marry one of those fine young working men. They were of our own stock, she said, and I was already 20 years old.

But I did not love them. I must have been thinking of another kind of man.

Last February I went to work in the Willock home as chambermaid. It was so good to be again in open country, where I could see hills and pines and water. It was much like home, and I was happy.

Love at First Sight

When I was not busy in the house I went out to the grounds to smell the fine air and run again in the fields.

When I met William I did not think of his being the son of Mr. Willock. I didn't know he had any money. He wore working clothes and was fixing a machine in his shop on the estate.

At once I loved him. His eyes were large and dark, and they smiled as though he understood all about me. He did not laugh at my English. Sometimes he said I was pretty.

I told my sister that I was in love with him, and she wept. She was so disappointed.

"He is rich, and he means you no good

"Rich men do not marry poor girls! Find a husband among our own people!"

I felt she was right. But I could not forget that in fairy stories rich men and princes really married poor girls when they loved them. Besides, I knew William was honest and kind. I had no reason to fear his love.

All the Jacobsens talked to me until late at night when I visited them.

"Do not stay there," they advised me. "Come back here, or look for other work. This is not good for you—we are older and know!"

Happy in Furnished Room

I could not make them understand that William was not like a millionaire.

When I told them that we were engaged they were very sad.

"Even if he does marry you, it will not be a happy marriage," they predicted.

So, while William had to conceal our wedding from his people because they would object, I, too, concealed it from mine. I met him in Westbury and we went first to Brooklyn for the license, then to Oyster Bay, where the minister married us.

I was so happy when we took the little furnished room over the hardware store in South street, Oyster Bay. This was just like a working girl's marriage should be. Mrs. Montford, the landlady, was suspicious of us, for she did not see my wedding ring. We laughed about it later.

I was afraid to wear my ring—it was so new and strange. William had purposely got me a plain gold ring, like those they wear in Norway.

It was sad, calling on his people and having them so unhappy. We did not go to the Jacobsens. When we come back from our honeymoon we shall. Then they will meet William and know that I made no mistake, for he is a working man.

In the meantime we shall be very happy. I don't know yet how much money William has. Maybe he has not any. But we shall be happy because we will live like poor people.

By ERSKINE GOSLING.

Proud, with the honest pride of hard-working, God-fearing people, the relatives of Adelaide Ingebretsen resent her marriage to William W. Willock, Jr., possessor of a $7,000,000 trust fund and the potential heir to the $120,000,000 Jones and Laughlin Steel fortune.

They devoted long hours of earnest argument in efforts to dissuade her from the union.

They told her again and again that she, a second house-maid in the $1,000,000 menage of her Prince Charming's socially-proud mother at Syosset, L. I., should marry a working man, one of her class; that only disaster lay ahead of such a romance as that in which she was a participant.

The attitude of her people was brought forth with difficulty, and only after repeated visits to the home of her married sister, Mrs. Margot Jacobsen, at 472 Forty-sixth street, Brooklyn.

Jacobsen, tall, blond and honest-eyed, told the story of how he and his wife had endeavored to break up Adelaide's romance with the Willock heir.

"We wanted her to choose a husband from among the working men of the neighborhood," he said. "They are all of Norwegian stock, like ourselves, and belong to our class."

The bride and bridegroom, in the meantime, had spent a rather dull day. Their plans to take an airplane ride were shattered en route to Roosevelt Field, when they were advised that the weather was too foggy.

Prepare for Trip

Willock—who is amazingly thrifty—explained that he had always wanted to ride in a plane but never felt he could afford it.

However, now that a newspaper had invited him to go up, he was a little disappointed that he couldn't.

Then they returned to their furnished room, where he changed into old clothes and went forth to tinker at his flivver in preparation for the Southern camping trip they are planning.

As he posed for photographers beside the machine he reminisced.

The proudest accomplishment of his past was when he bought an old tractor for $150, fixed it up and sold it to his father for $300, he declared. Too bad the darned thing fell to pieces.

The newlyweds' spirits were slightly dampened when Willock was informed that his wealthy father, William W. Willock, Sr., wanted to see him at his Syosset estate at 5 o'clock—sharp!

Mack's Daughter Retains Calm in Robbers' Raid

BUFFALO, N. Y., Nov. 15.—(AP.)—Mrs. Philip Metz, daughter of Norman E. Mack, Democratic National Committeeman, who was stripped of jewels worth nearly $60,000 last night in a dinner party hold-up at the home of John L. Carson, Jr., told a tale of personal courage under highly dangerous circumstances in describing the incident in which gems worth several hundred thousand dollars are said to have been stolen.

Asked if she was afraid when the seven masked bandits entered the dining room and ordered the guests to throw up their hands, she said that everybody thought it was a joke and at first felt no fear.

"They weren't so mean about it," she said. "Just business-like.

"I was seated at a table nearest the door," she continued. "At first I thought it was being done in fun, but when the intruders started to yank off my pearls, I knew it was serious business.

"They grabbed a three-strand pearl necklace, valued at $35,000, and then my other jewelry."

When they had taken everything of value Mrs. Metz said that, feeling as though they couldn't rob her of anything more, she might as well laugh as cry about it.

"I said to them jokingly then that they had taken everything but my clothes, and asked if they would like them," she recalled.

"One of them picked up my pocketbook and took out five dollars which he dropped on the table, telling me I had better take is as I looked as though I needed it.

"But they went away with the five dollars and the purse after all," Mrs. Metz said with a laugh.

"A maid in a house next door had seen what was going on and telephoned to the police. They arrived about five minutes after the bandits left. I believe it is just as well that they didn't come sooner, as there would surely have been a fearful row, and as it was, we were lucky to get out of it without being shot."

London's Trading Has Better Tone

LONDON, Nov. 15.—(AP.)—Wall Street's recovery and announcement of a prospective income tax slash gave a more cheerful tone to the stock exchange at opening today and softened the effect of continental liquidation and yesterday's banking house failure.

Trans-Atlantic issues started well over yesterday's close, in some instances exceeding parity. Hydros were 36, Nickels 33, Brazil Traction 42, and International Holding 6. The gilt edged stocks were much firmer under supporting orders.

Amsterdam specialties were harder but still unsettled.

CITY OFFICIAL'S HOME BOMBED

CHICAGO, Nov. 15.—(A.P.)—Terrorists struck at the city administration today when they bombed the South Side home of James Breen, first assistant corporation counsel.

Breen and his wife were thrown from bed by the explosion, but were not hurt. The property damage was estimated by Breen to be $5,000. Several patients in the Evangelical Deaconness Hospital nearby were frightened by the detonation.

Breen said he had received no threats and was unable to account for the attack. He suggested it probably was the work of someone whose enmity he had incurred in his duties in the city's legal department.

The bomb was exploded on the front porch of the Breen bungalow shortly after midnight. It tore a hole in the roof, drove in the front door, shattered windows, loosened plaster throughout the residence and toppled pictures, china and bric-a-brac to the floor.

Breen has been an assistant corporation counsel for 14 years. From 1907 to 1911 he was an assistant prosecutor under Mayor Busse.

Several other public officials have been bombed in recent years. The homes of State's Attorney John A. Swanson, then a circuit judge, and Senator Charles S. Deneen were bombed th same night early last year, and the home of Lawrence F. King, late sanitary district trustee, was twice bombed. Bomb attacks also have been made against minor aides of public officials and against persons close to politics though not officeholders.

MAIL MISTAKES COST MILLIONS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—(AP.)—The Postoffice Department lost approximately $5,000,000 last year on carelessly addressed mail, a large part being the direct result of business firms having an exaggerated idea of their own prominence.

Many firms doing a large advertising business have labored under the impression that not having a street address indicated great importance in the home town and impressed customers with the fact that "even in New York and Chicago we are so well known the postman needs no help in finding us."

The result has been millions of letters delayed for "directory service."

Last year approximately 200,000,000 letters had to be especially handled by clerks hired to fill out inadequate addresses. The service in New York City alone costs $500 a day. Of the 200,000,000 inadequately addressed letters 25,000,000 found a final resting place in the dead letter office.

RAID BALKS RED PLOT IN AFRICA

DURBAN, South Africa, Nov. 15.—(AP.)—Communistic plans for a native demonstration on December 17, anniversary of the overthrow of the Zulu chieftain Dingaan by the Boers in 1838, coupled with general unrest among the natives, formed the background of a spectacular police raid upon the native compounds here.

Officers armed with tear bombs and wearing gas masks rounded up some 6,000 natives and arrested 600 of them for evading a poll tax which was due last march. One native attempted to assault Police Commissioner De Villiers, but was knocked down by that official. Another charged at a policeman with a battle-ax but was felled before he could reach his intended victim.

SCHOOL BUDGET CUT AGAIN

The finance committee of the Board of Public Education last night denied a request for three additional assistant principals for vocational schools at a salary of $2,000 yearly each. It allowed a new clerk in the office of the city superintendent of schools at $1,500 yearly, and approved two new dental clinics which will carry $3,200 yearly in salaries.

In lopping off the $6,000 sought for the assistant principals the committee brought the total cut off the 1930 budget estimates to almost $100,000.

At a meeting Tuesday it is expected the school board will fix the school tax millage for next year.

WILKINS FINDS PLANES SAFE

By CAPT. SIR HUBERT WILKINS,

Commander of the Second Wilkins-Hearst Antarctic Expedition.

DECEPTION ISLAND (Antarctica), Nov. 15.—Via S. S. Melville and Kup, San Francisco Examiner Wireless Station.)—Unloading is in full swing!

We have inspected things ashore in the one fine day that followed the mooring of the S. S. Melville.

Since then the weather has been bad. Fallen snow lay deep over Deception Island.

Conditions looked good. Our two airplanes are safe and unscathed except one stabilizer which is slightly strained, but can be easily repaired. The supplies are in perfect shape.

Penguins with trustful familiarity watched with grave dignity the uncovering of the machines. Two seals on the beach a few yards away grunted and then with awkward wrigglings slithered into the waters.

A half gale sprang up during the second night and the wind force increased throughout the day, bringing rain and sleet conditions. It is miserably cold, yet the work goes on.

Today we unloaded the automobiles and to Cheeseman goes the credit for driving the first ordinary passenger automobile in Antarctica.

The wind and sleet continue.

Mission Worker, Injured, Recovering

WASHINGTON, Pa., Nov. 15.—Friends of Dr. J. C. Kistler, associate secretary of the Board of American Missions of the United Presbyterian Church, and for a long period pastor of the United Presbyterian Church at Houston, have received word that he is recovering from a fractured skull and other hurts in an automobile accident in Nampa, Idaho, November 1. It is expected that he will be discharged from the hospital in the next two weeks.

Autoist Convicted In Road Accident

GREENSBURG, Pa., Nov. 15.—Henry E. Larguier, of Rostraver Township, was convicted of a charge of involuntary manslaughter in Criminal Court here.

Larguier, it was alleged, while driving his automobile on the West Newton road on June 15, struck and fatally injured William Hite, a resident of Hempfield Township.

Patriarchal League Will Confer Degrees

FRANKLIN, Pa., Nov. 15.—The Patriarchal League of Northwestern Pennsylvania will meet here Saturday, with representatives from nearly all towns and communities in northwestern sections present. The royal purple degree will be conferred by Lebanon Encampment, No. 46, of Cambridge Springs.

Wife Asks Court Halt Alimony In Pennies

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., Nov. 15. — (AP.) — Getting $30 a week alimony is one thing, but getting 3,000 pennies a week is something else, and Cora L. Ferguson has gone to court about it.

She filed petition in Circuit Court here asking that Harold E. Ferguson be required to tell the judge why payment of her weekly alimony in pennies is not contempt of court.

Judge C. E. Chillingworth ordered Ferguson to explain the flood of small change in court.

The Fergusons were divorced October 21.

DEAD PRINCESS LIES IN CHAPEL

BONN, Germany, Nov. 15.—(AP.)—The flower-decked coffin of Princess Victoria Von Schaumberg-Lippe, sister of the former kaiser, was placed on a catafalque in the chapel of Friedrichshof Castle at Cronberg yesterday. The tragi-comedy of her romance with the young Russian dancer, Alexander Subkoff, persisted till the end; for Subkoff was picked up by the Bonn police between Treves and Frankfort on his way to his wife's funeral.

The princess filed a divorce suit against him only 10 days ago, after having been forced into bankruptcy and obliged to auction off many valuable possessions to pay some of the debts incurred through his extravagances.

Subkoff had been expelled from Germany because of his many escapades. He was arrested for violating an order forbidding him entrance into Prussian territory. He married Princess Victoria, who was 34 years older than he, two years ago.

Princess Victoria just before her death refused to see the former kaiser, who had disapproved of her marriage to Subkoff. Her brother telephoned to the hospital from Doorn, Holland, where he is living in exile, and asked if the princess would not like to see him.

Her reply was brief:

"No, I don't want to see him."

Subkoff was held in jail on various charges besides the violation of the Prussian order. Many creditors here allege that he obtained money from them under false pretenses, by the use of his wife's name without permission.

50,000 DAILY AT CURE GRAVE

MALDEN, Mass., Nov. 15.—(INS.)—Another pitiful army of the lame, halt and the blind were expected to mill about the grave of the Rev. Patrick J. Power here today as reports of miraculous cures continued to spread around the country.

Because of the huge crowd of pilgrims, averaging 50,000 a day, who have invaded the Holy Cross Cemetery since the "cure shrine" was discovered, officials of the cemetery have asked municipal authorities to swear in cemetery employes as special police to insure order.

Four new cures of blindness and lameness were talked about by devotees of the shrine today. Many persons at the tomb reported witnessing three young girls who approached the grave on crutches, throw their supports away after praying at the grave and then walk unaided.

SOCIALISTS GET THEATER

LONDON, Nov. 15.—(AP.)—A Socialist theater is to be established in London with active support of ministers in the cabinet of Premier MacDonald. The first play to be produced will be Upton Sinclair's "Singing Gaolbirds," not heretofore presented in London.

A preliminary announcement signed by Ministers Clynes, Lansbury, Trevelyan and Roberts says the object of the theater will be to bring plays and films of democratic significance within reach of working class audiences.

There will be a membership subscription of a shilling and a half (less than 40 cents) with seating accommodations to be reserved for members. It is not proposed to build a new theater but to hire an existing hall for Sunday night performances.

Policeman Fires, Fleeing Man Halts

A shot fired into the air by Patrolman C. J. Letzkus halted the flight of Georgt Lesh, 18, of 829 South Canal street, after his alleged attempt to steal an automobile at Tenth street and Duquesne way.

Lesh fled, Letzkus reported, after he had found him tampering with the automobile of G. H. Askins, of the Ruskin Apartments. He was captured after a chase of a block and held on a suspicious person chargre.

Great Lakes Figure Drops Dead at Erie

ERIE, Pa., Nov. 15.—(AP.)—Henry Martin, 63, widely known in the principal ports on the Great Lakes, was found dead yesterday. Coroner Hanley found death due to heart disease. Martin served as a patrolman at the State Park on the Peninsula.

BRIDGE SUICIDE UNCLAIMED AT MORGUE

McElhinney, Described as 'Nice Old Man,' Leaps to Death; Business Failure

The body of John H. McElhinny, who plunged to his death from Wilmot Street Bridge yesterday afternoon, lies unclaimed on its marble slab in the County Morgue.

Pedestrians who saw the elderly man in working clothes make the 150-foot leap notified police at the Oakland station. The officers took the body to the police station and from there to the morgue. The pockets of the dead man revealed several bills and a farewell letter, beginning with the quotation from Shakespeare:

"To be or not to be—that is the question."

TELLS OF FAILURE

The letter, written with pencil on five pages of cheap paper, spoke of unbearable life, poverty and hopes of a better life in the beyond. Mention was also made of failure in a soda business, which McElhinny conducted in the Fifth Avenue Arcade.

J. M. Snyder, superintendent of the arcade, described the dead man as "a nice old fellow who couldn't make the soda stand successful." According to Snyder, the non-paying business was sold at a constable sale about two months ago.

Miss Emily Dorrier, housekeeper of the Marwood Hotel, 222 Diamond street, where McElhinny lived in a little room on the fourth floor, is thought to be the last person with whom he spoke.

FINDS HIM WRITING

As is Miss Corrier's custom, she went to McElhinny's room to change the bed linen, at 11:15 o'clock yesterday morning. After rapping some time a tired voice requested her to come in. Entering the room, the housekeeper saw McElhinny busily writing a letter. Noting the depressed appearance of the man she remarked:

"You look pretty blue this morning, Mr. McElhinny."

"Yes, everything seems to be against me," was the reply.

A short time later he went out and no information of his whereabouts was received at the hotel, until morgue employes brought in news of the suicide.

"I'm sorry he's dead, for he was a nice old man," Miss Dorrier keeps repeating.

Air-Rail Fares Cut For Winter Months

Coast-to-coast air mail service fares will be cut almost 25 per cent during the winter months, T. B. Clement, general traffic manager of the Transcontinental Air Transport, Inc., announced today. Pennsylvania railroad officials here have received a brief report concerning the cut in fares.

The new rates are to be effective tomorrow, it was announced. The new rate to the Pacific coast from Pittsburgh will be $244.88. The old rate was $315.55.

ROBBERS FAIL, THEN ESCAPE

Two men, foiled in three attempted robberies in Carnegie, were being sought by borough police and county detectives today.

The pair, whose descriptions tallied with those who escaped from the Schuylkill County prison at Pottsville, Pa., made their getaway from Carnegie police during a chase in which more than a dozen shots were fired.

They first ransacked the office of the Crichley Lumber Company, Pine street, but obtained no loot. They were routed when they next attempted to loot the Valley Tire Station at Glendale, and the garage of the Washington Motor Company, Washington avenue, Carnegie, by attaches of the places, according to borough police.

The robbers abandoned their stolen machine after Carnegie police gave chase and fired on them.

Original Cards Shown at Tech

A two week exhibition of original Christmas cards opened at Carnegie Tech's little museum, in the Arts building, inaugurated a series of shows illustrating the art activities of the students, it was announced today. Other collections will be shown from time to time.

GETS 12 YEARS IN HOLDUP

William Penland, 20, of Haysville, N. C., was greedy. He wasn't satisfied with the $1.50 he took at the point of a gun from Jack Mervis, 2714 Penn avenue, and ordered Mervis to walk along with him and borrow more money from acquaintances, keeping Mervis covered meanwhile with the gun in his coat pocket.

But an opportunity came when Mervis saw the gun wasn't on him and he leaped on the holdup man. Police ran to stop the fight and Penland was taken to jail. He pleaded guilty to the charge of robbery before Judge Harry H. Rowand in Criminal Court, and the judge questioned him closely.

"You were not satisfied with all the money your victim had," said the judge, "and I am not satisfied to let you off easy, even though you pleaded guilty and saved the county the expense of trying you. You will go to the Western penitentiary for from six to 12 years."

SEAL CAMPAIGN PLANNED

Health as the "wonder working beauty doctor" is stressed in a letter sent all women's clubs in Pittsburgh by Martin G. Brumbaugh, former governor of Pennsylvania and Chrstmas Seal state chairman. A copy of the letter has also been received by the Tuberculosis League of Pittsburgh, which is preparing for its annual Christmas seal sale.

Chrstmas seals have aided in halving the tuberculosis death rate, Brumbaugh says.

"Fine as that record is," he adds, "there remains a big task to bring tuberculosis under control. We can realize this when it is remembered that in Pennsylvania one out of every third death of girls between the ages of 15 and 19 is caused by tuberculosis."

Postmasters Guests At Bettis Field

The Western Pennsylvania Postmasters' Association will be guests of Clifford Ball, air mail contractor at Bettis airport, near McKeesport, when the association meets for its monthly session in McKeesport next Tuesday. The convention of the postmasters will be adjourned at 3:45 in the afternoon that the postal chiefs may witness the handling of the air mail at Bettis landing field. Visiting postmasters will lunch with the Kiwanis club at the Penn-McKee Hotel at 12:15.

Husband Kicked Her Wife Says in Suit

Mrs. Florence E. Bush, Allegheny avenue, Oakmont, left her husband, William G. Bush, May 1 last, after he kicked her out of bed, she testified at the hearing of her divorce suit before Judge George V. Moore in Common Pleas Court. Mrs. Bush testified she was forced to work as a school teacher during the first year of their married life and later worked in a department store. They were married August 29, 1925, at Reynoldsville, Pa.

Game Slaughter Arouses Wardens

CHARLEROI, Pa., Nov. 20.—Game wardens and constables in this district today moved to stop the killing of game in excess of daily bag limits. Reports from farmers in many sections have brought sportsmen and authorities together in an effort to prosecute all hunters who are slaughtering game.

SABRES HOLD REUNION

A reunion of members of the old "Sheridan Sabres" was held last evening in the Penn-Lincoln Hotel in Wilkinsburg. About 50 of the old-timers were rounded up by former Commander Harry W. McIntosh, and attended the banquet.

The "Sabres" was a military organization prominent in the Wilkinsburg district in the final 10 years of the last century. Among the most notable exploits of the company was its expedition to Washington in 1899 to attend the peace jubilee.

It is the intention of the remaining members of the "Sheridan Sabres" to make this reunion at least an annual affair.

Americans Win Race On Canadian Bridge

DETROIT, Nov. 15.—(A.P.)—A race of pedestrians and motorists from both sides of the Detroit River marked the opening to general traffic of the new Ambassador Bridge between Detroit and the Canadian border cities at 10:35 a. m. today. Americans were first to cross the new span with a margin of one minute.

Crowds of contestants, afoot and in automobiles, began gathering at the bridge as early as 7 p. m. yesterday.

Gravedigger Gets Parole, Job Needs Him

WASHINGTON, Pa., Nov. 15.—Rafael Goverowsky, 46, of Charleroi, grave digger and caretaker at the Cavalry Cemetery there, was paroled by Judge Howard W. Hughes when the plea was made that his services might be needed at any time, and that the cemetery had no one else to perform the services required of him.

Goverowsky was before the court charged with driving an automobile while intoxicated. He lost control of his machine and crashed into a North Charleroi building.

TECH ARRANGES HOMECOMING

Alumni from many parts of the nation are expected back on Carnegie Tech's campus over the week-end for the Third Home Coming celebration, of which the Tech-Pitt football game Saturday will be the feature.

The events include a meeting today in the trophy room, a luncheon for members of the 1909 class by Dr. Thomas S. Baker, president, an informal cabaret dance tonight in the William Penn Hotel with numerous class meetings and luncheons and open house at fraternities. A number of dances are slated for Saturday night.

Football Equipment Stolen From School

Thieves who entered a one-story building on the athletic field of Taylor Allderdice High School, 2501 Shady avenue, last night, took three footballs along with three pairs each of the best trousers and shoes and headgear belonging to the school team, police reported today. The loot was valued at $150.

West View Grants 2 Building Permits

C. A. McClain, borough clerk of West View, has granted permits for erection of two dwellings. H. C. Beckert will build a two-story frame at 250 Clairmont avenue at an estimated cost of $6,500 and R. E. Jones will erect a two-story brick veneer home at 220 Lakewood avenue, to cost $8,500.

21 Hurt as Ferry With 2,000 Crashes

LIVERPOOL, Nov. 15.—(A.P.)—Twenty-one persons were injured, seven seriously, in a collision between the ferry steamer Marlowe and a local vessel laden with automobiles today. There were 2,000 passengers on the ferry. The crash took place only about 40 yards from the landing stage.

Hoover Luncheon Spikes Rumors of Burke Rift

By GLADSTONE WILLIAMS.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—Rumors of a break between President Hoover and James Francis Burke, of Pittsburgh, general counsel to the Republican National Committee, were held to be at an end today in the light of a luncheon the President is revealed to have given at the White House Thursday.

The President, it develops, arranged what is described as a harmony feast, inviting as his principal guests Mr. Burke, Claudius Huston, chairman of the Republican National Committee, and Ralph Williams, of Oregon, national vice chairman.

RIFT RUMORED

Ever since the recent meeting here of the national committee, when Burke was elected a member of the executive committee of the national party organization, reports have been current of a rift involving Burke's relations with the President, Chairman Huston and Vice Chairman Williams.

One report had it that Burke had been elevated to the new national committee post as a means of removing him from his unofficial role at the White House, where he served as a sort of political handy man without portfolio. Some of the reports were traced to high officials of the national committee.

Mr. Burke himself has not been seen in Washington with anything near the regularity of his former presence, or before his election to the executive committee of the national organization.

BURKE SIDETRACKED

Still another report had it that he and Chairman Huston were at odds over Southern patronage problems, Burke having been associated with the unofficial committee selected by the President to handle such matters. With the election of the new national chairman word had gone out that he intended to displace the activities of the Burke unofficial committee, thereby giving rise to rumors of friction.

In the light of the White House luncheon, however, attended by the several principals involved, basis for most of the rumor has been removed. To all intents and purposes, at least, no break is in the cards.

Why Wurlitzer Pianos Are Outstanding

The Style K Uniplate Construction That Gives Greater Tone to Smaller Pianos.

WURLITZERS are featuring now the most revolutionary movement in piano construction in a decade—the Style K with Uniplate—the new construction which allowes a 5-foot 1-inch string to be encased in a 4-foot 9-inch case. Erected along the principles of fine violins, the Uniplate type bridge raises the string higher above the sounding board, and thus creates the full, rich volume hitherto found only in concert grands. See this exclusive new feature at Wurlitzers. In any case, design or finish.

To acquaint the Pittsburgh public with the merits of this Super-Grand, a special Introductory Price has been made—$725—a saving of $125!

ENGINEER HELD AS 'CON' MAN

Dapper, suave, well-educated, John M. Filler, 42, of 1506 Alabama avenue, Dormont, heard himself described as one of the cleverest confidence men in the country, by city detectives in Central Police Court today.

Filler, employed as a mechanical engineer for the Koppers Company since August 15, was arrested at his home last night on request of police at Gary, Ind.

Detectives testified today that Filler is wanted in the Middle West on numerous charges of forgery and fraud. One of his schemes, they testified, was to buy an expensive automobile by making a small down payment, and then trade it in another state. The Credit Bureau, Inc., aided detectives in checking the man's activities.

Filler said he was a graduate of Purdue University. "The charges against me are 'the bunk,'" he declared to Magistrate Thomas D. Jones. "I'll waive extradition and go back and prove they are." He was held for the Gary authorities.

WILKINSBURGER JAILED

BUTLER, Pa., Nov. 15.—Unable to raise $1,000 bail E. Lee Combs, of Wilkinsburg, was remanded to jail after being held for court when arraigned before Alderman Carl G. Phillips on a charge of criminal libel preferred by Mayor George Bob Wick.

Combs' arrest followed a telegram received by Mayor Wick demanding $1,500 on threat of exposure of alleged irregularities in the Mayor's administration. It was sent from Wilkinsburg November 3, and signed "A Friend." The sender threatened to drop copies of a newspaper from an airplane which, the telegram said, would contain articles derogatory to the Mayor's office.

Senator Townsend Heads Cotton Quiz

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—(AP.)—A Senate agriculture sub-committee ordered to investigate the New York, Chicago and New Orleans cotton exchanges organized today by electing Senator Townsend (Rep.), Delaware, chairman, and adjourned until Tuesday.

At the next meeting, Townsend said definite plans would be made and witnesses summoned. It was probable, he added, that presidents of the three exchanges would be among the first called.

Philadelphia Suicide Laid to Stock Slump

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 15.—(INS.)—Another suicide was marked up to the recent stock market slump today as W. Paul Brown, 35, resident manager of the firm E. W. Clucas, lay dead here, a suicide.

Brown had sustained serious reverses in the market slump, according to his business associates. He was found lying with a bullet wound in his head in a room at the Penn Athletic Club.

Farrell Postoffice Worker to Quit

Weather Conditions.

The southern disturbance that caused the cloudy, foggy and rainy weather over the eastern half of the country during the past few days is now well down the St. Lawrence valley. A trough formation still extends southward from the center over the Atlantic Coast states, and the weather is cloudy from the Mississippi River eastward to the coast. High barometer covers the western states, attended by clear skies generally and cold weather. The cold weather, however, is moderating slowly. Another low pressure area appears over the Canadian Northwest.

TUNNEY'S BALM QUIZ ENDING

FT. WORTH, Tex., Nov. 15.—(INS.)—Taking of depositions in the alienation of affections suit brought against Gene Tunney, former heavyweight champion, neared a close here today.

Testimony of Miss Beulah Rucker, Ft. Worth milliner, was completed last night. Miss Rucker was the first witness for John S. Fogarty, plaintiff in the suit. The witness was ill and unable to come to the office of Commissioner Dudley Kent, where the hearing is being conducted behind closed doors.

The group of attorneys adjourned from Kent's office to the girl's bedside, again excluding newspaper representatives.

The heavyweight champion's legal forces closed their case shortly after noon yesterday after interviewing five witnesses. They were: Mrs. B. C. Weeks, Mrs. Adele Meehan, Fred Rogers, George Niles and Mrs. Fay Louise Wilson.

Their testimony followed the line of most of the previous witnesses, whose stories are said to have indicated that Fogarty and his former wife, over whom Tunney is being asked $500,000 heart balm, had become reconciled after the divorce.

It was learned that Mrs. Fogarty is in a Ft. Worth hospital, where she is said to have undergone a minor operation. She is said to be registered at the hospital as Katherine King, her name before the marriage to Fogarty in 1919.

Attorneys expect to complete the testimony here tonight, they said, so they can move on to Ponca City, Okla., where other witnesses reside.

MISSING GIRLS BAFFLE POLICE

DENVER, Nov. 15.—(INS.)—Police were confronted with unraveling the mysterious disappearance of two Denver girls who have failed to return to their homes since going for an automobile ride with two unidentified men last Sunday.

The missing girls are Vera Maxwell, 18, and Hazel Peabody, 14, a high school student.

A suitcase containing every particle of clothing worn by the girls when they left their homes, even to lipsticks, vanity cases and handkerchiefs, some torn and soiled, was received through express by Mrs. Margaret Goecker, sister, with whom the Maxwell girl lived, from Baileys, Col.

427 Locomotives Junked at Conway

Four hundred and twenty-seven locomotives have been cut up, their usable parts salvaged and the remainder sold as junk at the Conway yards of the Pennsylvania Railroad during the last 22 months, the railroad announced today. Nearly all of the locomotives were of the smaller types. The Conway reclamation plant has cut up 25 engines this month.

Reds to Banquet Sentenced Trio

Three Beaver Valley men who have been sentenced to five years in the workhouse on charges of sedition will be guests of honor at a banquet tomorrow night in Labor Lyceum, 35 Miller street. The men are M. Rezeter, P. Muselin, and T. Zima. They were arrested two years ago in Woodlawn. The banquet is to be held by local Communists and sympathizers.

BANK OCCUPIES NEW HOME

ROCHESTER, Pa., Nov. 15.—Completion of the new home of the Rochester Trust Company was signalized by a formal opening last evening. Several thousand people of the Beaver, Ohio and Monongahela valleys attended.

A delegation of 25 Pittsburgh bankers, together with representatives of other financial institutions in the western part of the state were among the visitors. Music was furnished by the Rochester High School Band.

The Rochester Trust Company was forced into a new home by a fire, which last January 16 practically destroyed the bank building.

The officers and directors of the Rochester Trust Company are: Dr. J. C. McCauley, president; William T. Gordon, vice president; Joseph H. Grandey, vice president; William A. Mitchener, treasurer; A. M. Winnett, James H. Ewing, Dr. Guy S. Shugert, ex-Judge George A. Baldwin and Attorney S. P. McConnell, directors.

Resources of the trust company are approaching $2,000,000. The institution was established nearly 30 years ago.

Raiders Mop Up Liquor Evidence

BROWNSVILLE, Pa., Nov. 15.—When officers entered the home of Mike Cosmata at Republic, near here, he is alleged to have tried to destroy two gallons of liquor. The police mopped up a half-pint of liquor for evidence. Cosmata was released on bond following arraignment.

FEAR SHERIFF GANG VICTIM

CHICAGO, Nov. 15.—(AP.)—Fears were expressed today by Northern Indiana officials that Deputy Sheriff O. B. Jarman, of Rome, Ga., had been slain by companions of Elizabeth Brooks, alias "Honey" Sullivan, alleged "bandit queen," whom he was taking back to Georgia.

Jarman—or a man purporting to be him—presented extradition papers, signed by Gov. Harry G. Leslie, of Indiana, to Sheriff Lyle, of Lake County, Tuesday for the young woman. She was wanted in Rome with two male companions in connection with a $12,000 payroll robbery.

Since Tuesday nothing definite has been hear of either Jarman or Miss Brooks, although it was learned that the deputy's superiors on Wednesday had received a telegram saying that he was having difficulty in securing the extradition papers.

Authorities believe that Jarman either was waylaid and slain after obtaining the extradition papers from the governor and his documents stolen and used by the young woman's companions, or that he was slain while en route back to Georgia with her.

Miss Brooks, under the name of Elizabeth "Honey" Sullivan, was arrested several years ago as the leader of a gang of robbers in Evanston, Ill.

MEXICO DENIES LABOR CURB

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 15.—(AP.)—A reference to "the anti-labor movement in Latin America," attributed to William M. Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, has brought a strong response from Ramon P. De Negri, secretary of Industry, Commerce and Labor, who in a statement to the press denied that there is any such movement in Mexico and adds that outside help is not needed by the Mexican workers to hold thir own.

Green's remark, as quoted by De Negri, was made in connection with the indefinite postponement of the sixth Pan-American labor congress, taking the form of an explanation of the postponement and pointing out that it was necessary to concentrate "the organization" on combatting the anti-labor movement in Latin America.

"The conquests of the proletariat in our country already are firmly rooted, in spite of the tremendous resistance of internal and external factors," De Negri says. "The Mexican proletariat will continue to benefit by-laws and palpable realities.

"I dare say the same applies to our sister republics of Central and South America."

Highway Department Bans Traffic Lights

FARRELL, Pa., Nov. 15.—The State Highway Department, in a letter received by borough officials, today, has refused to permit the erection of overhead traffic lights at three intersections in the outskirts of the municipality. The refusal was based on a recent check of traffic, showing that only one car passes the intersection every eight minutes.

Family's Sale of Town Blocked by Mud

MUSCATINE, Ia., Nov. 15.—(AP.)—All sorts of difficulties arise to thwart the Bishop family's attempts to get rid of the town it owns. The latest is mud.

Eliza, Ill., was offered on the auction block by John Bishop, present head of the Aliza Bishops and grandson of the town's founder.

He had advertised far and wide that he had a town for sale and that yesterday was the day to buy it.

Then came the rain, and to Eliza, five miles from any hard-surface roads, rain means mud. So the crowd was small and very apathetic.

All of the buildings and lots owned by Bishop were finally sold for a total of $15,302.50, but it was found that, rather than sacrifice them, Bishop, through a real estate dealer, had bought more than a third of the property himself.

So Bishop still owns a third of the town, and previous sales by his father of even more than two-thirds of the property have been unsuccessful. Eliza has always come back to the Bishops.

OWNER SOUGHT IN STILL BLAST

Penn avenue police today were hunting the owner of a moonshine plant at 3233 Mulberry way, which exploded and caused $2,700 damage last night.

A 200-gallon still on the second floor of the building exploded, causing the upper floor in which 40 100-gallon vats of mash and other material were stored, to collapse. Thomas Allen, 49, a Negro, was arrested when found in the building, police said. Fire followed the blast.

While removing the contraband from the building Patrolman Albert Meuser fell to the street and was slightly injured.

HURT IN AUTO, $35,000 ASKED

Lindsay C. Geiger, of Pittsburgh, asked $35,000 damages of Gordon Jones, of Punxsutawney, in a suit filed in Common Pleas Court, growing out of an automobile collision at Fifth avenue and Smithfield street August 2 last. Geiger alleged that his automobile was struck by the car driven by Jones and that he suffered a fracture at the base of the spine, internal and other injuries.

Oil City Man Lauds Air Transportation

FRANKLIN, Pa., Nov. 15.—C. H. Lay, of Oil City, one of the passengers to make the second Pennsylvania Railroad-T. A. T. trip across the country last July, and who has more flying hours than any other Venango County resident, told the Franklin Rotary Club about his trip. Radio warnings kept the T. A. T. plane from running into a heavy storm in New Mexico, he said.

Lay later flew from Los Angeles to San Francisco, and from Los Angeles to Salt Lake City. He and his granddaughter are enthusiasts.

Oklahoma Seeks To Become Borough

VANDERGRIFT, Nov. 15.—A petition for the incorporation of Oklahoma, near Vandergrift, as a borough has been filed before Judge W. T. Dom, at Greensburg. Eighty-five per cent of the resident property owners of Oklahoma have signed the petition.

Judge Dom ordered the case held over until first Monday in next February. At that time he will set a date for a hearing.

American Girl Breaks in Trial For Murder

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 15.—(INS.)—Miss Bernice Rush, former Louisville (Ky.) modiste, broke down while being questioned regarding the events which led up to the shooting of her sweetheart, Jenaro Benavente, for whose death she is charged with murder.

Her testimony bordered on incoherency. On the verge of collapse, the smartly dressed defendant, the first American woman ever tried for murder in Mexico, was unable to make herself clear either in English or Spanish.

Court was finally adjourned.

In her testimony, Miss Rush admitted shooting Benavente on December 24, 1928, when driven out of her mind by his taunts and refusal to pay back money borrowed from her.

NAME NANNERY PLOT LEADER

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—(INS.)—Jimmie Nannery, one of the smartest of bad men, was believed by police to be the brains behind the foiled plot for a general uprising at Sing Sing prison and also the underworld drillmaster who conducted the carefully disciplined attempt to rob the Brooklyn Naval Depot.

Authorities even conceived that the $84,000 in the naval safe which the robbers came within two inches of steel in getting, was wanted to finance the jail break.

Eddie Ryan and Joseph Pioli, Sing Sing lifers and ringleaders in the plot for a prison break, are old crime buddies of Nannery. Ryan was Nannery's companion when he escaped from prison last year. It is said that each swore to help the other out of prison if either were captured.

The holdup of the naval depot in which 20 bandits, acting with the disciplined organization of the Navy itself, held a naval officer, a sergeant and five guards in the brig while they attacked unsuccessfully the depot safe, had all the earmarks of a Nannery job, police said.

A picture of Nannery in the rogue's gallery was thought to resemble the robber who acted as "general" during the naval holdup, one of the naval guards told police.

Hunters Blamed For Starting Six Fires

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., Nov. 15.—Hunters are too careless while in the woods, it is alleged by State Forest Fire Inspector J. C. Beatty, who reported six fires this week on a tract in Dunbar Township under option to the State Game Commission as a game preserve.

Brush was consumed on nearly 160 acres, it is understood. No serious damage was done, but a large force of men was required to check the flames.

CAR OVERTURNS, 10 ESCAPE

NEW CASTLE, Pa., Nov. 15.—Ten members of the Joseph Maszar family escaped serious injury when their car, out of control on the Frizzleburg hill, west of this city, was turned into a field at the side of the road. The car struck a fallen telephone pole and turned over three times.

Four members of the family were taken to hospitals, but were found to be suffering only minor injuries. All will be able to continue to their destination at Johnstown, Pa. They were on their way from Detroit.

FRENCH WOMAN KILLER DOOMED

RHEIMS, France, Nov. 15.—(AP.)—Lisa Karl, described by the public prosecutor as "the most cowardly, cruel and abject woman" he had ever seen, heard or read of, was sentenced to death for murder. She is the fifth woman sentenced to die under the guillotine within a year. The other four sentences were commuted to life imprisonment by President Doumergue.

Lisa Karl, who is 42 years old, was convicted of one murder and suspected of two others. Her admirer, Albert Clarisse, was sentenced to death at the same time.

The evidence showed that the murder was committed under extremely brutal circumstances with robbery as the motive, and the jury refused to sign a recommendation for mercy.

The woman and Clarisse tortured and killed an aged woman who kept a cafe and robbed her cash box of a few francs in coin and paper money.

Man's Neck Broken In Garage Tumble

SCOTTDALE, Pa., Nov. 15.—Falling from a scaffold while repairing the roof of his two-story garage, A. B. Ridenour sustained a broken neck.

Children CRY for it

It may be the little stomach; it may be the bowels are sluggish. No matter what coats a child's tongue, its a safe and sensible precaution to give a few drops of Castoria. This gentle regulation of the little system soon sets things to rights. A pure vegetable preparation that can't harm a wee infant, but brings quick comfort—even when it is colic, diarrhea, or similar disturbance.

And don't forsake Castoria as the child grows older. If you want to raise boys and girls with strong systems that will ward off constipation, stick to good old Castoria; and give nothing stronger when there's any irregularity except on the advice of a doctor. Castoria is sold in every drugstore, and the genuine always bears Chas. H. Fletcher's signature on the wrapper.

Little Tales of Interest About Players Gathered From Amusement Centers

"HELL'S ANGELS," THIRD YEAR BEFORE CAMERAS, SOON MAY BE FINISHED

By DOROTHY HERZOG

(Copyright, 1929, by Premier Syndicate)

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 15.

FOR three years, now, "Hell's Angels" has been in the process of becoming a celluloid product. Nary once has this slumberous bureau despatched an observer to glean what's what.

Yester-afternoon being full o' balm and no one else in the department willing to sacrifice siesta for sinema, the headman went atraipsing to the Metropolitan lot. And so, in due course, to the stage housing Ben Lyon, James Hall, Jean Harlow, and umpty ump others.

Ben Lyon.

Discovered: That "Hell's Angels" will positively be in the "box" in three weeks. You can believe it or not. This department remains neutral.

Jimmy Hall is dual-ing in celluloid these days. No sooner does he finish his day in Mr. Hughes' expensive flick, than he bustles over to the Famous lot and changes into evening clothes. Jimmy is master-of-ceremonies for this kumpny's initial revue, "Paramount on Parade." Little is known of this outloud, except it has been in production several months and the end isn't in sight yet.

At all events, yesterday saw Jimmy master-of-ceremony-ing Maurice Chevalier into the revue. Jimmy was called upon to say it in French, and his troubles are unprintable. Chevalier and his wife boarded the Chief that same eve, bound for New York and the popular Frenchman's next starring effort. He has two numbers in Paramount's Revue. One with Evelyn Brent. The other a song and chorus stage-full.

"Lets Go Native," Jimmy Hall Film

AS SOON as Jimmy is through with "Hell's Angels," he goes to work in his next famous picture, "Let's Go Native," with Jeanette MacDonald. His contract expires the end of the year. In the event his option isn't taken up, Hall intends returning to the stage in musical comedy. He will sample the footlights again the first week in December, at which time he headlines at the local Orpheum Theater in a pretentious song and dance act. The boy is there at that racket.

Bebe Daniels

Perhaps it won't be long now ere Bebe Daniels and Ben Lyon up and get hitched. It was last New Year's Eve at Agua Caliente that the two first met. Both were there with separate parties, but both sorta teamed. The meeting resulted in others and pretty soon their engagement was the favorite paragraph rumor. But Ben and Bebe decided not to think of matrimony until they had known each other a year. If they felt like taking the altar promenade then—okeh. And they do, it seems. The year's experiment expires Jan. 1, 1930, at which time they will again be in Caliente for New Year's whoopee. Ben scoffs at the notion they'll be married there and then, however. He and that lil' Daniels gal have other plans.

Ganna Walska May Do Movie

A WIRE from one of this bureau's alert New York correspondents says that Ganna Walska, the flame of operatic aspirants, returns to this country soon. A local Manhattan group is anxious for her to visit Hollywood and stay long enough to make an all-color picture of her recent Paris play, "Countess Castiglione." Madame Walska's husband is Millionaire McCormack. He has seen her through "Lucia," and other gargle classics—and this despite critical stone casting. So he may be concerned with her flicker debut. If this be excitement, then we oughta make the most of it. But how? . . .

Ganna Walska

"Dear Dorothy," writes one signing the letter B. C. "When presuming to review drama for the press one should be careful in the use of words.

"The Evening Herald published on October 12 a revew by you in which you used my name with a word which you should have known better than to use. It is the second time I have seen the use of the word by you in this last short while. 'Traipse.'

"Webster's Dictonary, etc., defines 'traipse'—v. i., 'to walk carelessly.'

"A waddling walk. Imagine it! The word traipse just seems to illustrate it. You little journalists should know your vocabulary—so brief it is with you generally."

In spite of Mr. Webster, traipse is an elegant word. This bureau uses it to indicate a breezy casualness and goodnatured indifference. We mutiny at being halted by Mr. Webster. Please, don't anybody be hurt . . .

And—that's all.

Ossip Gabrilowitsch And Orchestra Here

Ossip Gabrilowitsch will appear in the dual role of conductor of the Detroit Orchestra and as a piano soloist at the concert tonight and tomorrow afternoon in Syria Mosque. Tonight he will play Mozart's Second Piano Concerto, and tomorrow afternoon Schumann's A Minor Concerto for piano and orchestra. Tonight the orchestra will give Haydn's Symphony in B flat major, and tomorrow afternoon the Cesar Franck D minor symphony.

This afternoon from 4 to 5 o'clock, the Detroit Orchestra will give the first in a series of three symphony concerts for children under the auspices of the Pittsburgh Orchestra Association. These concerts will all be given at Carnegie Music Hall, and children from the public schools will be escorted to the hall under the direction of their teachers.

K. OF C. DEPUTY GUEST HERE

P. J. McCarthy, representative of the supreme council of the Knights of Columbus, will arrive in Pittsburgh Monday and will be a guest of the local council, with whom he will discuss the new improvements in the insurance laws of the order. Explaining these innovations passed during the last supreme convention of the order, he will also speak on the boys' work program.

The removal of classifications from the extra hazardous lists and the borrowing powers of the insurance members will be two of the subjects. In connection with the boys' welfare program, McCarthy will report on the Columbian Squires, the junior order; the 10-night course in "Boyology" for men and the K. of C. foundation at Notre Dame, which trains college graduates for boy guidance work.

English Cabinet Depicted in Guild Play

The prime minister of England and his cabinet are coming to the Nixon next week, that is, in a play with the title of "Wings Over Europe." The entire action is laid in the famous cabinet room at No. 10 Downing street.

Seats are now on sale at the Alvin box office for all remaining performances in that playhouse of the four Marx Brothers in their latest musical comedy hit, "Animal Crackers," which enters its second and final week Monday evening. Matinees will be given tomorrow and Wednesday and Saturday of next week, the last performance being scheduled for Saturday night, November 23.

Suzanne Cubaye, internationally known French actress, will play the part of Toinette in the "Humming Bird," next week's attraction in the Pitt.

From Stage

Norma Terris, Broadway actress, is featured in "Married in Hollywood," film opening in the Harris tomorrow.

Chartiers Templars Plan Dance Drill

Special features and innovations will mark the first fall dance and reception of the Drill Corps of Chartiers Commandery No. 73, of Carnegie, which will be held Friday, November 22, at Masonic Hall, Broad and Main streets, Carnegie. A number of officers of the grand lodge, of which Eminent Sir William B. Tipton, of Chartiers Commandery, is a member, will be present. Committee chairmen are: John T. Clark, reception; H. A. Thrum, tickets; T. D. Killeen, refreshments; R. I. Davis, floor, and C. H. Henthorne, music.

Featured Dancers In Silver Slipper

Nora Lewis and Eddie Martin are the featured dancers in the week-end specialty presentation at Billy King's Silver Slipper, the new night club in the Kenyon Theater building, 823 Federal street. Both appear in tuxedos and silk toppers to do a novelty tap number with the four Silver Slipper Dancing Debutantes. Nat Rodgers is the new master of ceremonies at the Slipper. Margie Nelson, blues singer, the Carr Sisters, a song and dance team and George Weber's orchestra continue.

Home Town

Pittsburgh is the home town of Helene Cambridge, who is one of the players in "Animal Crackers," which opens a second week in the Alvin Monday.

(d) "I am Thy Harp" .....Olmstead

The Twentieth Century Club presented Charles Massinger, a young American tenor, in recital yesterday afternoon in the auditorium of the University Club. It was the first in a series of artist recitals for the present season.

If this singer had sung but one song, the song by Erich Wolff, he could have been marked as a musician of taste and great ambition. The program, however, proved that he is original as well, and willing to bring us lesser known music. The suite of James Rogers are near enough modern experiments to appear fresh; they have enough of Rogers' undisguised melodic line to interest all amateurs.

Massinger's voice might become a more dramatic tenor. He is true to pitch, can color his music, but seems to create his tone in a cloud, which might have been Pittsburgh's atmosphere, but more likely is due to his tone production. He expends tremendous energy in comparison to results. With the skill he showed in reading beneath the text of his songs, he should become an important recital singer.

Earl Mitchell again played excellent accompaniments. The lute effects in Giordani's "Caro mio ben" might be a return to the original score, but even if true, they detract much from the gentle lilt of that beautiful melody.

WOMAN KILLED BY FLAMES

FRANKLIN, Pa., Nov. 14.—Within eight hours after Mrs. Elizabeth Davis Rossman, 86, attempted to light a stove in the bathroom with a paper torch, she, severely burned, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. A. Mitchell.

The aged woman, her garments afire, fled to the top of the stairway and tumbled headlong to the first floor. She was terribly burned about the head and body.

Minneapolis Wins School Paper Trophy

WASHINGTON, Pa., Nov. 15.—The Central High News, of Minneapolis, Minn., was selected as the winner of a trophy offered by the Red and Black, of Washington and Jefferson College. Honorable mention was given to several other papers. Members of the faculty and newspapermen were judges. There were entries from 21 states.

GIRL WHO SLEW FATHER FREED

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., Nov. 15.—(AP.)—Dotha Avant Haines, 16-year-old mother, who killed her father two weeks ago, was freed from murder charges at a preliminary hearing by Judge George W. Jackson, of Circuit Court.

Judge Jackson termed the killing "a plain case of justifiable homicide" after he had heard testimony of the girl's mother, sister and brother, all witnesses of the tragedy.

The younger mother carried her eight months' old baby daughter to the courtroom, but she was not called to testify. Her mother, sister and brother testified the father, William Avant, a woods rider, had threatened his wife's life while he was drinking two weeks ago Sunday, and attempted to draw a knife. Dotha, they said, ran into the house picked up her father's pistol, and shot him.

Mrs. Avant said Dotha was married when she was 13. Her husband, whom she divorced a year ago on grounds of cruelty, was recently killed in an automobile accident.

125 in Safe See Bandits Get $200

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 15.—(AP.)—Three men, armed with pistols, held up 125 patrons and employes at Bookbinder's restaurant, Walnut street below Second, last night and escaped after forcing Samuel Bookbinder, son of the proprietor, to hand over more than $200 from the cash register.

Before the startled patrons could gain their feet, the intruders had grabbed the money and rushed from the place. They fled in an automobile, which was waiting at the curb.

Nurse's Death Laid To Mate's Suicide

DENVER, Nov. 15. — (INS.) — Frances Dolan Munchow, 40, graduate nurse, formerly of Reading, Pa., died here from poisoning said by police to have been taken with suicidal intent in a fit of despondency over the death of her husband, Charles Munchow, who shot and killed himself here last August. Mrs. Munchow served as a nurse overseas during the World War.

Beautiful Face and Figure, But—Whole Appearance Spoiled By Varicose Veins!

Start Today—Reduce Those Swollen, Bulging Veins to Normal

It's nothing more than human nature for people to admire beautifully shaped and attractive legs.

No matter how pretty a woman's face or how stunningly she is gowned—glances are bound to be directed at her legs and woe betide her if they are disfigured by swollen, bulging veins and bunches.

Poor woman — doesn't anyone ever stop to consider the pain and terrible soreness these enlarged veins cause—must folks think merely how hideous and ugly her legs are?

A 2-ounce bottle of Moone's Emerald Oil at all May & Liggetts drug stores all over Greater Pittsburgh, or any drug store, brings immediate and blessed foot and leg comfort—soreness disappears. And joyous wonder—it quickly helps reduce the swollen and bulging veins to normal. You'll be able to wear the finest and sheerest stockings, the shortest skirts—appear at beach in bathing suit because no longer will you be embarrassed by these unsightly Varicose Veins.

October 28th, 1929.

Spear & Company,
911-915 Penn Avenue,
Pittsburgh, Penna.

Gentlemen:

Your offer to donate to The Salvation Army, for its work on behalf of the poor and unfortunate, all the used home furnishings received in trade from your customers during your special November Sale, is greatly appreciated.

This furniture, together with donations of used clothing, paper, and magazines, which your customers may care to give us, will very materially assist us in rehabilitating men who come to us homeless, penniless, but willing to work. They will also make the homes of many poor widows and burdened mothers more attractive and livable.

We will gladly send to the homes of your customers for these furnishings and acknowledge each donation by personal letter.

Yours most sincerely,
F. Duerr
(F. Duerr) Brigadier District Officer.

AIR-RAIL ROUTE LINKS B. & O.

CHICAGO, Nov. 15.—(INS.)—Completion of an air-rail agreement with the Illinois Central System and the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad which will cut five hours and 40 minutes off the fastest all-rail time between Cincinnati and Louisville and New Orleans, was announced by Maj. M. D. Mann, president of Continental Air Services, Inc.

The agreement provides for the sale of through tickets from Cincinnati and Louisville by either the air transport company or the railroads, providing for an overnight trip by rail to Memphis and a morning flight down the river in Continental's planes, landing passengers at Menafee Airport in New Orleans in the early afternoon.

The service will be inaugurated coincident with the establishment of Continental's Lakes-to-Gulf air passenger line between Chicago and New Orleans by way of Decatur, St. Louis, Memphis and Vicksburg. The date of the initial flight will be announced soon, Maj. Mann said.

Find Man Dead Beside His Auto

MEADVILLE, Pa., Nov. 15.—(AP.)—William A. Thompson, 51, who served three terms as register and recorder for Crawford County, was found dead last night on the running board of his automobile in his private garage. Death was believed due to heart disease. Persons discovering the body said the doors of the garage were open, eliminating the possibility of death by carbon monoxide fumes.

Find Spike Deer Dead Along Rails

TITUSVILLE, Pa., Nov. 15.—Pennsylvania Railroad trainmen found the carcass of a spike buck lying on the bank beside the tracks opposite the Drake well yesterday. The deer had evidently been struck by a train during the night. Game Protector McGill was notified, and the carcass removed to a butcher shop and then sent to the Old People's Home at Meadville. The deer dressed 80 pounds.

Former Legislator Dies at Linesville

LINESVILLE, Pa., Nov. 15.—(AP.)—L. O. McClane, 76, who served three terms in the assembly from Crawford County, died at his home here last night following a long illness. He was burgess of Linesville at the time of his death and was prominent in county political circles. He leaves his widow.

Seek Stolen Goods, Finds Whisky, Still

NEWARK, O., Nov. 15.—Police searched Homer Gorley's home for stolen goods and found a quantity of whisky and a large still, which were confiscated, they reported. Gorley paid $500 after pleading guilty in court.

Alcohol Blamed For Man's Death

CUMBERLAND, Md., Nov. 15.—Acute alcoholism is given by the Garrett County authorities as the cause of the death of James Powers, 65, Phoenix, this county, whose body was found on the banks of Little Savage Creek, above Bloomington. Lacerations of head and bruises on body were attributed to a fall.

Lepers Send Thanks For Garment Gifts

FRANKLIN, Pa., Nov. 15.—A letter of appreciation from the leper colony in the Philippines has just been received by the Franklin chapter of the American Red Cross. The garments sent there were the best the colony ever received, the doctor in charge wrote, and are being saved for Christmas distribution.

Child, 4, Playing With Matches, Dies

HOOVERSVILLE, Pa., Nov. 15.—As a result of burns received Tuesday when his clothing ignited while playing with matches, John Chorowski, 4, son of John Chorowski, of Beaver Whitely Mines, near here, died.

Tom Burns Captured After Robbing Office and Shooting Guy

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE

Mary Patricia Dawn, pert, young, demi-brunette, sees her little brother, Dickie, fall to rise after a dive in the lake. Pat brings up the apparently lifeless body. All hope seems gone when suddenly an airplane sweeps down out of the sky. Pat's father arrives with Guy Elliott, a tall, handsome youth as pilot. Quick action follows and Dickie recovers. Later Elliott kisses and takes Pat for an air ride. Happy days follow, with Pat and Guy in love. Then comes Barbara Bryce with the seductive lure of shadowy eyes. She is the widow of young William Bryce, whose father owns the airplane factory where Guy works. While trying out her new plane, Barbara has an accident but is saved. In the excitement, Guy forgets an appointment with Pat. Later, while airplaining with Guy, Pat has a glimpse of Barbara in another plane. Pat marvels at Barbara's beauty and wonders if Guy is moved by it. Later Guy receives a visit from Barbara and her young son, upon whom old Bryce squanders a fortune. Tom Burns, a workman, rages about the unfairness of wealth. His invalid son is dying for want of necessities. When Bryce refuses a loan, Burns leaves swearing revenge. The next night, in the factory, Guy hears a stealthy footstep.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER IX.

THAT one, hurried footstep, then silence as though someone moving along the hall now stealthily halted.

Guy glanced at his watch. Ten minutes to 10. At 10 the night watchman made his rounds.

He went over to the wall and listened.

Anyone leaving the building from this wing would have to pass his door. Anyone coming from the inner office, where the safe stood and where the week's payroll was deposited each Friday night, could make a getaway only through this passage. Bryce's door had a direct exit, but it was padlocked from without, and it led into the open space. Not a tree or building. A man crossing that space could be seen for blocks.

Silence. The clock on the wall ticked oppressively in the quiet. Then again that muffled, uneasy sound. This time Guy felt certain someone stole down the passage . . . came nearer.

He glanced to his door, and with a shock, noticed the hall light had been switched. It was on when he entered the building half an hour ago. At night that light was always on.

He reached for his pistol, took a soft, noiseless step, pulled the door open. The sudden light caught a black, startled figure that sprang; came springing with wild, frustrated growl full on Guy.

Shots rang. Guy went pitching against the wall; went reeling into blackness. The sound of flying footsteps thundered through the dark.

In a daze Guy picked himself up, felt along his neck. Queer, stinging sensation. A trickle of blood.

He was just making his way to the door when it flung open; a light flashed in his face. Two men ran up, the night watchman and another.

"Where'd he go? In here? Did he get out?"

They tore back to the road; went darting among shadows swinging flashlights about.

All at once they shouted; they began shooting. A third figure leaped across the road. Came a piercing, infuriate cry. The third man dropped.

"That got him. Quick—"

The watchman ran up, their lights trained full upon him. Suddenly they called: "Halt!"

The wounded fellow was creeping along the ground . . . feeling for his pistol. They closed on him.

Then he had got to his knees, pulled the mask from his face. The flashlight showed it frightfully livid—an ashen blur, with black, burning, bewildered eyes. These eyes looked about with challenging, furious hate.

Guy went sick with shock: "Good God—Tom—YOU!"

Tom Burns looked in wild bewilderment from one to the ther. And suddenly he recognized Guy. He raised on his elbow and with white, shaking lips: "YOU! Stopped me! Damn you! I'd have made it."

His voice rose and choked. All at once he clapped his hands over his face and began to sob.

While they waited for the ambulance, Guy got his coat and threw it over the man.

He flung it off and Guy thought: "I don't blame him." He wished that he had not come back to work—wished he had not heard those footsteps.

He was sorry that Tom Burns was caught.

Tom Burns was shot in the thigh. The wound was slight. As for Guy, the bullet had merely grazed his neck.

At the Emergency Hospital they were treated.

And here they emptied Tom Burns' pockets. They took from him $1,500 in currency—the money that had been deposited in the safe of the Bryce-Elliot offices for their weekly payroll.

The stack of notes lay on the table in Guy's view as the police took his story.

He had no heart for the cold police facts. The money was a living offense.

In two weeks Tom Burns recovered from his physical wounds. He was brought into court to stand trial for burglary and attempt to kill.

Guy went to William Bryce.

"You're not going to prosecute?"

"Have sense! What is it to me? I'm not the state. This is out of my hands."

"But we can get him out of it. We can show all the circumstances."

"Oh, you damn fool! You'd have a fine chance to show extenuating circumstances if you were dead. He tried to kill you. Do you realize that?"

"I'd be dead if he'd really shot, to kill. He didn't. He had me dead to rights. He shot wild. Craziest thing he could have done. They wouldn't have caught him if they hadn't heard the shots . . ."

"Do you mean you would have let him go? You let a fellow come in here and crack the safe and take $1,500 and let him escape? Is that what you mean?"

"If I'd known it was Burns—well—I'm damned if I know what I would have done—"

William Bryce drew a long, angry breath. He began to walk impatiently back and forth. Abruptly he confronted Guy.

"He's dangerous to leave loose. Do you realize that? Why are you so het up about him?"

"I saw his kid—an all right little kid. They can send Burns across for life. They can give him a jolt that will finish him. He's not a criminal. I've known him two years now . . . What good can it do us or anyone to crush a fellow like him?"

Bryce was now tapping his foot. With each tap he grew more violently excited. Presently he came up to Guy and said through closed teeth:

"I've know men like Burns before. A fellow that can hate like he can is more dangerous than any thug. He hates me now. He hates you. The best thing for both of us is to get him behind bars. I hope they put him there for life."

Tom Burns wouldn't talk. He wouldn't permit his wife to visit him. He sat with clenched hands and burning eyes regarding his shame with hostility; with staggered unbelief. They had no right to put it on him!

He had made a desperate try; played for dear and precious stakes. And failed. The failure was all he regretted. It was the one scalding resentment. He should have succeeded! He had it worked out to a nicety; he had figured on everything except the presence of Guy Elliott in that room which he had to pass. Even at that, with one lot of luck, he would have put it over.

But he had failed.

And soon he would be sent across the bay. He would be taken from his wife, his home. He wouldn't see Tommy any more. The boy could lie out there on the wretched porch and wonder what had happened to his father. This inconceivable punishment could be laid on him—not to see his child any more. He would be compelled to accept it; forced to stand quiet and be handcuffed and taken away on a ferryboat, his back turned, for years, from his own child.

He would not stand quiet; his mind raged with wild, secret battle.

Guy went to see Tom Burns. Burns raved at him. He ordered him away. He lost all control. He said:

"You knew it was I! Who else would break into that safe? Who but I had the way to learn the combination? Why didn't you keep your damn face out of it? God Almighty, I'd have gotten away with it! I had it planned to the minute. Got in there when the watchman was out—when I knew he'd be out. Opened the safe like any door—got the money. Then your machine—then you in that office I had to pass! My God—the minutes I waited hoping you'd leave. You WOULDN'T! And at 10 the watchman would return—"

Guy came away from that meeting in a state of depression. He stood in the moonlight, leaning on moody elbows, unburdening his heart as a young man will do to the pretty girl who for the moment, holds his fancy.

"It's a terrible wrong. I feel miserably responsible. I haven't had a moment's peace—"

Pat's eyes were fixed on his brown, young profile. How clean it was—how beautiful. She slipped her hand into his. They stood like this quiet, sharing a trouble until the trouble grew between them into a rich, deep sweetness.

The sudden light caught a black startled figure that sprang with wild frustrated growl on Guy.

LOVE'S AWAKENING

A Continuation of Love's Embers

By ADELE GARRISON

Dicky and Madge Almost Reach Reconciliation

WITH a touch of his old-time chivalrous shielding of me, Dicky again threw himself into the breach caused by Junior's request to go for a walk.

"I'll see, son," he said quickly. "Uncle Harry's afraid those burglars may try to get in again, you know, and I think he expects all us men to stick around."

His eye smilingly pointed his meaning, and Junior promptly swallowed the enticing bait.

"Does that mean me, too?" he asked as he patently recalled the banal explanation which had been given to appease his childish curiosity concerning the preparations for defending the farmhouse against possible attack from the plotters against Prince Georges' life.

"It surely does," his father replied.

"Uncle Harry and I both depend upon you helping to keep watch."

"Then we'd better not take that walk," Junior decided promptly, the dignity of his office investing him. "But—" with a quick return to childish longings, "what's the matter with having a mix-up story right here. I could keep watch for burglars and listen at the same time. And it's been a million weeks since you two have told me one."

Dicky flashed me a dismayed glance, for a "mix-up story," such as Junior demanded, was no easy affair for two people as distraught with our own and other people's affairs as we were. Once when Junior was convalescing from an illness Dicky and I had employed the old device of telling a story in alternate shifts, each making up a chapter in turn, and being obliged to carry the tale on from whatever point the other chose to leave it. The thing had made a most decided hit with Junior, and until our estrangement we were hard put to it to supply him with melodramic tales. I did not care to recall the ruses we had employed to keep him from questions as to the reason for our dropping the intimate hour with him, but now we were fairly caught, and Dicky promptly capitulated for us both.

"Of course, we'll tell you one," he said, "a humdinger, too!"

"Oh! Goody!" Junior crowed, adding tyranically:

"Now, let's get settled the way we always do."

I carefully avoided my husband's eyes, as without a word he arranged a seat for us beneath a tree, drew me down beside him with one arm around me, while with a deep sigh of content our small son perched upon his father's knee and rested his head against Dick's shoulder.

"Mums, you come close where you belong," Junior admonished, and with another eerie feeling of being swept away from my moorings, I rested my head against my husband's other shoulder, and stretched my hand to meet Junior's already clasped in that of his father.

"Say what you always say," he demanded.

I could feel Dicky wince, but he obeyed with no apparent reluctance.

"Comfy, sweetheart?" he asked me.

"Of course, dear," I returned as promptly, and at last Junior appeared satisfied and his father began a story which we kept up until our small son, as is his invariable custom, fell fast asleep during one of the quieter installments.

For a long minute Dicky looked down at the sleeping face, then he spoke softly:

"Thanks ever so much for playing up. He'll be satisfied now to let us go. And—sorry—sorry."

I knew that the apparently careless perfunctory phrase had cost him more than a most abject apology would many men. I found no room in my heart for resentment or belittling of it. I forced my eyes to meet his.

"We've satisfied Junior," I resaid. "But at least we've accomplished one thing."

"What is that?" he asked quickly.

"We've satisfied Junior," returned. "It will be a long time before he questions again."

Something inscrutable flashed into his eyes and out again.

"Let us hope so," he commented laconically. "Can you get up? I suppose I'd better carry him in now."

"Oh, yes, I can manage perfectly," I said, slipping my hand from the clasp of my sleeping boy's with infinite care. But when we both had risen Dicky stood still, looking at me steadily across Junior's head.

"There's no chance of your changing your mind, is there?" he asked.

Correct Manners

By MRS. CORNELIUS BEECKMAN

Monograms for Linens

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:

The question of monogramming my linens is rather a puzzle to me (I mean three initials). Do I use my husband's entire monogram, or is it correct to use my own first two initials and that of his last name?

READER.

IT is custory for a married woman to use, as her monogram on her linens or silver, the initials of the first and last names of her maiden name before the initial of the surname of her husband. Therefore, Mary Smith, who married John Brown, would use the initials M. S. B.

A Symbol of Good Breeding

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:

If a gentleman helps a lady on with her coat should she thank him?

MARY.

MOST assuredly she should. A person should thank for a courtesy, no matter how slight. Any woman who takes for granted any courtesy and does not thank for it is not well bred.

Adaptibility in Traveling

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:

When you are placed at a table with several other people, as, for instance, at a small summer hotel or boarding house or an ocean liner, should you bow to the people?

TRAVELER.

YES. It is boorish to sit down at a table of this kind and not bow graciously to the people at the table. It shows, too, a lack of savoir faire and adaptability in traveling. Such a polite greeting shows that you are not unfriendly and still it does not imply in any degree whatever, forwardness. It is simply a courtesy taken for granted among well-bred people.

If you are to be for some time seated with these people, the person who is "accustomed" gives his or her name to the other guests: "I am Mrs. Kennedy," or "My name is Miss Rogers." Then the "ice is broken and no one need feel ill at ease.

Mrs. Solomon's Sayings

MY daughter, heed the instructions of thy mother, the seven-hundredth wife.

For the woods are full of men, but men are full of foxiness; and a modern damsel hath no traffic signals to guide her.

Behold, the ways of a lover of 1929 are not the ways of Rudolph Valentino, and where there was subtlety, there is now only nerve.

HELEN ROWLAND

Verily the rules of the love-game have changed; and she that was once a skilled player and a sure winner is as one that seeketh to play auction in a game of contract. She must sit among the amateurs and the beginners until she mastereth the new tricks.

Go to. I charge thee, if thou hast but fifty shekels, let the half of it be spent for a permanent wave. And with the other half, purchase an alluring perfume.

For good grooming is to be desired above a Paris wardrobe. And a cheap scent is as unpleasant notoriety or worse than none at all. But a subtle fragrance oft passeth for "IT."

Costly thy smile as thy purse will buy; for a pearl in the mouth is worth two upon the hand. And dazzling eyes cannot hide a dark tooth nor make a crooked one kissable.

One good coat is a comfort to the spirit, but 20 hats are not more than enough. For the face that appeareth always in a different frame never groweth tiresome.

Be not led astray by the flatteries of sirens and saleswomen. For they will gladly array thee as a mid-Victorian lithograph, saying, "Behold, how charming doth she appear in this delectable thing! Yea, and SO feminine!"

A trailing skirt may pass in the ballroom; and beneath a dinner table, all skirts are alike. But she that goeth forth in the daylight arrayed as her own grandmother shall be as plainly dated as a dentist's magazine. And men are not collecting ANTIQUES!

My daughter at a whopee party is in great need of counsel. For, to be classed as a prude is hard; yet, to be classed as a wild woman is unflattering. But, she that can keep her HEAD, and turn down her glass, yet seem full of gayety, delighteth the heart of her escort and maketh her hostess glad.

* * *

The prude is hated by them that slop over and the slop-overs are despised by them that are sober. And much "pep" weareth the spirit and frayeth the nerves; but the grande manner charmeth the wise and impresseth the simple.

How to Keep Well

By DR. ROYAL S. COPELAND

Health Value of 'Roughage' in the Diet

THERE is no question that constipation may be a factor in producing piles, or "hemorrhoids," as the doctors call this trouble.

The severe straining at stool, which the victim of constipation practices, may result in swelling of the soft tissues at the exit of the bowel. In time constant enlargement has taken place.

For similar reasons heavy lifting and constant standing or sitting may be followed by hemorrhoidal development. Anything that interferes with the free circulation of the blood in this region will promote trouble of this nature.

The presence of painful hemorrhoids, a fissure, or other sore place, may be a factor, too, in producing constipation. The painfulness of the passage causes the victim to postpone bowel movement as long as possible. The two conditions are so intimately related that each appears to aggravate the other.

The longer the waste material is left in the bowel the greater is the probability of fermentation. When fermentation takes place there is gas formation. In its turn, the gas dilates and distends the bowel. If long continued, the distention causes the muscular wall of the intestine to become weak and flabby. Gradually, therefore, the power to expel the mass is destroyed and the constipation becomes more obstinate and hopeless.

For similar reasons large and frequent enemas are liable to do harm. The injection of water every day and for months at a stretch may dilate and distend the intestinal walls. Such treatments are unwise without medical approval.

Ill health has its effects upon the muscles of the abdominal cavity, just as it has on the general muscular system. Constipation is a common and natural symptom of lowered vitality and poor health.

Many persons who are otherwise 100 per cent well and strong may have constipation. In most instances wrong eating and the lack of water drinking are important factors. The food of modern life is too refined for our good. We need roughage in our dietaries. Coarse food is essential.

Regularity of bowel action is of the greatest importance. Immediately after breakfast, time enough should be taken to coax a movement. Running to catch a train is no proper substitute for what is your duty to yourself at that hour of the day.

Catharties, laxatives, salts and other drugs are unsafe. They merely add fuel to the fire. But the natural methods—food, water, exercise, muscle development and regularity in habits—these will do more in the long run than any medicine.

Answers to Health Queries

A. V. A. Q.—Is the electric needle the only way to banish superfluous hair? Is it usually successful? What doctor specializes in this kind of work? What is the——system?

A.—This method if done by an expert should be successful in every respect. See a skin specialist. I am not familiar with the method in question therefore cannot advise you about it.

Miss J. A.—Is it dangerous to take a hot bath with a teacupful of Epsom salts added, about once a week?

A.—Not necessarily, although hot Epsom salts baths are apt to prove weakening unless prescribed by a doctor for some particular ailment.

Miss P. B. Q.—When on a fruit juice diet, what juices other than orange may be taken?

2.—Would improper functioning of the glands cause excessive weight? That is, if the glands were subnormal rather than abnormal?

A.—Practically all fruit juices.

2.—Yes, it may. Have your doctor outline proper treatmet.

C. S. B. Q.—What should a girl of 16, 5 feet 6 inches tall, weigh? What should a girl 17, 5 feet 1 inches tall, weigh?

2.—Do the bones make a difference in weight?

A.—They should weigh about 135 and 124 pounds respectively.

2.—Yes, some people are larger and more heavily boned than others.

Mrs. W. H. S. Q.—What exercise will help to reduce the abdomen?

A.—Bending exercises and sane dieting.

Tomorrow's Horoscope

Saturday, November 16

ALTHOUGH there are some stellar promises of active and prospering conditions in operation on this day, yet there are signs of intriguing or mysterious situations, accompanied by some small obstacles or delays. The mental attitude will be able to cope with these subtle developments and will be assisted by intuition.

Those whose birthday it is are on the eve of a year of singular or intriguing experiences and states of mind. They will meet such subtle conditions with wisdom and shall profit thereby.

A child born on this day may be well equipped with mental and intutive faculties to meet advantageously many singular situations and circumstances in life.

HELP KIDNEYS BY DRINKING MORE WATER

Kidney and bladder irritations often result from acidity, says a noted authority. The kidneys help filter this acid from the blood, and pass it on to the bladder, where it may remain to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread; the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again, there is difficulty in voiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is often one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Begin drinking lots of soft water, also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast. Continue this for two or three days. This will help neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer are a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs, which then act normal again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by acid irritation. Jad Salts causes no bad effects whatever.

Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink which may quickly relieve your bladder irritation.

DRUGGIST DEAD IN NEW CASTLE

NEW CASTLE, Pa., Nov. 15.—Scott Paisley, 65, one of the city's oldest merchants, died at his home late yesterday after an illness of heart trouble. Mr. Paisley was a native of this city and had been engaged in the drug business for more than 45 years.

He was the first president of the New Castle Rotary Club and the Western Pennsylvania Retail Druggists Association. He was active in the First Methodist Episcopal Church. He was a member of the Masonic lodge.

DRY CZAR HITS OSTRACISM

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 15.—(AP.)—A slant on the life of a prohibition official was revealed to members of the New York State Federation of Women's Clubs, in convention here by Maurice Campbell, administrator in New York City.

"I am virtually ostracized from the homes of my many friends because I cannot visit them without embarrassing them and myself," he said in an address during which he urged women of the state to insist on a state enforcement act.

"Many distinguished hostesses feel socially obliged to serve bootleg liquor in their homes, and, in most instances to get it, they have to associate themselves with criminals who only the night before, may have fired a bullet into the heart of a brother human being. If women realized this, how many of them would serve liquor."

KEEP UP DRIVE TO SAVE MILL

PERRYOPOLIS, Nov. 15.—The final effort to raise $10,000 to preserve the old grist mill in Perry Township, near here, built by George Washington, has been made by Treasurer Howard Adams. An appeal will be made through the Millers' Magazine in the hope of awakening patriotic organizations throughout the United States.

The fund is still $9,000 short, all the money subscribed to the present time coming from persons in this immediate territory.

The mill has become the source of considerable interest since the campaign for its preservation was begun, and tourists visit it each week. Hundreds ramble through the ruins on Sunday afternoons. Scores of these persons have promised to forward checks to increase the fund.

To complete the preservation, $10,000 must be available January 1, 1930. A branch office has been opened in Connellsville.

Man Shot by Son Dies in Hospital

AMBRIDGE, Pa., Nov. 15.—William H. Sevin, 46, Wall Rose farmer, died in the Valley Hospital, Sewickley, from a gunshot wound in the stomach, accidentally inflicted by his son, Stanley, 14. On November 1, father and son were hunting rabbits near their home. Stanley stumbled over the trunk of a tree. The rifle was discharged and the father was mortally wounded.

DEAL INVOLVES $12,000,000

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 15.—(AP.)—A real estate transaction involving more than $12,000,000 was completed when settlement was made by a purchasing syndicate for four of the principal corners in the Market street shopping district. It was one of the largest central realty transactions in the history of the city.

The properties included the Globe Theater site, Juniper and Market streets, 38 by 180 feet; southeast corner Tenth and Market, 22 by 120 feet; northeast corner Tenth and Market, 18 by 98 feet, and southeast corner Seventh and Market, 20 by 95 feet.

A 22-story bank and office building will be erected on the Globe Theater site by its new owners, the Market and Juniper Corporation. The new building will be completed by next fall.

PLAN BLOWING OUT FURNACES

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Nov. 15.—Blast furnace suspensions may be expected between now and the end of the year. The Youngstown Sheet and Tube Company plans to blow out one of its Hubbard stacks, which has been on the merchant iron.

The Carnegie Steel Company has already curtailed, and is operating three of six furnaces at its Ohio works, in Youngstown; one of three at New Castle, and one of three at Farrell.

At Youngstown, Republic Iron and Steel Company is maintaining four stacks in action at the Haselton plant, while Youngstown Sheet and Tube has four furnaces in blast at Campbell, and one at the Brier Hill Works.

Plan Minstrel Show To Aid School Band

FARRELL, Pa., Nov. 15.—Members of the Farrell Volunteer Fire Department are arranging a minstrel show, proceeds of which will be used to purchase uniforms for the High School Band. George Vermeire has been named chairman of the committee. Other members are: Jack Richards, James O. Taylor, William Leyshon, and Earl Bernard.

Mercer Man Sued Over Boy's Injury

MERCER, Pa., Nov. 15.—Wayne Teare and his father, Harry Teare, Pine Township, have filed suit for $35,000 damages as the result against J. W. McBride, of Mercer, of an automobile accident December 14, 1928. The son asks $25,000 and the father $10,000. It is alleged that the boy, while walking along the highway, was struck by McBride's car.

Former Fire Chief Sued for Divorce

FRANKLIN, Pa., Nov. 15.—Suit for divorce was filed by Mrs. Florence Sanford against Roy J. Sanford, of 140 De Soto street, Pittsburgh, charging desertion. Sanford was formerly chief of the Franklin Fire Department. They were married in Westfield, N. Y., on May 14, 1918. The date of their separation is given as July 21, 1927.

JIM LOST OUT; THEN GOT BACK

Says World's Tonic Is Greatest Pep Builder.

Jim Peters is a giant workingman of Ford City, Pa. For years he was the strongest and peppiest man in his gang. No job was too heavy, and Jim was always fresh for enjoyment after a day's work. His good nature and keenness were always evident. But he got a bad stomach which first started from catarrh, and it began to tell on him. Here is what he says: "Last summer my stomach began to trouble me. I had difficulty digesting the things I could get to eat in boarding houses and restaurants. I thought if I could get me a mess of turnip greens and corn bread and molasses I would feel a lot better, but after I tried to eat them I got worse, as my stomach swelled up and I belched up gas. Instead of being ready to join my buddies and go out for an evening's fun I had to go to bed early to feel well enough to work. I lost my pep, and my blood became poor, so that I ached in my back and arms. I got so all I wanted was to be let alone.

"One day a foreman at our place told me about World's Tonic. He said it was a wonderful new medicine that would help put hair on the chest of anybody. I got a bottle, and the very first day it started to put me back on my feet. The pains left me in a few days, and my stomach and bowels began to take care of what I ate. In a week I felt peppy. In three weeks I was able to hold my own with any of them, and since I have had real enjoyment out of life. I feel stronger than I ever did, I like to go out with the crowd, and I can step high and wide. I have forgotten I ever had a stomach, and I get up in the morning ready for anything. I want to tell the world that World's Tonic is the greatest pep builder and system regulator I ever found." World's Tonic can be had of Dow's (formerly McCulloch's), also May's, and May-flower Stores, or of any other first class drug store. (R. "S")

MILLION BOND IN KIDNAPING

DETROIT, Nov. 15.—(AP.)—Bond of $1,000,000 was set for the release of Joseph A. Laman at the conclusion of his examination before Roy Coomer, justice of the peace at Wyandotte, on a charge of kidnaping Fred Begeman, retired Wyandotte bootlegger.

Laman, convicted as the "go between" in the kidnaping and slaying last summer of David Cass, 23, son of a wealthy Detroit real estate dealer, is on temporary parole from the Michigan State Prison, where he is under sentence for two years for extortion in connection with the case. He was released to stand trial on the kidnaping charge. He has pleaded not guilty.

Begeman, who was kidnaped and held six days last April, was in court and pointed out Laman as one of the men he saw at the Dearborn home of Henry Andrews, where he was held prisoner. Begeman was released after $5,000 had been paid to his captors last spring. A second payment of $1,900 was made later.

It was Laman who collected $4,000 ransom from Gerson Cass, father of David, last summer. He was caught in the act by detectives, who shot him when he tried to escape. The body of Cass was found last month on the banks of the Flint River near Millville.

Laman is the second alleged kidnaper to be held in $1,000,000 bond. The first was James Fernando, who is charged with the kidnaping, September 30, of 5-year-old Jackie Thompson.

ENVOY OF POPE STAGES PARTY

ROME, Nov. 15.—(AP.)—A reception by Monsignor Borgongini Duca, papal nuncio to the Italian court, yesterday brought a thousand guests, all men, to the salons of the new nunciature. It was the first party of its kind in the history of relations between Italy and the Holy See.

The entire diplomatic corps accredited to Italy attended. They were headed by Sir Ronald Graham, British ambassador and dean of the corps. The United States was represented by Alexander Kirk, of Chicago, first secretary of the American embassy. Mr. Kirk came in place of the new ambassador, John W. Garrett, of Baltimore. Mr. Garrett has not presented his credentials as yet because of the absence of King Victor Emmanuel from Rome.

The government was represented by a number of cabinet ministers headed by Foreign Minister Grandi, while the King's household was present in the person of the aged Marquis Borea D'Olmo, prefect of the Royal Palace and the only dignitary of today who was in court service when the Pope lost his temporal power on September 20, 1870.

Cadet Flier Killed In Dive to Ground

RIVERSIDE, Cal., Nov. 15.—(INS.)—Diving headlong into the ground at terrific speed, Cadet Clark B. Beymer, of Venice, Cal., was instantly killed at March Field yesterday as he was making a training flight.

Fellow students and officers at the field were at a loss to account for the accident, declaring that when last noticed Beymer had been flying several thousand feet above the field, his plane apparently functioning perfectly.

London Denies Hitch In Japanese Parley

LONDON, Nov. 15.—(INS.)—Reports from Tokio that there had been a hitch in the Anglo-Japanese naval conversations were authoritatively denied here.

It was pointed out that Prime Minister MacDonald and the Japanese ambassador had discussed the question of naval disarmament only once and that the conversations had not reached a stage far enough advanced to allow room for any kind of a setback in the progress of the negotiations.

President of Cuba Names Consultant

HAVANA, Nov. 15.—(AP.)—Dr. Santiago Gutterrez De Celis, who recently resigned as secretary of the treasury, was named consulting attorney for the presidential palace by President Gerardo Machado.

Film Offer Given Stillman Case Indian Guide

MONTREAL, Que., Nov. 15.—(INS.)—Fred Beauvais, co-respondent in the famous Stillman case, has received an offer for the movie rights of his "own story," it was learned here. He has the offer under consideration.

Beauvais' action against James A. Stillman for $100,000, alleging slander, still is pending, he said.

READY TO BUILD SYNAGOGUE

Ground will be broken Sunday for the new Beth Shalom Synagogue, at Beacon street and Shady avenue, adjoining the community house. It was founded in 1917 when 35 men of the Squirrel Hill district organized the congregation.

In 1923 the community building was dedicated. The growth of the congregation has been so great that the building is inadequate. The new unit will provide for 500 children in daily Hebrew classes and Sunday Bible classes.

M. Leon Tolochko is chairman of Sunday's program. He will be assisted by Reuben Balter, Jacob Cutler, Meyer Fiman, Jacob Freedman, Abraham Goldbloom, Morris Jaffee, Samuel Mallinger, Max Moses, Israel Safyan, James D. Wald, B. Schwartz, Mrs. Samuel Rogow and Mrs. A. J. Roth.

LEGION MEETING DATES SET

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 15.—(AP.)—The national executive committee of the American Legion, meeting at national headquarters here, set September 22 to 25, inclusive, as the date for the 1930 convention of th Legion, which will be held at Boston, Mass.

Boston was awarded the convention at the annual meeting of the Legion this year at Louisville, Ky., but determination of the date was left to the executive committee. Factors in determining the dates, the committee said, were the availability of hotel reservations and the avoidance of holding the convention on the first of the month when many Legionnaires are needed at their office work.

ADMITS KILLING MAN BY SHOCK

COSHOCTON, O., Nov. 15.—(AP.)—Police Chief Ray Duling announced that he had obtained a confession from A. A. Harris, 27, Coshocton County miner, that he and Felix Marlatt, 31, also a miner, were responsible for the electrocution of Charles Newell, 27, at the Warwick mines of the Barnes Coal and Mining Company, last Sunday night.

Newell was killed instantly when he touched a live wire that had been attached to a gate leading to the mine property.

Harris, according to Chief Duling, admitted that he and Marlatt wired the gate "just to have some fun" with members of the Newell family. Harris is said to have admitted that the gate was charged by connecting the iron latch with a trolley wire over the mine tracks nearby. The connection was first made with insulated wire to shock two Newell children who had passed through the gate to gather coal, but they failed to touch the gate.

According to Harris' story, the two men removed the insulated wire and made the connection with telephone wire.

Marlatt and Harris both are held in county jail on murder charges. They will be given a preliminary hearing tomorrow. Marlatt has refused to discuss the case.

RETREAT GROUP TO DINE

The Rev. Dr. Joseph Corrigan, of Philadelphia, president of the Archdiocesan Seminary, and John A. Matthews, of Newark, N. J., will be principal speakers at the annual dinner of St. Paul's Laymen's Retreat League tomorrow night in the Knights of Columbus auditorium, Bellefield and Fifth avenues. Among the guests of honor will be the Rt. Rev. Archabbot Aurelius Stehle, of St. Vincent's College, and the Very Rev. Justin Carey, of Union City, N. J., provincial of the Passionist Order. Thomas F. Carrahan will be toastmaster.

The dinner will be a get-together for members of the league who take part in the week-end retreats in St. Paul's Monastery, South Side. Daniel M. Hamill is president.

Game Heads Deny State Rabbits Are Diseased

HARRISBURG, Nov. 15.—(AP.)—Reports that tularemia is prevalent among rabbits shot during the present hunting season were denied by the State Game Commission.

The commission said that all suspected specimens sent to the offices here as well as other rabbits examined revealed no trace of the disease.

"Until the experts who are examining specimens from almost every section of the state actually unearth an authentic case, the matter should be forgotten, a statement of the commission said.

7 GET TERMS IN CAR THEFTS

The prevalance of automobile thefts by young men was deplored by Federal Judge Nelson McVicar in imposing jail terms on seven men who pleaded guilty to violating the national motor vehicle theft act by transporting stolen automobiles in interstate commerce.

James Falasco, James R. Tolerico, Frank Palmeri and Mike Pandolfo, of Brooklyn, N. Y., each 17, pleaded guilty to transporting an automobile from Brooklyn to Everett, Pa., where they were arrested September 29, by Chief of Police L. Yoder, when unable to produce a driver's license. The machine was the property of Harry T. Flower, of Brooklyn. Each was sentenced to serve three months in the Bedford County jail.

James Hartford, 19, Negro, when he pleaded guilty of transporting a stolen automobile from Cleveland, O., to New Brighton, Pa., was sentenced to serve four months in the Beaver County jail.

Alfred Hewison was sentenced to serve six months in the Fayette County jail when he pleaded guilty to transporting a stolen automobile from Cambridge, O., to Indiana. Roy Stearns was sentenced three months in the same jail when he pleaded guilty of transporting a stolen automobile from Barracksville, W. Va., to New Salem, Pa.

SIGHT PERILED BY GRID INJURY

Injured in a football game in California, William McGreevy, halfback of the McDonald High School team and son of Councilman Robert McGreevy, is making a valiant fight in Washington Hospital for his sight.

During the game last Friday he was given first aid treatment for his injury, but after returning home, became worse. His sight was affected and on Wednesday he was taken to Washington Hospital. X-Ray pictures showed a blood clot at the base of the skull.

McDonald plays Burgettstown next Friday for the district championship and the loss of McGreevy, whose work has been watched by college scouts, will be felt by the oil town team.

Fire Sweeps Village, 200 Made Homeless

EDMONTON, Alta., Nov. 15.—(AP.)—Almost all of the 200 persons living in Thorsild, near here, were homeless, following a brush fire which sprang up Wednesday night and destroyed the village, causing an estimated loss of $150,000. No lives were lost. Several families lost all of their possessions.

95 PIANOS LOANED
FREE

Ninety-five Pianos (Grands, Players and Uprights, both new and used instruments), will be placed in homes of Pittsburgh and vicinity and they may be used until we need them—which will be an indefinite time. We have discontinued eight of our large branch stores, and are placing these instruments in our "Frederick's Annex," located at 915 Liberty Avenue. Instead of storing and holding these pianos for the regular price, we are going to slaughter the prices and take our loss now. If you have ever thought of buying a piano, now is the time. We do not wish to place our instruments in storage and all Pianos not sold outright will be placed in the homes of families who are interested in owning a piano in the immediate future, and for the valuable advertising we will receive by having good families use them. We reserve the right to select the homes in which these pianos are to be placed.
Positively No Charge For Anything
No cartage, no rent or any expense whatever. You must call at the store to make your selection. There are no strings to this offer, which comes but once in a lifetime.

PURE OIL SINKS 10 OHIO WELLS

NEWARK, O., Nov. 15.—The Pure Oil Company, whose refinery is working full capacity here, has started drilling 10 wells in Licking County. The company last week brought in a 4,000-barrel well in Van Zandt County, Texas., following instructions of geologists, whose findings were absolute.

The company has already brought in a million barrels of oil in Michigan in 27 wells out of 46 drilled in the Mt. Pleasant field, 125 miles northwest of Detroit. One hundred thousand acres are under lease and the company expects to continue on large scale and build a refinery there during the year.

Sentence Suspended For Negro Duelist

GREENSBURG, Pa., Nov. 15.—Shot four times, yet able to return the fire and wound his assailant, Preston Little, Monessen Negro, appeared in Criminal Court and pleaded guilty to charges of pointing firearms and assault with intent to kill.

One of the bullets struck Little on the head and glanced off. His assailant, Henry Cureton, Negro, was also slightly hurt, but escaped. Little received a suspended sentence.

Squire Finds Both Motorists Wrong

BROWNSVILLE, Pa., Nov. 15.—When Lindsay H. Conrad, Connellsville, and Sideleus Masatis, of Richeyville, firmly maintained that each was on the wrong side of the highway when they collided at Centerville yesterday, Justice H. L. Swartz decided both were in the middle of the road. Each paid $10 fine and costs.

"WONDERFUL IS KONJOLA," SAYS PITTSBURGH MAN

Nervousness and Indigestion Readily Yield to Powers of New and Different Medicine

One of the amazing properties of Konjola, the new and different medicine, is the speed with which it works and the thoroughness of the results it brings, even in cases that have defied and resisted all else tried.

MR. JAMES SKERRETT

Yet it is not so surprising that Konjola is such a success when you stop to think that it is really 32 medicines in one. Learn how these 32 ingredients go to the root and fount of the ills of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, and of rheumatism, neuritis and nervousness. Get the facts about Konjola from the two Konjola Men in Pittsburgh. One is at the Dow Drug Store (formerly McCulloch's), Penn Avenue and Sixth Street, and the other is at the Dow Drug Store (formerly McCulloch's), Diamond and Smithfield Streets. They are here to point the glorious road to health to all who suffer and who would be well again. They will tell you of countless cases like that of Mr. James Skerrett, 116 Meridan Street, Pittsburgh, who made this statement to a Konjola Man a few days ago:

"Wonderful is Konjola, the first and only medicine that benefited me. I know a lot of suffering and distress could be escaped if all the world knew of Konjola. For many months I was afraid to eat any food for fear of the dreadful distress that was sure to follow. Daily I was miserable and finally my nerves became affected. I could not sleep soundly at night and was becoming weaker and more rundown each day. I tried medicines and treatments without end but I might as well have taken water for none of them did any good.

"Then Konjola was recommended and when I read of case after case as severe as mine that had yielded to this medicine I realized that I would be making a mistake not to give it a trial. I secured several bottles and started the treatment. Just as I was told it would do, Konjola went to the source of my trouble. My system was cleansed and my organs were invigorated. Now it is a pleasure to work for I have a wonderful digestion and my nerves are calm and collected. Not a trace of my ailments remain. How glad I am that I found Konjola—the world's finest medicine."

Every day of delay in giving this medicine a trial simply means another day of needless suffering.

The Konjola Men are at the Dow Drug Store (formerly McCulloch's), Penn Avenue and Sixth Street, and at the Dow Drug Store (formerly McCulloch's), Diamond and Smithfield Streets, Pittsburgh, where they are meeting the public daily, introducing and explaining the merits of this new and different medicine. Konjola is sold also by all Dow Drug Stores in Pittsburgh and vicinity.

JUSTICE INDICTED UNDER JONES LAW

SIDE WALKS of PITTSBURGH

by HAVEY J. BOYLE

THE nurses of St. Joseph's Hospital, South Side, are to hold a dance on the night of November 25. An emissary asks that the public be notified through this column. The notification is made, conditionally: That the nurses wear their uniforms, instead of evening gowns. Everytime we see a girl in a a nurse's uniform, we wish we'd get a headache.

Havey J. Boyle.

Strange that we are so strong for the profession, for our experiences have always run like this:

A nurse was either telling us to get out of a hospital room, or, when we were the victim and not just a visitor, the nurse would be saying: "Come, come, don't be silly, swallow this spoon, and be quick about it."

There is an invitation here to make a talk in a neighboring town. A banquet is scheduled. Owing to another engagement, we can't accept. We are sorry, too, because Dr. Moates, of Tarentum, who invited us, made an alluring proposition.

Speaking at banquets is not so tough. Luncheons are the tough spots. Especially those luncheons where the men open the ceremonies with a song, all joining in.

We contend that noon is no time for singing. We believe that noon-day luncheons would be far better attended if the promise was held out that attendants would not be called upon to sing or let on they were singing.

The "head" for this should be: "Boyle Denounces Singing at Luncheons."

"A Young Lady Admirer," writes in to ask about Harpo Marx. Harpo, as you know, never talks on the stage. The correspondent wants to know if he's dumb all the time. The answer is "No." She wants to know how old he is. He is in his thirties. Then the correspondent wants to know something we can't answer. "Is he sensible off the stage?" Our guess is that he is, but what seems sensible to us may not seem sensible to the young lady in question.

Here are a few Believe-It or-Nots for Ripley's great feature:

"In Detroit you can take your wife abroad for five cents, cost of the ferry ride to Windsor, Canada."

"In Detroit, Canada is south of the U. S., due to a bend in the river."

"Fords are not made in Detroit, but in Dearborn."

They come from Bill Robson, in case you're getting ready to throw.

"BOB HANNAH," writes another Ripley fan (probably a few readers think this column is run by Harvey J. Ripley) "is a fellow who can spell his full name backward and get the same result."

* * *

To use a professional term, we "caught" the Flotilla Club show the other night. You must never say you saw a show. You always "catch" it. We saw a young hoofer, Eddy Reddy, a product of local dancing schools. We also saw Jackie Lightning in his specialty. Jackie does a waltz. He brought down the house. Jackie is a man about town. His last public appearance was in Expo Hall on the night that the Johnny Ray-Johnny Kirk—Harry Greb-Dave Pitler-Lightning bout was put on.

WELFARE DRIVE WORKERS GET $283,049

One-Fourth of Campaign Goal Won in Two Days; Enthusiasm Marks Work

Adding close to another $100,000 in the amount subscribed for 31 Pittsburgh and Allegheny County philanthropies through the Welfare Fund, workers in the campaign rolled up a total of $283,049.

Enthusiasm marked the gathering of the divisional and sectional chairmen and team captains in the William Penn Hotel yesterday when it was announced that practically 25 per cent of the goal of $1,168,055 had been subscribed in the first two days of the canvass. The amounts reported came principally from large givers, but it was stated by General Chairman Joseph Dilworth that encouragement is found in the fact that the public is giving whole-hearted support to the movement and that people in every walk of life will give their share to help the needy.

WOMEN BRAVE RAIN

Despite yesterday's rain the army of more than 300 women comprising the 35 teams in the women's division kept energetically at work with the result that they reported pledges of $45,355. The total subscriptions obtained by the women's teams are $111,469.

Although the men's division slowed up its activity, according to yesterday's reports, the total turned in by them is $86,744. The Sewickley Independent team still leads all others with a total of $64,450. Mrs. Alexander Laughlin is chairman.

G. G. Coolidge was the principal speaker at the luncheon meeting. He urged the workers to explain the purposes of the Welfare Fund and to give the list of the philanthropies affiliated with the community organization. He reminded the people that the Associated Charities, which changed its name to the Family Welfare Association of Allegheny County, is one of the large participating agencies in the Welfare Fund.

RED CROSS INCLUDED

A contribution of $1 or more to the Welfare Fund carries with it also annual membership in the Pittsburgh Chapter of the American Red Cross. The Welfare canvass in Allegheny County carries on also the Red Cross roll call.

Teams given a credit of $1,000 in their reports for being represented by 100 per cent of their members at the luncheon yesterday were: No. 6, Mrs. Stewart Johnston, chairman; No. 9, Mrs. E. L. Benedict; No. 12, Mrs. George W. J. Bissell; No. 13, Mrs. W. B. Trainer; No. 32, Mrs. S. E. Diescher; No. 38, Mrs. H. B. Kirkpatrick.

No reports will be read tomorrow, and the next luncheon will be held Monday. Meetings will be held daily next week until Friday, when the campaign will close with a dinner in Pirate Hall in the William Penn Hotel.

200 Ingram Pupils To Present Pageant

BOY AND GIRL ACCIDENTALLY SHOT BY KIN

Children Wounded Examining Weapons in Hands of Brothers; Boy in Hospital

A 4-year-old girl and a boy 11, were reported recovering today from bullet wounds fired accidentally by their brothers last night.

A revolver in the hands of Robert Dawson, 6, of 3110 Jersey avenue, McKeesport, discharged accidentally and wounded his 4-year-old sister, Margaret, police said. The bullet struck the girl in the cheek.

The shooting occurred while their mother, Mrs. John Dawson, was at a grocery store. Robert, finding a bunch of keys, tried them on a dresser and found the revolver which discharged while he was showing it to his sister, according to police.

Carl Silhanek, 11, of Wilson road, Reserve Township, was accidentally shot by his brother, Fred, 12, last night while they were examining a rifle near their home, county detectives were informed.

SHOT VIEWING GUN

He was taken to Allegheny General Hospital, where it was said that he would recover.

The wounding of the two brought the number of accidental shootings among children to four within a week. One of the victims, James McKinney, 15, of Guy street, Munhall, died Monday in Homestead Hospital, after he was shot in the neck. Another, Paul Butera, 10, of Oakdeane street, was in Pittsburgh Hospital from a bullet wound inflicted by a playmate last Saturday.

LOUIS VOLPE, 68 OTHERS HELD

Many Women Among Accused In Dry Cases; Nuisance Charges Face Scores

Among the 69 men and women under federal indictment today on charges of violating the liquor laws was Justice of the Peace Gilbert J. Martin, of Aleppo Township.

Martin was accused of possessing, for the purpose of selling, large quantities of beer in a house next to his home in Kilbuck road.

Also indicted was Louis Volpe, Wilmerding politician, charged with sale and possession of liquor and maintaining a common nuisance at 203 Braddock avenue, Turtle Creek.

All the actions were brought under the Jones "five-and-ten" law.

Thirty-eight additional indictments were handed down shortly after noon, naming 45 defendants. All were charged with violating the national prohibition act, under the Jones law. In 21 instances, the defendants named were charged with maintaining common nuisances by selling or possessing liquor or some other violation of the law. The offenses which brought the indictments occurred, they say, in Allegheny, Elk, Cambria, Erie and Somerset counties, and in this county, Pittsburgh, East Pittsburgh, Bridgeville, Homestead, Sturgeon, Pitcairn, Turtle Creek, Carnegie and Wall.

FALCONS NAMED

Joseph Ziolkowski and the Polish Falcons, Nest No. 182, of Ambridge, were named in a true bill, alleging sale and possession of liquor and maintenance of a nuisance at Duss and Eighth streets, Ambridge. Another charged James Brown with maintaining a nuisance at what is known as the club rooms of the F. O. E., No. 1365, in Ambridge.

Those named in indictments containing the nuisance charge and the addresses named as where the offenses occurred, were as follows:

David A. Bulger and Genevieve Inlow, Buckhorn Hotel, Buckhorn Star Route, Cambria County; Adelaide Worrall, ice cream parlor, 333 Electric avenue, East Pittsburgh; Stanley Balcerak, 25 Glen avenue, Glendale; Emmit Jessup, Frank Holby and Stephen Hoza, Beach and Linden avenues, East Pittsburgh; Anton Krulac, Helen street, McKees Rocks; P. C. Zemarel, 203 Braddock avenue, Turtle Creek; Edward Welsh, 214 Federal street; Joe Laposto, 102 General Robinson street; Franklin Ahlin and Rollison Wertz, Somerset Pike, near Johnstown; Samuel Johnson, 24 Cajou way; Morgan Burke, Chester Springs, Cambria County; Morris G. Geller and Charles Uphoff, 4726 Liberty avenue; Paul Hefferson and Joseph Reich, 2630 East Carson street; James Conley, Wall street, Pitcairn; Sam DeSarno, Tioga street; William Contestabile, 4701 Liberty avenue; John Franciullo, 210 Electric avenue, East Pittsburgh; James Bennett, 708 Linden street, East Pittsburgh; James Passarello, East Monongahela; Andy Haag, 519 Brownsville road; Victor Cserer, 114 Forty-third street; Jerry Horak, 3059 Penn avenue; George Sipple, 110 Paulson street; Henry Oermann and Elmer Herrscher, 812 East street; Leonard Walsh and Harry McGinness, 293 Electric avenue, East Pittsburgh; Teodor and Milly Uzeloc, 148 Watkins avenue, Wilmerding; John Greich, 1336 Reedsdale street; George Konick, 1562 Electric avenue, North Braddock; Andy Zanlicny, 1560 Electric avenue, North Braddock; Armia Roth, Wood and Electric avenues, East Pittsburgh; George Shad and Thomas McCann, 2328 Arlington avenue; Joseph Chester and Joseph Cherry, 2822 Penn avenue.

OTHERS INDICTED

Others indicted, without the nuisance charge, were as follows: August Piccoli, Adderly; Bernard Hughes, Pitcairn; Michael and Margarda Gardill, Baldwin Township; Lawrence and William Maley, Pittsburgh; Gilbert J. Martin, Allepo; Carmel Scapes, Pittsburgh; Margaret Brennan and James Conely, Baldwin Township; Rome Rossi and Elizabeth Rossi, Charleroi; John Marmelli and B. F. Tyler, Pittsburgh; Lawrence Ragni, Carnegie; Bessie Smith, Pittsburgh; Antonio Antonori and Joseph Chalan, Pittsburgh; Domineck Codispoli, Johnstown; Norman L. Dietrich, Pitcairn, Joseph Rodgers, Pittsburgh, and Phillip Feldman, Pittsburgh.

DRIVE WORKERS HOLD MEET

Ten teams, of five men each, canvassing West View in the Board of Trade membership drive, will meet in the borough hall at 8 o'clock tonight to make reports. Each home is being visited with the aim of boosting the membership to 1,000. C. A. McClain is chairman of the canvass.

At the same time the committee on the Perry highway celebration will meet to perfect plans for the parade and banquet to be held November 23.

Edgewood Youth Is Penn Band Member

Donald P. MacLeod, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald MacLeod, 213 Dewey street, Edgewood, is a member of the University of Pennsylvania's 125-piece band, the institution announced. MacLeod plays the piccolo.

Bellevue High Will Hold Stunt Night

Teachers will be mimicked, fortunes told and other stunts performed at the annual "Jim Jam" night by Bellevue High School students in the school tonight. Prizes will be awarded for the best stunts and costumes.

BELATED MEDAL GIVEN NURSE

A Pittsburgh nurse, fresh from a hospital training school, who nursed malaria-stricken soldiers back to health at Fort McPherson, Georgia, during the Spanish American War, received belated recognition for her work yesterday by being decorated with a government service medal.

The nurse, Mrs. Mary E. Shaefer, of 710 Thorn street, Sewickley, was decorated by Mrs. Mary McCabe, of 315 Lorenz avenue, first president of Sister Sylvia Camp, No. 10, United Spanish War Veterans' auxiliary, at United Spanish War veterans headquarters, McGee building. Several prominent former Spanish War service men were present.

Mrs. Shaefer, according to the official citation accompanying the medal, is the first Red Cross nurse in Pennsylvania to be so honored.

"Meritorious and extraordinary service performed during the Spanish American War that the War Department take official cognizance of this work by awarding you this decoration," the citation reads.

Graduated from Homeopathic Hospital, Center avenue, on April 10, 1898, Mrs. Shaefer finished a required training course before volunteering for war service in September of the same year. She served with distinction at Fort McPherson, a government base hospital for malaria and typhoid stricken soldiers invalided back from Cuba. In March, 1899, Mrs. Shaefer was mustered out and took up private nursing in Pittsburgh.

Fires on Workers, Explodes Gas, Found Guilty

C. A. Boddie, 1513 Montier street, Wilkinsburg, former radio engineer, who, annoyed by the noise made by Pittsburgh Railways Company employes repairing a track in front of his house, fired on them with a gun April 23, was found guilty in Criminal Court before Visiting Judge Davis W. Henderson, of Fayette County.

The verdict was in an indictment charging that a bullet exploded a gasoline tank on a compressor the workmen were using, burning Kenna Whittaker, 3923 Nantasket street.

Another indictment charging the wounding of Joseph Yunkervich was not proven, according to the jury, who acquitted Bodie on this count. He will be sentenced later.

BEN SWARTZ RAID VICTIM

A downtown club was raided by prohibition agents and an automobile in which ale was being loaded from the place was seized last night.

Ben Swartz, was arrested, agents said, in a raid on the club on the second and third floors of 966 Liberty avenue, in which large seizures of beer, whisky and ale were made. Swartz was held in the Central Police Station in default of bond.

A few minutes before the agents seized an automobile in front of the place in which ale was being loaded. Charles Gerwig, of Porterfield street, was arrested with the seizure of the car which contained five cases of ale, according to the raiders.

The sense of smell of prohibition agents led to raids on the saloon of John Sawchuck, 39, at 5169 Butler street, and a club in Barrett way, Carnegie, in which Robert Klein, 52, and Nick Clabazza, 37, were arrested, the agents declared. An odor of whisky was detected from each, and in raids on them last night whisky was confiscated, the dry officers asserted.

Letter Carrier Bitten by Dog

John F. Petrick, 26, of 610 Romaine avenue, McKeesport, letter carrier, was bitten on the left knee by a dog. After his injury was dressed at the McKeesport Hospital he was permitted to leave.

WIFE CONTESTS DIVORCE

Mrs. Francs Elizabeth Brukner, his wife, conducted herself "in a flirtatious manner with other men" in and about his grocery and confectionery store, to his embarrassment and humiliation, Godfrey Brukner charged in a bill of particulars filed in his divorce action in Common Pleas Court. The store and residence of the couple is located at Second and Main streets, Natrona Heights.

Mrs. Brukner previously averred that she is still residing at their home, caring for their 10-year-old daughter and 8-year-old son, without funds and "performing the menial services of a housemaid." She asked for an allowance and counsel fees, alleging that his income is $5,000 annually.

Brukner, seeking a divorce on grounds of cruelty and indignities, alleged she absented herself from home for days at a time and came home late at night. They were married November 24, 1917.

Downtown 'Y' Opens Handicraft Classes

Classes in handicrafts, designed so that Girl Scouts can make Christmas gifts with their own hands, started today and continue tomorrow in the Y. M. C. A. building, Wood street and Third avenue.

The Camera Question Box

The Sun-Telegraph's "Camera Question Box" each day will ask a question of public interest to Pittsburghers and will photograph those interviewed.

Today's question: If you were isolated on a desert island and it was possible to bring along five books, what ones would you select?

JOSEPH S. O'BRIEN, 321 Lehigh avenue, assessor: "I'd take the Bible, as my first book. After that would come 'Graustark' by George Barr McCutcheon; Edward Gaston's Poems of Life, 'Man on the Box' by Meredith Nicholson and Richard Harding Davis' condensed works. I'd select my meagre library with the idea that the books could be reread without me losing interest in them."

Joseph S. O'Brien

JENNIE ASMORGA, Homeville, Pa., secretary: "My selection would be 'Outline of History,' by H. G. Wells; Works of Edgar Allen Poe; 'Riders of the Purple Sage,' by Zane Grey, 'Paradise Lost,' by John Milton, and probably a book by Irvin S. Cobb. In them I'd have humor, food for thought, inspiration and a cure for loneliness."

Jennie Asmorga

MRS. LUCY K. MAXWELL, 715 Hemlock street, Avalon: "I hope it never happens to me, but first of all I'd take along the Bible for the consolation and thoughts it would offer in times of loneliness. Next would be Oliver Twist, by Dickens; The Lady of the Lake, by Sir Walter Scott; Mill On the Floss, by George Eliot, and Robert Louis Stevenson's Treasure Island. In these works I would have lots of education and solace."

Mrs. Lucy K. Maxwell

LILLIAN BAQUET, 681 Carter street, stenographer: "If I was shipwrecked and had the fortune to select my library before being hurled from the boat I'd pick out works that would be entertaining, to say the least. My selection would be 'The Gold Bug' by Edgar Allen Poe; Elbert Hubbard's Scrap Book; 'Main Street' by Sinclair Lewis; Shakespeare, and Autobiography,"

Lillian Baquet

Mark Twain's

GEORGE F. HOWE, 511 Sixth street, Clairton, clerk: "Elbert Hubbard's Scrap Book, and the Bible would come first with me. I'd take the Bible for its inspiration, and the Scrap Book for the new thoughts and ideas I could get out of it, no matter how many times it was read. Next would be Stevenson's 'Treasure Island,' very appropriate for the occasion, Carl Sandburg's 'Life of Lincoln' and Mark Twain's 'Innocents Abroad.'"

George F. Howe

GEORGE W. GROSS, 1020 Chestnut street, North Side: "My first selection would be the Bible. After it I'd select works that could be read and reread scores of times without losing their appeal. These would be Shakespeare's plays, Hawthorne's 'House of the Seven Gables,' 'The Lady of the Lake,' by Scott, and 'Man in Lower Ten,' by Mary Roberts Rinehart."

Hero of Rail Disaster Passes Away Here

They buried, a few days ago, the hero of one of the worst railroad disasters in Western Pennsylvania.

He was Thomas J. Dom, 64, of 822 Bayridge avenue, Brookline. He died following a lingering illness and while papers were being prepared that would have retired him on a pension early in January.

Thomas J. Dom.

Back in 1903, the nation was shocked by the details of a railroad wreck at Dawson, Pa., in which 64 men lost their lives and a few others were seriously injured.

VICTIMS SCALDED

Death was caused by scalding and the victims suffered horribly. Himself seriously injured, Dom, who was baggage master on the train and in later years a conductor, prevented a second accident by crawling over the wreckage and signaling a westbound train on the adjoining track by means of waving lighted matches and finally a flaming handkerchief over his head.

Rescuers found him in a fainting condition after his heroic act and removed him to a hospital.

The wreck occurred on the night of December 23 and many of the victims were homeward bound for the Christmas holidays. Many gifts and toys were found among the bodies, and a pall was thrown over the Yuletide.

Up to the time of this wreck it had been the proud boast of the B. & O. that no passenger ever had been killed on its Pittsburgh division. The wreck was caused by heavy switch ties which had fallen off a freight train and piled up on the tracks.

BOILER LETS GO

The boiler of the engine burst as the cars piled up on top of it, and the passengers were scalded by the steam. Those who were not severely burned were killed by inhaling the steam.

On August 3, 1905, Dom again was injured in a wreck. He was baggage master on a train on the Cambria and Somerset branch of the road when it left the rails and rolled down an embankment at Stony Creek, winding up in a creek at the bottom. Dom, who was in the baggage car, which rolled completely over twice, suffered a cut arm and a leg sprain. He was residing in Meyersdale, Pa., at the time. One woman was killed and more than a score of persons were injured in this wreck.

The hero of the horror of more than a quarter-century ago leaves his widow, Mrs. Marian A. Sykes Dom; Paul T. Dom, a son, and Mrs. C. R. Porter, of Brookline, and Mrs. J. Howard Huseman, of California, Pa., daughters. Another son was burned to death in the fall of an aeroplane at Bettis Field several years ago.

Woman Shot Dead, Police Hold Mate

The fatal shooting of Mrs. Hattie Preston, 40, a Negro, of Foreside place, was being investigated by detectives of the homicide squad and the coroner's office today.

Mrs. Preston was found shot in the left breast last night by police who were called by neighbors. She was taken to Passavant Hospital, where she was pronounced dead. In the house police reported finding James Squirrel, 32, a Negro, who told them the victim, his common law wife, shot herself after quarreling with him. Squirrel was arrested.

Will Rogers

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., Nov. 15.

Grundy wouldn't name the States that were backward, because Voodoos from the town of York, in his own state, had him "hexed."

Advancement will tell. Prosperity this winter is going to be enjoyed by everybody that is fortunate enough to get into the poor farm.

PITTSBURGH AIR IMPORTANCE STRESSED AT NEW FIELD

PORT IN OHIO MEMORIAL TO WAR VETS

Nearness of Industrial Area Governs Choice of Site; Peat Among Promoters

Further realization of Pittsburgh's importance to future aviation development was revealed today with the announcement from headquarters of the Mid-City Airport Corporation at Hudson, O., of the opening of Issoudun Airfield, a memorial to American wartime fliers who trained in France and an important link in the proposed coast-to-coast air line over this city.

The new airport, consisting of 1,250 acres, is located 10 miles north of Akron.

"Its central location in the heart of the great Detroit-Cleveland-Pittsburgh industrial district," declared Maj. Thomas G. Lanphier, wartime commander of Issoudon Field in France and directing head of the Mid-City Airport Corporation, "is one of the principal factors governing our selection of the site."

PEAT MADE OFFICIAL

D. Barr Peat, one of the pioneers in commercial aviation here as well as a native son, is vice president of the new corporation. Peat was one of the promoters of Bettis Field when commercial aviation made its debut in Western Pennsylvania.

Peat became associated with Maj. Lanphier in the Ohio airport proposition several months ago, shortly after the sale of Bettis Airport to the Curtiss interests. Two other McKeesport men, S. J. Brendel and H. C. Neel, also are interested in the new field. Both are directors of the Mid-City Airport Corporation.

Lieut. K. F. Lovejoy and Alvene Litzenberger, local fliers, have joined the Mid-City staff of pilots. Litzenberger is to be placed in charge of the flying school.

BIG HANGAR PLANNED

Plans for the development of the field include the erection of a 35-ship hangar upon which work already is under way. Six runways, averaging 3,000 feet in length, have been made available and by next year two additional runways of 7,000 and 9,000 feet will be finished.

For the present activities at the field will center around the instruction of embryo pilots, with particular attention focused upon the private owner. Courses for men and women with aspirations for transport as well as limited commercial licenses also will be given, however.

STREETS SIGNS FOR WEST VIEW

West View Council has authorized the purchase of 500 street signs. They will be of aluminum with black letters and will be placed on iron poles at all intersections.

H. P. McKown, borough engineer, has informed council that he made 15 additional tests of the concrete paving in Bronx avenue and found all met requirements except portions previously condemned by him.

PITT STUDENTS HEAR BARNES ON LIBERTY

Once Ousted Author Says Civil Liberties Union Is Disgrace to United States

Personal liberty, its history and development, was discussed yesterday by Prof. Henry Elmer Barnes at a general meeting of the Social Science Seminar of the University of Pittsburgh in the Heinz House.

In speaking of personal liberties, Dr. Barnes declared that the very existence of the Civil Liberties Union is a disgrace to the United States.

"Existence of such a group," he said, "is proof that the average American is interested in nothing that does not affect his personal life. Americans will not defend their liberties until they are personally deprived of them."

A handful of students and faculty members heard the talk and took part in the discussion which followed. The Rebel Yell, anonymously published "newspaper" that appeared on the campus, asked if the Seminar's action in bringing Dr. Barnes to the campus as a speaker would result in the dissolution of the group.

The question was brought up with the revival of the episode last spring when Barnes was "shooed" from the campus when he attempted to address the Liberal Club on the Moody-Billings case.

Though no announcement was made, university officials approved Barnes through James Lindsay, Student Council representative, who invited the professor to speak before a student assembly in the near future.

FIND TRUE BILL IN POSTAL ROBBERY

Man of Many Aliases Indicted by U. S. Grand Jury for Erie County Theft

Harry J. Miller, 45, alias Thomas Milton, alias Frank Smith, alias "Baltimore" Whitey, under arrest in the Erie jail for alleged forcible entry and robbery of the Plateau Postoffice, Erie County, near Girard, was indicted by the Federal grand jury, and will be brought here for trial under the postal laws.

The postoffice is in the building occupied by Cook Brothers, lumber and supply dealers. On the night of October 11 the safe in the building was blown open by a charge of nitro-glycerin, and about $30 in postal funds stolen, together with other property. The building was badly wrecked by the explosion.

Arthur James Lambert, of Union avenue, was indicted by the Federal grand jury, on a charge of fraudulently representing himself to be a government prohibition agent. Under such representation he was said to have attempted to defraud Samuel S. Johnson, of East Lacock street, while pretending to obtain evidence of violation of the prohibition law.

You'll have less COLDS if you'll do this:

WHEN cold weather drives folks indoors, there's less exercise and more constipation. Intestinal poisons caused by constipation weaken resistance. And that makes it easy for colds!

When you notice you're not regular, watch out for colds! Ex-Lax will keep you free from intestinal poisons. Ex-Lax is dependable, yet comfortable and convenient in its action. G.P.A. Radiator Glycerine is a standard solution vouched for by the Glycerine Producers' Association. It meets the U. S. Bureau of Standards requirements of a perfect anti-freeze.

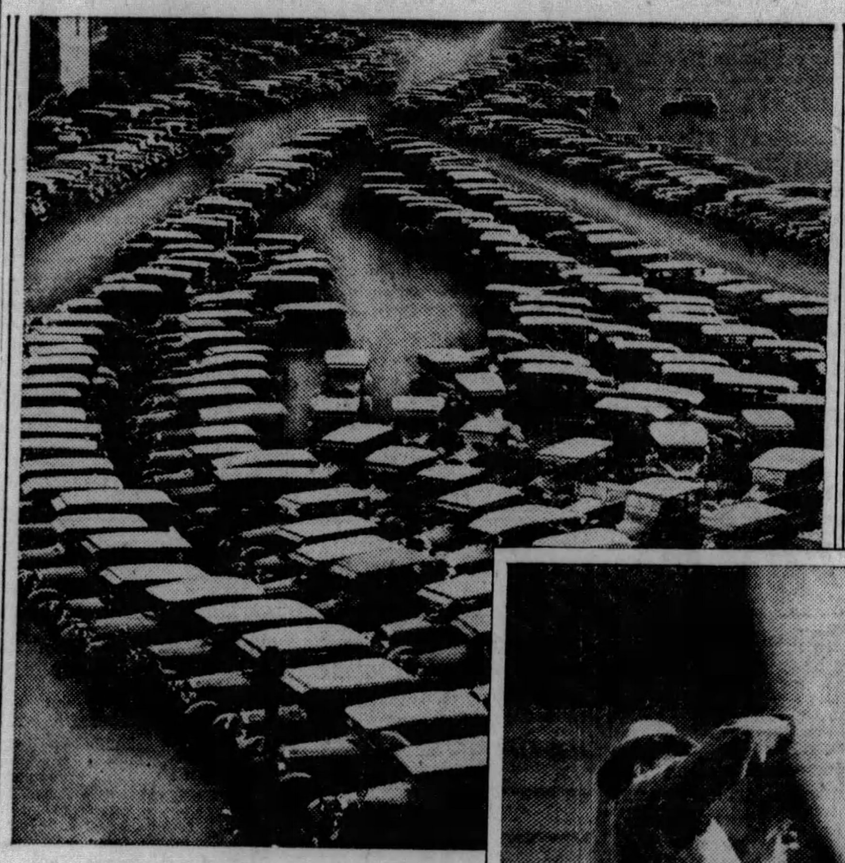
950,000 cars made permanently FREEZE-PROOF with only one filling of RADIATOR GLYCERINE



It won't evaporate!

Wouldn't you like to put just one filling of anti-freeze in your car and then stop thinking of freeze-ups for the entire winter?

That's exactly what 950,000 motorists did last year. It's exactly what you can do by putting G. P. A. Radiator Glycerine in your car right now.

Glycerine won't evaporate. One filling lasts all winter. You don't have to keep adding more — or guess about how much has evaporated.

Think of the worry and trouble this saves you. Park your car when and where you like all winter without a thought of freeze-up worries. You always know you're safe.

Glycerine is safe for your car. It won't harm the paint or attack the cooling system. Just follow the instructions on the can and it will give you the same dependable, permanent protection it has given to hundreds of thousands of other users. Get the entire winter's protection that it offers you by putting it in your car now. Get it from your garage or from any dealer displaying the G. P. A. sign.

Glycerine Producers' Assn.

DON'T GUESS — Be sure your anti-freeze is permanent

Lots of people use anti-freeze and still have freeze-ups. That's because ordinary anti-freeze evaporates. Its protection steals away. G. P. A. Radiator Glycerine users never worry about evaporation. One filling protects their cars for the entire winter because glycerine will not evaporate.

KIN'S CONTEST REJECTED IN COURT RULE

Nephews' Effort to Override Bequests of Springdale Man Defeated in Decision

Judge Thomas P. Trimble, of Orphans Court, yesterday dismissed a contest of the will of Martin J. Agan, 63, former Pennsylvania Railroad station agent at Springdale, who left most of his estate, valued at $1,000,000, to charity. The will had been contested by three nephews, who, according to the will, are to get $50 a month each for life.

The nephews are Martin J. and Leo J. Seifried, of Chicago, and Alfred E. Seifried, of Lima, O.

PROVIDES FOR CHURCH

An annuity was provided for a niece, Rose A. Witter, now deceased. Another individual beneficiary is Inez A. McNulty, of Philadelphia, who had been named one of the trustees, along with the Catholic bishop of the Pittsburgh diocese, to make the distribution of the charitable bequests.

The will also provided that anyone trying to break the will should not receive anything. Agan made bequests to St. Paul's Orphanage, to the Little Sisters of the Poor, provided that property in Springdale should go for establishment of a Catholic church, parochial school and teachers' home. He also provided that a plot should be given for a recreation ground for people of Cheswick and Springdale.

NO INFLUENCE SEEN

The nephews alleged in their petition that at the time that Agan made his will he was not of testamentary capacity and that the signature on the will was not his.

In his decision, Judge Trimble stated that there was no evidence of undue influence and that during the trial the contestants withdrew the issue of testamentary capacity, leaving only one question to be determined—whether the signature was genuine.

3 MEN INJURED IN BATTLE

Three Negroes were injured, one probably fatally, in a fight in Magnolia street last night.

George Wallace, 25, of 2020 Preble avenue, suffered a fractured skull, and Tom Goodwine, 40, of the same address, lacerations on the head when they were struck wth a pick-handle by Theodore Sims, 23, of 2011 Magnolia street, in front of Sims' home, according to police. Both were taken to St. John's Hospital, where it was believed that Wallace's injury would prove fatal.

In the melee, police reported, Sims suffered lacerations on the neck and right leg which required 10 stitches. After having his wounds dressed by a nearby physician he was arrested on a suspicious person charge.

FATHER CLAIMS GIRL'S BODY

The body of Mrs. Anna R. Verner, 20, of 712 Cedar avenue, who died Wednesday night in the Allegheny General Hospital from the effects of poison swallowed by mistake, was claimed at the morgue yesterday by her father, William H. Thomas, of 426 North Aiken avenue.

She was said to have taken the poison in her home November 7 in mistake for headache tablets. Her father said he had not seen her for several months. Hospital attaches said the victim had lived at the Cedar avenue address three days.

PATRICIA PITT'S SPRIGHTLY COMMENT ON PITTSBURGH'S SOCIETY HAPPENINGS

Buds Going East for Game

NO matter how interesting clever hosts may make the season for them here at home, the debutantes always find Yale and Princeton proms and football games alluring.

This week-end will find a number of our buds in New Haven for the festivities that precede and follow a Yale-Princeton football game, and for the game itself, of course.

Emily Frew, debutante daughter of the William Frews, will be there I know. Last night Laura Evans, charming bud daughter of the Howard Salisbury Evanses, left for New Haven for the game. Frances Reed, daughter of the junior James Hay Reeds; Virginia Wright, daughter of the Thruston Wrights; Peggy Milligan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Milligan, and Anne and Margaret Rose, daughters of the Don Roses, will all be there.

Other members of the younger set who'll be at the game will be Betty McCullough, daughter of the William T. McCulloughs, and Virginia Furey, daughter of the William M. Fureys.

And I almost forget to repeat that Ruth Drake, debutante daughter of the J. Frank Drakes, will see the famous football game, too.

And Anne Douglas Stewart, whose mother, Mrs. Douglas Stewart, will present her to society at a dance in the Pittsburgh Golf Club with buds and members of the younger married set as guests, also will be seen at the game.

AT a distinctive ceremony in the family home, "Grey Manor," Northumberland avenue, petite Anna Margaret Snow, daughter of the George Snows, became the bride of John Nusser Harper, son of the Alfred Mills Harpers, of Thornburg, yesterday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock with the Rev. Dr. Percy Kammerer, dean of Trinity Cathedral, as officiant.

The ceremony was performed in the drawing room before an improvised altar, banked on either side with ferns and yellow chrysanthemums, and lighted by slender white cathedral candles. The bride with her father walked down an aisle marked off by cloth of gold ribbon and clusters of yellow chrysanthemums. Her gown was of white panne velvet, in the princess mode, with a train falling from the slim waistline at the back. And her long veil was of exquisite old rose point lace, an heirloom in the family, with a cap of the same material. She carried a sheaf of calla lilies.

Attending her as matron of honor was her sister, Mrs. William Ford Moreland, in a short-sleeved gown of amber moire silk, also in princess mode, with a brief train. Her hat was an off-the-face model of felt in the same shade of tulle. And she, like the bridesmaids, wore long white gloves, reaching to the shoulder. And she carried Johanna Hill roses centered with Talisman roses. Virginia Forsyth as maid of honor, and Anna Mae Davis and Flora Jane Harper as bridesmaids wore gowns like the matron of honor's, but in a lemon yellow shade, with hats of felt and tulle to match, and carried Talisman roses combined with Johanna Hills, tied with tulle.

Perry B. Turner, of Chappaqua, N. Y., was best man, and Albert Turner, also of Chappaqua, William Howard Nimick, Jr., and Clark Miller and William Ford Moreland were ushers.

A dinner followed with dancing later in the billiard room. Decorating the bride's table were yellow and bronze chrysanthemums and hothouse grapes with large yellow tapers in ivory china holders. Centering the smaller tables were lavender chrysanthemums and maidenhair ferns.

Receiving with the bride after the ceremony were Mrs. Snow, in a gown of liberty blue satin and silver lace with a felt hat of blue, and Mrs. Harper, in amethyst velvet with a hat to match. Their flowers were orchids.

After a wedding trip to Florida, the young Harpers will live in the Wendover Apartments.

The Graf Zeppelin, on its flight around the world, intentionally flew into the wake of a typhoon between Siberia and Japan, and saved time by the performance, Lieut. Commander C. E. Rosendahl, U. S. N., said in an address at the William Penn Hotel last night. He was speaking at a dinner attended by members of the Electric Heating and Welding conference.

"We overtook the typhoon purposely, and while the going was a bit rough, the experiment was a success," said the commander of the Los Angeles, who was aboard the Graf as an observer.

"The Graf Zeppelin did not include all the modern designs which will be included in the two new American Navy dirigibles, but it is a great ship," he continued. "With a crew of 40 and a passenger list of 20 it had a cruising radius of 9,000 miles."

Civil War Battles Win Woman Divorce

CHICAGO, Nov. 15.—(INS.)—Judge Joseph Sabath has ended the civil war and Mrs. Roberta Waxman is free today.

The romance of Roberta and Alexander, which started in Mayfield, Ky., in December, went on the rocks officially yesterday because, as Mrs. Waxman complained, "Alexander and I are unable to get the Civil War settled."

Their honeymoon began with an argument on Fort Sumter, according to the complaint. In March they were following Grant, and here Alexander is alleged to have gotten rough.

Mrs. Waxman declared she won an argument over Pickett's charge at Gettysburg—also a discolored eye.

Judge Sabath granted the divorce.

GRANT RULE TO HALT PADLOCK

Judge Nelson McVicar in Federal Court today granted a rule on United States Attorney Louis E. Graham to show cause why a temporary injunction against a building at 19-20 South Twelfth street should not be set aside.

The rule was granted on petition of Mrs. Annie J. Sommers, owner of the building in which prohibition agents reported raiding a saloon operated, they said, by John L. Sullivan.

Mrs. Sommers sets forth that she was not notified until the day of the hearing of the injunction proceedings. She also says she is a widow with three children, and that her only income is the rent from the building.

A dining room, not operated by Sullivan, was wrecked by the agents at the time of the raid, which was made without a search warrant, Mrs. Sullivan further set forth in her petition.

MRS. ERNEST THOMPSON SETON, former national president of the League of American Pen Women, will be guest of honor at a luncheon which the local league will give in the Woman's City Club Monday. Mrs. Seton will be in Pittsburgh as the guest of Mrs. Ambrose Nevin Diehl, a member of the local league. Miss Marie McSwigan, president of the Women's Press Club, and Miss Anna Belle Craig, president of the Cordova Club, also will be guests at the luncheon, which is open to the membership of both clubs. Mrs. John A. Shoemaker and Mrs. Jane G. Burtnett have the affair in charge, but reservations are being taken at the City Club office.

MRS. J. ANDREW GETTIG, chairman of the first district of the Allegheny County Federation of Women's Clubs, addressed the Woman's Civic Club of Wilkinsburg yesterday, speaking on "The Relations of the Club to the Community." Mrs. Frank Thompson spoke concerning the drive which the Y. W. C. A. is to open shortly. The meeting was held in the Penn-Lincoln Hotel with Mrs. Thompson, Mrs. George Carr and the civic committee members as hostesses.

KURT PAUR, who comes to Pittsburgh to give a recital before the Tuesday Musical Club next week, will be the guest of Col. and Mrs. Oliver S. Hershman at their home in Beliefield avenue. Mrs. Hershman went abroad to be present at Mr. Paur's debut with the Berlin Philharmonic Orchestra, and it is through her courtesy that he is to appear before the Tuesday Musical.

Mr. Paur is the son of the late Emil Paur, former director of the Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra. He obtained his musical reputation in Europe. For five years h ewas a pupil of Dohnanyi and made his debut in Berlin 15 years ago. He came to America from a professorship of the piano in the Berlin Royal High School, after his life's savings were wiped out through the deflation of the mark.

AIDES for the Tuesday Musical Club Choral bridge party next Friday afternoon include Mrs. R. M. Heath, Mrs. Anna Myers, Mrs. L. R. Titsworth, Mrs. R. C. Allen, Mrs. John R. Steele, Miss Helen Bigge, Mrs. Frank W. Myler, Mrs. Grace N. Hanna, Mrs. H. B. Hartley, Mrs. H. D. Everett, Mrs. W. T. Mitchell, Jr., Mrs. William S. McElroy, Miss Anna Whitten and Mrs. Henry Hanna. The affair, which will be held in the home of Mrs. F. D. Newbury, is to be a benefit for the Stephen Collins Foster Memorial.

A CHANGE in hostesses has been made for next wee's meeting of the Brighton Women's Club and in place of Mrs. A. M. Meckelnberg, Mrs. F. E. Jamieson will entertain the members. Mrs. C. S. Lindsay was hostess yesterday at her home in McClure avenue, Mrs. A. C. Gordon and Mrs. H. J. Voegtly presenting the program, papers on "Norse Voyagers" and "Life in the Viking Age." Current events were given in response to roll call. The club is to have a carpet rag sewing for the blind Tuesday in the home of Charles Kolb, Grenet street.

SIXTEEN organizations sent representatives to the president's day reception of the Rosslyn Farms Woman's Club which was held yesterday in Mrs. Carl Bushnell's home. Mrs. Ralph W. Tennant, the new executive, was the honor guest and the program was arranged by Mrs. C. E. Dignan, retiring president. It was presented most delightfully by Elsie Breese Mitchell, soprano, and Mrs. G. B. Cooley, cellist, with Mrs. Warren V. Hertz accompanying. Yellow and white chrysanthemums, the club flower and colors, were used to decorate the tea table where Mrs. W. H. Parrish and Mrs. L. J. Fox presided.

WITH a program of taste and judgment and a tenor voice that pleased his cordial audience, Charles Massinger made his bow to Pittsburgh yesterday, at the same time inaugurating the season for the music and art committee of the Twentieth Century Club. Works of Purcell, Greenhill, Massanet, Puccini (an aria from Tosca), Richard Trunk, Oley Speaks, Hereschoff, Ehrich Wolff, Schubert and James H. Rogers made up the program, the singer doing with especial interest the Rogers' Omar Khayyam quatrains, although his outstanding song of the afternoon was the familiar "Andie Musik," by Schubert. Earl Mitchell contributed much in his accompaniments.

AN old-world atmosphere will feature the international banquet to be held by Central Young Women's Christian Association tonight. In co-operation with International Institute, a program of folk songs and folk dances has been planned, the dancers including Alex Reick, Mary Szarvas, Katherine and Olga Molnar, Anna Civille and Joan San Pietro. Croatian songs will be sung by Barbara Barsh and there will be group singing of folk songs. Mrs. Charles Longenecker will preside. Dean D. K. Karve, of Poona, India, will speak at the international vesper service on Sunday the concluding event of this world week of prayer and fellowship. Violin numbers will be given by Miss Elizabeth K. Irwin, accompanied by Miss Helen Roessing. Following the vesper hour, tea will be served, with Mrs. John R. McCune and Mrs. B. G. Follansbee pouring.

AN address on service was given yesterday in her inaugural by Mrs. Ralph Bolton, president of the Hazelwood Women's Club, when the club held a reception for her in Odd Fellows' Hall. The honor guest was presented with a basket of lavender and white (club colors) chrysanthemums. The program included violin solos by Charles E. Parke, Mrs. Frank W. Parke accompanying; soprano numbers by Mrs. Rebecca M. Davies, accompanied by Mrs. Myrtle Hamilton Henning, and readings by Parnell Porter. Mrs. F. C. Sauers outlined the year book and tea was served by Mrs. Sadoc Lloyd and her committee. The club members will lunch at Carnegie Institute Tuesday and in the afternoon will visit the international art exhibit.

YESTERDAY'S program for the Woman's Club of Ingomar included a brief talk on Carrie Jacobs Bond by Mrs. Harry Trimble, which she illustrated with two of the composer's songs and a discussion of eugenics by Dr. Roswell H. Johnson, of the University of Pittsburgh. After a cursory explanation of his subject and its basic terms, Dr. Johnson read his "Code of Ethics," which is to be published soon. General discussion followed.

THE Aspinwall Women's Christian Temperance Union met last night with Mrs. Anna I. King, Eastern avenue. The reports of delegates to the state convention and vocal solos by Mrs. Frank O. Patterson made an unusually interesting program. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. J. W. Hartley and Mrs. S. F. Herr.

MRS. HARRY SMITH and Mrs. Robert T. Alexander are co-chairmen for the National Better Magazines Council benefit theater party at the Pitt next Friday night.

SWALLOW TAIL COATS INVADE FASHION WORLD

Paris Bureau, Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph.

PARIS, Nov. 15.—Even if one swallow does not make a summer, several swallow-tails are helping to make quite a winter for a clever couturiere who has created a coat that helps solve the problem of how to cover the long skirted afternoon frock without acquiring a clumsy or bulging line in the coat. However, long or full the skirt, the straight svelte line must be preserved, if one is to present a figure which is part of the very decorative scheme of beauty to which every woman is expected to contribute through the medium of her personality, expressed by her poise and appearance. Dress has become more than an art, it is science, the study of which is neither selfish nor superficial, for it has given all of us added pride in ourselves and our surroundings. Clothes today are graceful and harmonious and woman has acquired thereby added grace, refinement and dignity of demeanor.

JENNY is the couturiere responsible for the swallow-tail coat, the first sketch of which we hasten to send you. This model is of long-napped broadcloth in lustrous black with black broadcloth, trimmed with black lynx that fashions the huge collar, and the bands around the elbow on each sleeve. The swallow-tail opening is not very pronounced, but it certainly makes it much easier to wear the rather fuller skirts of formal daytime frocks, and in itself helps to create a coat of smart silhouette.

THE very graceful evening gown is from the establishment of Maggy Rouff. It consists of a tight fitting body of black and silver lame having a large flower design in shades of rose and green. A fluttering flounce of black chiffon edges each side of the deep decolletage in the back and ripples down to join a multitude of fine chiffon flounces which form the skirt and trail in a short pointed train. This model which is called "Camelia" is worn with black suede gloves of elbow length.

PLANTABBS
ODORLESS PLANT FOOD TABLETS
He pushes a neat little tablet into the soil of every pot, sometimes two or three tablets where the plants are large. And how the plants do flourish! "There's nothing like PLANTABBS," smiles mother. They are clean, odorless and safe. They contain, in concentrated form, all the elements needed for plant growth. Dissolve quickly, releasing plant food in the soil. Economical to use.
Sold by florists, druggists and stores selling garden supplies in 25c, 50c, $1 and $3.50 packages. Be careful to get the genuine. Do not accept substitutes. If your dealer cannot supply, we'll mail pkg. postp'd

To Prevent Fine Things Fading in Washing Machine

Simple Way To Stop Fade And "Soap Eat" Even When Ordinary Laundry Soap is Used

Soap eat of fragile things and fading of delicate colors in either washing machine or tub can easily be corrected now, even when ordinary laundry soaps or powders are used.

Under the new method described here, even faintest pastel colors in fine lingerie or delicately tinted hosiery hold fast, according to recent tests, for as many as 50 washings, without noticeable fade or wear.

The method is very simple: To each tubful of water (or washer filled to the water line) you merely add 2 tablespoons of a preparation called CLIMALENE and use just ONE-FOURTH the quantity of soap you ordinarily use. Then proceed with washing as usual. (For small wash basins, use 1 teaspoonful of CLIMALENE.)

This preparation is used by experts to stop fade and soap eat. It acts by converting hard, or semi-hard water to rain water softness and to dissolve grease and dirt. White clothes, washed this way, never grow yellow—but wash pure white. Delicate colors hold fast. You can easily get it at any grocery store. Two sizes, 10c and 25c. Just ask your grocer for CLIMALENE.

Prudence Penny's Recipes

Clam Chowder.
Southern Rabbit. Baked Potatoes.
Steamed Squash.
Celery and Cabbage Salad.
Mock Mince Pie. Coffee.

IF you have a hunter in the family, or even if you haven't you really should know how to prepare rabbit. The Southern way is one of the best. I do not say that this is the only "Southern way," but it is one of my favorites:

Dress and clean two rabbits and disjoint in pieces for serving. Cover with 3 pints cold water to which have been added 1½ tablespoons of salt and let stand 3 hours. Drain, wipe, sprinkle with salt and pepper and roll in flour.

Fry out ½ pound bacon cut in pieces; there should be 2-3 cup of fat. Put in an iron frying pan, add rabbit, cover and cook slowly 1½ hours, turning frequently. Pour over 1 cup milk and cook 30 minutes.

CHILL the celery and cut in small pieces for the celery and cabbage salad. Then pare and core apples and cut them into an equal amount of small pieces. Blend with a cream salad dressing and arrange in a bowl made of small, solid, white cabbage, placed on a bed of crisp lettuce leaves. The cabbage from the center may be used the next day or Sunday evening in coleslaw.

Serve the mock mince pie with a slice of choice cheese and you'll have a dessert worthy of the best of Sunday dinners.

Use 4 rolled crackers for the pie and 1½ cups sugar, 1 cup molasses, 1-3 cup lemon juice or vinegar, 1 cup raisins, seeded and chopped, ½ cup butter and 2 eggs well beaten.

MIX the ingredients in the order given, and add spices to suit your own fancy. Bake between two crusts.

IF unexpected guests do drop in on the night when you have just enough meat for your family's dinner, and show no slightest sign of departing before dinner is announced, then you've got to think quickly!

If you run short of bread or butter or almost any product but meat, the corner grocery or delicatessen store obligingly stays open until a late hour, and you can phone for the things you need.

But the meat markets close at a most untimely hour, and if you haven't enough meat in the larder the outlook is discouraging. And certainly one has no way of knowing just when guests will descend on one!

THERE are ways of extending meat—not by serving smaller portions, but by adding vegetables and sauces, and so making it look like a most generous supply.

If you have ½ pound of chopped steak, and 3 slices of bacon, go to the emergency shelf and get down a package of spaghetti and a can of mushrooms.

Measure a cup of mushrooms and slice them; slice 2 onions; slice 2 pimentos and measure out a teaspoon of salt, a tablespoon of butter, a can of tomato puree, a quarter teaspoon of pepper and an eighth teaspoon of mustard.

There you have all the materials for spaghetti and steak and mushrooms—a most patrician dish!

BREAK the spaghetti in pieces and cook for 20 minutes in boiling salted water. Cut the bacon in small pieces with a scissors and cook in the frying pan until browned and crisp.

Add the chopped steak, the mushrooms and onion, cover and cook slowly for 5 minutes.

Combine with the spaghetti and other ingredients. Turn into a casserole and bake 20 minutes in a moderate oven.

HAM a la Breck is a masterpiece of culinary art. Cover the bottom of a buttered baking dish with a layer of cooked macaroni. Cover with finely chopped ham (you can do with a cup of the chopped ham) and repeat.

Mix a cup and a half of milk with 4 slightly beaten eggs, salt and pepper to taste, ¼ teaspoon of onion juice and a teaspoon of mustard, and pour over the ham and macaroni. Bake in a 350-degree oven until firm.

Lamb, chicken or beef may be used with equally good results.

FILLED PASTRY STICKS—Roll pie dough to ¼-inch thickness, cut in finger strips, spread with a mixture of chopped olives and nuts, add another strip of pastry, moisten the edges to hold the strips together, prick with a fork and bake in a hot oven until brown. Serve with salad course.

CHEESE STRAWS—Cheese straws are made of pie dough rolled in ⅛-inch thickness, cut in thin strips with a floured knife and grated cheese sprinkled over the forms. Paprika is sprinkled over the tops as soon as they are browned.

CHOCOLATE CUSTARD—Twenty-four marshmallows, 2 cups milk, 1½ squares unsweetened chocolate, 4 egg yolks, few grains salt, 1 teaspoon vanilla.

Cut or pull the marshmallows in half, drop in milk and scald in the double boiler. Remove from the fire and stir until the marshmallows are dissolved. Melt chocolate and add to it a little of the hot milk and cook until smooth. Combine with scalded milk. Pour over slightly beaten egg yolks and return to the double boiler. Cook slowly, stirring constantly, until the mixture thickens. Remove from the fire and add salt. Cool and add the vanilla. Serve thoroughly chilled with a marshmallow on each serving.

CHOCOLATE SPONGE CAKES—One-half cup whipping cream, 1 egg, ½ cup fine sugar, ½ teaspoon vanilla, ¾ cup pastry flour, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 1 square bitter chocolate, few grains salt.

Beat the egg well, and sugar gradually, beating until light and smooth. Add vanilla. Sift flour and then measure. Resift twice with baking powder and salt. Add to the first mixture in 2 parts, stirring lightly and quickly. Add chocolate that has been melted over hot water, then 2 tablespoons of whipped cream and stir lightly. Fold flour mixture into whipped cream carefully until well blended. Fill muffin pans 2-3ds full and

'Glad Eyes' Are Outward Signs of Good Health

Fruits and vegetables—some eaten raw—will bring the sparkling eyes, which denote health, says Dr. Copeland.

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
Former Health Commissioner of New York City, U. S. Senator From New York.

NOT long ago while in Europe I saw this heading to a big advertisement: "Get the Glad Eyes of Health!"

While this was really an appeal for a proprietary preparation, much was said about the "natural foods" and what they will do to promote health. Sound teeth, sturdy bodies, and the glad eyes of health come from the eating of such foods.

There can be no doubt that the natural foods, fruit, the cereals and all the vegetables, are capable of contributing health and vigor. More than this, they are essential to health and vigor.

We learn much from the appearance of the eyes. If they are dull, lacking that luster and sparkle which we all admire, you may be sure there is something wrong. If the lids are swollen, if dark rings encircle the eyes, if the whites of the eyes are streaked with red or stained with yellow, we may be sure there is something about the body that needs correction.

Nothing can be more desirable than the "glad" eyes of health." Nothing can be more desirable than to practice a manner of living that will guarantee the "glad eyes of health."

We are approaching a season when it will be more difficult to get fresh things than it is in the summer. But there are fruits like apples and oranges, green things like lettuce and cabbage, relishes like tomatoes and celery, that can be had almost the year around, in even the most remote part of the country.

Such foods are needed if you are to have the glad eyes of health. They contain the mineral elements, the vitamins, the starches, the juices with their vegetable acids—all gifts of the vegetable world to the building and maintenance of strong bodies. The sparkling eyes are tribute to proof of their value.

There are many ways to serve the fruits and vegetables. Some of them are taken best in raw form. Others are quite as valuable if prepared by cooking. But unless the vegetable world contributes its full share of your daily diet, there is certain to be a breakdown somewhere in your precious body.

I am not making this argument because sparkling eyes are appealing and every way winsome—they are all that. I want you to have "glad eyes," because they are the outward and visible sign of health. There is no surer evidence of a well-ordered life than can be found in the sparkle of the eyes.

No single coffee grown can give you this glorious flavor

WHERE do you suppose the old Maxwell House in Nashville procured the rare coffee for which it was so widely famed? No single coffee grown yields that inimitable flavor; it had to be blended into being before it could delight the epicures of the Old South.

A Southern gentleman of the old school devised that rich and mellow flavor, and time so treasured his recipe that you can enjoy it today. The world sought out his coffee and year after year has demanded it in such measure that now it is the largest selling packaged coffee in the world!

Your grocer has Maxwell House, waiting for you to try. So sure is he that it will please you, just as it has pleased more people than any other coffee ever packaged, that he will unhesitatingly return your money if you are not fully satisfied.

SPANISH STEAK—Purchase a flank steak for this dish. Round steak or sirloin may be used, but the flank is less expensive and the flavor is delicious. Have the butcher score it well, and when you are ready to prepare it, trim, pound if you think it needs it, and flour well. Brown quickly in an iron skillet, using bacon drippings. Put into a baking dish and sprinkle well with salt and pepper. Add 2 medium sized onions sliced finely, with a minced clove of garlic and a can of tomatoes. Bake in a moderate oven for 1 hour.

GRAHAM NUT BREAD—Mix and sift together 3 cups graham flour, 1 cup white flour, 1 cup sugar, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 1 teaspoon soda and 1 teaspoon salt. Add 2 cups buttermilk, 1 cup chopped nutmeats and 1 cup raisins, chopped. Bake in a slow oven for 1 hour in a buttered loaf pan.

* * *

VEGETABLE SOUP—Wash and scrape 1 small carrot, ½ a turnip, wash and pare 4 potatoes and 2 stalks of celery. Cut the vegetables in cubes of uniform size, cut ½ an onion in thin slices. Cook all the vegetables except the potatoes in 4 tablespoons butter, stirring constantly. Add potatoes, cover and cook 2 minutes, add 1 quart of water and cook until the vegetables are soft. Beat with a fork to mash the vegetables. Add 1 tablespoon butter, season with salt and pepper and add ½ tablespoon finely chopped parsley. Serve at once.

MOTHER HUBBARD BREAD

ANY housewife may buy from her grocer or delicatessen, the same pure ingredients we are using in making the new and better MOTHER HUBBARD BREAD. But here's the rub—Few can bake them into a good loaf of bread day after day. We can, because we are able to employ, along with the ingredients, the skill, experience, temperature control and modern equipment which is all important to the production of a quality loaf, day after day. Therefore, buy MOTHER HUBBARD BREAD from your dealer every day and enjoy the flavor which is inherent in the pure old-fashioned hominess of its formula. On sale at your grocer's.

EDGE AGAINST PLAID IN HARD FIGHT

WHILE Notre Dame and Southern California are battling in Chicago, Yale and Princeton are meeting in New Haven, and additional big football events of the day are being staged in other parts of the country, Pittsburgh will be sitting down to a gridiron feast all her own tomorrow afternoon. For Pitt and Carnegie Tech will be fighting it out at The Stadium, and as far as local interest is concerned the annual grapple of these home rivals for the city championship represents the high spot of the entire season here, with the fans divided in their enthusiastic support of one or other of the contending teams.

Dr. J. B. Sutherland

A string of early victories before the Skibos rose to their present heights gives the Panthers the long end of the count in the full history of the colorful fixture, but in recent years the competition has been practically nip and tuck. In the last five seasons neither school has succeeded in defeating the other twice in succession.

SINCE Dr. Sutherland came in as Pitt's coach in 1924, to succeed Pop Warner and carry on the yearly duel of wits with Judge Steffen for the city honors, the Tartans have won three games to the Panthers' two. Carnegie won in 1924, 6 to 0; Pitt in 1925, 12 to 0; Carnegie in 1926, 14 to 0; Pitt in 1927, 23 to 7, and Carnegie in 1928, 6 to 0.

To whatever extent advance dope in the uncertain fall sport may be considered trustworthy, this see-saw order of things seems likely to continue this year. That is, Carnegie's victory of last season appears destined to be followed by a Pitt triumph tomorrow. At least, such are the indications, though football games, admittedly, do not always pan out according to signs of that sort.

AS FAR as records go, the Panthers have all the better of the comparison. The Plaid has beaten only such teams as Bethany, Thiel, Western Reserve and Washington University, while losing to Notre Dame and being held to a tie by W. & J.

The Panthers, on the other hand, have shaped up as one of the best teams in the country, possible winners of the Eastern championship and the national honors as well. In addition to their wins over Waynesburg, Duke, Allegheny and West Virginia, they have defeated Nebraska, Ohio State and W. & J., rolling up 21 points against the Presidents whereas the Skibos were unable to score against the same eleven.

Judge W. P. Steffen

HOWEVER, comparative records do not mean a great deal in football, and this applies particularly to such comparisons between Pitt and Carnegie Tech. What either has done previously cannot be taken as an indication of what it will do when it gets up against its cherished rival. Both fight harder and with more spirit and determination then than at any other time, and are likely to outdo themselves in every department of play. So, even if the Panthers do win tomorrow, as the dope indicates, it isn't going to be anything in the nature of a walkover. The 21-to-0 victory over a team that Carnegie could not score against does not mean a thing. The Panthers will find the Tartans their toughest foemen of the season.

BUT with everything considered, Pitt appears likely to prove the better team offensively and the winner in the end. The exceptional ability of Donchess and Montgomery at end and guard gives the Panthers an edge in the summing-up of the forwards, though there can be no more fight in their line than in Carnegie's; the Blue and Gold also has a better offensive backfield, as a whole, and a superior running attack.

The main chance of an upset occurring lies in Pitt's seeming vulnerability to the forward pass. In several games the Sutherlands have appeared unable to stop the aerial type of attack, and if there isn't a marked brace it will be only a question of time until the weakness proves costly. Probably the Plaid will fling plenty of forwards tomorrow, and the possibility of their crossing the goal line by that route looks to be their only chance to score or to win, even though their offense has been improved otherwise by the development of Armentrout as a halfback. The chances seem to favor a Pitt victory, but only after the hardest kind of a fight.

IN THE meantime, while awaiting the Panther-Skibo struggle, local grid fans will have a chance to see their second arc-lamp college game, Duquesne being scheduled to meet Westminster tonight at Forbes Field, with Elmer Layden pulling a Knute Rockne stunt by starting a flock of second-stringers as shock troops.

Richard Fuller

Up to date the slate of the Dukes is unmarred by a defeat, and the chances favor their keeping it clean tonight. But with Richard Fuller, one of the best guards in the Tri-State Conference, Captain Russell Boone and other outstanding Westminster players keeping up the fine form they have been showing all season, it is assured that the Bluffites will not win without a struggle. The game is attractive enough in itself to bring out a big crowd, aside from the novelty of its being played under the stars.

APART from Pittsburgh's own classic, the football card at large for tomorrow offers a number of colorful games, topped by Notre Dame's tilt with Southern California and the Yale-Princeton annual renewal of gridiron hostilities that began in 1873. Victories for Notre Dame and Yale in these two numbers appear strongly possible. The big scoring machines of Colgate and Syracuse are to be tested against each other, Penn is to face Columbia, Cornell will tackle Dartmouth, Harvard will take on Holy Cross, Lafayette hooks up with Temple, West Virginia grapples with Georgetown, Chicago will clash with Illinois, Michigan with Minnesota, Purdue with Iowa, Indiana with Northwestern, Tennessee with Vanderbilt, Texas with Texas Christian, Tulane with Sewanee and Stanford with Santa Clara.

THE name of Joe McGinnity, who died in Brooklyn yesterday at the age of 58 after a hard fight for life following an operation in late August, will live long as that of the greatest "iron man" pitcher of all time.

In striking contrast to the average slab star of today who requires three or four days' rest between games, McGinnity was a glutton for work. In a single month in 1903 he pitched and won three doubleheaders for the Giants, defeating Boston 4 to 1 and 5 to 2 on August 1, Brooklyn 6 to 1 and 4 to 3 on August 8, and Philadelphia 4 to 1 and 9 to 2 on August 31.

BY A strange coincidence, death also called this week the only Pittsburgh pitcher who ever equaled one of McGinnity's three feats by winning both games of a doubleheader. Dr. Mark Baldwin, who Playing before a small but select and enthusiastic crowd of one, Pittsburgh's 1929-30 model hockey Pirates were put through their final workout at Duquesne Garden today in preparation for the local National Hockey League inaugural battle with the Montreal Maroons at the Craig street arena tomorrow night.

Harold Darragh

The small but select crowd was made up of Benny Leonard, owner of the club, who is on hand to participate in the opening game ceremonies. The "polishing up" drill was directed by Frank Frederickson, veteran center, who will make his debut as a major league pilot in tomorrow night's fight. The new Pirate skipper appeared to be well satisfied with the form shown by his men in their final workout, and both he and Leonard are confident that the Bucs are in prime condition to get away to a fast start in the new rce.

SIGN NEW STAR

Joy and gloom fought for the upper hand as Manager Frederickson contemplated his opening game lineup. The joy was occasioned by a wire received from Cliff Barton, star right wing of the Port Arthur Canadian amateur champions, in which he announced that he had accepted terms and would report in Pittsburgh tonight or tomorrow morning. Barton last season teamed up with Bud Jarvis, the Pirates' new find, on the front line that won a title for Port Arthur, and it is certain that he will be here to team up with Jarvis in the Bucs' 1929-30 get-away fray.

Jarvis says that Barton is just as skillful a performer as he (Jarvis) is, and this speaks volumes for the new addition to the Leonard forces.

Barton is a right-wing man. Should he live up to advance billing, his acquisition might result in the release of one of the local veterans.

VET'S RIB BROKEN

Injuries to Harold Darragh and Jerry Lowrey brought the gloom into Frederickson's busy day. Darragh, examined by a physician late yesterday, was found to be suffering from a fractured rib. He suffered the injury several days ago. With his side taped up, he has participated in every practice session, and he does not intend to permit his fractured rib to keep him out of the opener tomorrow.

Lowrey is suffering from a severe sprain to his right ankle. He is to have the injured member baked this afternoon, and he, too, is determined to see action in the inaugural fight.

All three of the Pirates' new stars will be ready to step into the breach should the veterans falter. Archie Briden and Cliff Barton are right-wing men who can take up any burden laid down by Darragh, and the spectacular Bud Jarvis will welcome an opportunity to pinch-hit for Lowrey on the left side. Milks, Frederickson and White are in A-1 condition for front-line duty, and the Buc defenders, Smith, McCaffrey, MacKinnon and Miller, are in top form.

The Montreal club, headed by Nels Stewart, is renowned for its battering, bruising attack, and the Pirates' hospital list probably will have grown when the Maroons have finished here.

KISKI LEAVES FOR NAVY

Kiski's last game of the season will be played tomorrow at Annapolis when the Saltsburg boys take on the Navy Plebes. The Kiski squad of 20 men left here this morning for Washington in charge of Coach Bob Mitinger and Assistant Coach Jim Marks.

Kadlic, halfback, was injured in the game against the Army Plebes last Saturday at West Point and will be unable to play against the Navy. John Fife, varsity guard, who was injured in the Pitt game, has recovered and will start against Navy.

YESTERDAY'S ANSWER—Russell Farnum, a fur trader in the employ of John Jacob Astor, actually walked from St. Louis to St. Petersburg, Russia. He took a route up through Alaska, crossing on the ice over the Bering Strait, and down through the trackless wilds of Siberia into what is now Petrograd. His remarkable journey created considerable furore at the time, and he was feted by Alexander, the Emperor of Russia. (Reference: "History of St. Louis," by Elihu Shepard, Page 51.)

BRUINS TRIM COUGARS, 5-2; RANGERS COP

DETROIT, Nov. 15.—(AP.)—The Boston Bruins, world champion National League hockey team, opened their 1929-30 season here last night with a smashing 5-to-2 victory over the Detroit Cougars in a rough and tumble battle that brought a total of 20 penalties to the two teams.

Eddie Shore, Bruin defense man, and Bad Boy of the National League, received four trips to the box during the fray.

It was a nip and tuck affair during the first period, ending up in a two-all score. Then the Bruins turned loose a driving attack that left the Cougars far behind. The lineup:

Detroit—2.		Boston—5.
Dolson	G	Thompson
Noble	R.D.	Shore
Rockburn	L.D.	Hitchman
Connors	C.	Carson
Cooper	R.W.	Oliver
Hay	L.W.	Galbraith

Detroit spares—Hicks, Hughes, Aurie, Goodfellow, Lewis, Herbert, Brophy. Boston spares—Owen, Gainer, Clapper, Weiland, Cagne, Mackay, Barry. First period—1-Detroit, Noble (Hay), :42; 2-Boston, Clapper (Weiland), 8:50; 3-Boston, Shore, 10:24; 4-Detroit, Cooper (Hay), 19:15. Penalties—Hay, Rockburn 2, Shore 2, Hicks, Clapper, Weiland. Second period—5-Boston, Weiland, 11:31; 6-Boston, Weiland (Gainer), 19:59. Penalties—Shore, Cagne, Hicks, Lewis, Connors, Goodfellow, Hitchman. Third period—7-Boston, Owen (Weiland), 18:58. Penalties—Lewis, Shore, Hughes, Goodfellow, Hitchman. Officials—Mallinson and O'Hara.

RANGERS TOP MAROONS

MONTREAL, Nov. 15.—(AP.)—The New York Rangers took Montreal's opener of the National Hockey League season from the Maroons last night by a 2-to-1 score. The teams were ragged and far from mid-season form. The lineup:

N. Y. Rangers—2.		Mont. Maroons—1.
Roach	G	Benedict
Bourbeault	L.D.	Dutton
Foster	R.D.	G. Boucher
F. Boucher	C.	Stewart
F. Cook	L.W.	Smith
W. Cook	R.W.	Siebert

Ranger spares—Thompson, Murdoch.

BELMONT, REED TO FIGHT TONIGHT

By HARRY KECK,
Sports Editor.

Jimmy Belmont, of Braddock, hard-hitting welterweight hope of the veteran James (Red) Mason, meets a capable foe in the 10-round main bout at the Moose Temple tonight when he answers the gong against Gene Reed, of Charleroi, formerly of Brownsville, the United States Navy and Los Angeles.

Jimmy Belmont

Gene, who takes the place of Rudy Ceder, of Tarentum, originally booked as Belmont's opponent, has done himself proud in two other starts around here, against Heavy Andrews, of Erie, at Motor Square Garden, and against Walter Majeske, of Saginaw, Mich., at McKeesport. He gave away a lot of weight to Andrews and made the fight throughout. In meeting Belmont he boxes one of the most improved of the local products and one who is a dangerous puncher at all times.

While stationed at San Pedro, Cal., Reed won the Pacific Fleet title in the junior-welterweight class and also competed in the all-Navy championship tournament.

Pete Mazzeo, of Cleveland, former Olympic Games star, who has boxed Howard Mayberry and other good ones, faces Jackie Rodgers in the semi-final, and the manner in which Jackie stormed all over Carl Cavelli in the same ring to score a knockout in three rounds last Friday night still is fresh in the minds of the fans. Georgie Bretsch, of the North Side, boxes Tommy Ward, of the South Side, in the second bout and Paul Balint, of the North Side, meets Al Alfano, of McKees Rocks, in the opener.

COLOMBO TO BOX MALCO

Matchmaker Jules Beck, of Motor Square Garden, last night completed his card for next Monday night's show by signing Joe Colombo, of Clarksburg, W. Va., to box Tom Malco, of Soho, in the eight-round semi-final. Colombo, a dental student, who is fighting his way through college, has shown to advantage here before. In the two preliminaries, Frank Monroe, of Fair Haven, meets Fortune Evans, Negro middleweight, of California, while Homer Reese, of the East End, engages Andy Andrucci, Young Jack Thompson, of Los Angeles, and Billy White, of Jersey City, are the main-bouters.

Dan Billick, of Duquesne, has gone on a farm near Cleveland to rest up and get over his recent one-round knockout defeat by Carl Cavelli at Motor Square Garden. He will box as a full-fledged featherweight in the future instead of weakening himself by making 122 pounds.

Walter Majeske and Marty Simmons, who have made their home in Wilkinsburg for more than a month while boxing around here, have returned to Michigan for a hunting trip and a rest. They will come back in a couple of weeks, ready for ring action again.

Ike McFowler, Johnstown Negro heavyweight, is being represented in the Pittsburgh district by Bernard Kelly, Jr., of McKeesport, who would like to match him with George Panka, Johnny Urban or any of the other big fellows.

Kickoff—8:15 p. m.

By JESS CARVER.

It has been said of Westminster College that its football teams always have one good, winning game in their makeup each year. Tonight, at Forbes Field, the United Presbyterians will attempt to work that game out against Duquesne, thereby confounding the locals in their attempt to gain undefeated record for the year and to practically clinch the Tri-State Conference championship.

Dike Beede.

So far the Titans have failed to put on an impressive act. Three games have been lost and two won. The Titans have won and lost in Conference play, downing Bethany and losing to Thiel.

Coach Dike Beede's eleven, despite the chance that tonight may be its night, enters the game with the Dukes on the very short end of the wagering and has been conceded a slight chance of winning. The triumph scored over Allegheny and Bethany hardly serve to offset defeats at the hands of Fordham, Thiel and Grove City, especially when compared with the impressive record of the local Irish.

A year ago, Westminster played its best game against Geneva, defeating the then powerful Covenanters at New Wilmington and winning an even break in the Conference standing with the Dukes. In that game Westminster was on as short end as it is today.

SHOCK TROOPS SET

Coach Layden, of the Dukes, will start his shock troops in the nocturnal encounter. Abels and Murphy will be at the ends, with Veneri and Donahue at the tackles and Follo and DeCarbo or Leonard at the guards. Barrett will be at center.

In the backfield, Layden will use young Red Sullivan at quarter, Christiana and Chalko at the halves and Trambley at full.

Two freshmen have won starting jobs for the Titans, Harry Brownlee, a track and basketball star, who matriculated at Westminster last Christmas time, and Tweedy, will be at the ends. Joe Dombrowski and Armour are slated to start at the tackles and Cleland Fuller at the guards. Capt. Russell Boone, one of the best pivot men in the district, will be at center.

Harry Michaels, Haldy, Campbell and Deicle, the latter another freshman, are to compose the starting backfield quartet.

YEA PITT; YEA TECH

The boys from Pitt and the boys from Tech, following their windup practices on respective lots this afternoon, will hie themselves to the peace and quiet of the country, there to remain until just before time to start their classic battle in The Stadium tomorrow.

The secret retreats of the two friendly (?) enemies will remain secret as far as I am concerned. The boys dine there this evening and will then undergo the usual pepping up talks, going to be with tears in their eyes and venom to all connected with (Pitt, Tech) in their hearts. This will promptly wear off during the night and they'll take the field tomorrow a pair of cool and calm football teams.

Following yesterday's last hard drill, at both camps, the situation as regards probable startling lineups is as is has been all week. Pitt's is set, (though there may be a change at one position) and Carnegie's remains a mystery.

TECH LINEUP MYSTERY

From end to end, on the line, the Skibos may start in this fashion, Rosenzweig, Highberger, Yerina, Ducanis, Dreshar, Schnupp and Latham Flanagan. Then, Fletcher might get in there at left guard, with Bob Schmidt being used at right tackle in place of Schnupp, who can be shifted to a guard and Dreshar moved over the ball, benching Ducanis. John English is a alternate at right end for Flanagan.

In the backfield, McCurdy appears to be the likely starter at quarterback, with Eyth and Slats Flanagan at the halves and John Karcis at full. Armentrout, Morbito, Carlson, Kerr and Kennedy are not without possibilities as starting backs.

For Pitt, the regular lineup will be employed on the job of kicking off the Tartans. Donchess and Rip Collins win the call for ends. MacMurdo and Tully start as tackles and Montgomery and Di-Meolo as guards. Daugherty will be at center.

Eddie Baker sticks at quarterback, Toby Uansa at left half and Tom Parkinson at full. Josh Williams will be at right half, though if something should happen to the farmer lad, Whitey Walinchus or Jimmy (Boot 'em) Rooney will be used.

SNORTS

The Fordham-Thiel game, orig-ally billed for Fordham's own field in New York tomorrow has been transferred to the Polo Grounds. So popular have the charges of Major Cavanaugh become in New York that their field has become too small to handle the big crowds.

The play on which Joe Knapik, star Geneva halfback, was injured in the game with Waynesburg Monday should never have occurred. Knapik caught a punt on the sidelines, and one of his feet slipped out of bounds. Linesman Frissell was on the play and promptly blew his whistle, but Knapik evidently did not hear it and started to run across the field. Four Waynesburg men followed him and all seemed to hit him at

HARPSTER PICKS PITT TO WIN OVER TECH

PANTHERS OUT FOR CLEAN RECORD

By Howard Harpster

All-American Quarterback at Carnegie Tech, 1928, Coach of This Year's Undefeated Shady Side Academy Team.

In these days of modern football, when every college is represented by a strong team, it is no easy task for any one of them to go through an entire season undefeated. A team which can accomplish such a difficult feat certainly must be unusually good, and it must have on its squad a group of substitute players who are not noticeably inferior to the regulars in playing ability. The schedules which major college teams of today are required to play are indeed difficult and, in a majority of cases, they call for hard games every Saturday.

Howard Harpster

The first barrier to an undefeated season is the possibility of injury to one or more of the team's best players. Only occasionally does a team play through an entire season and have its full strength available for each game.

Then, too, the substitutes must be called upon to relieve the regulars and to give them an occasional rest, for it would be impossible for the same eleven to play a full 60 minutes of each game without sacrificing a great amount of its effectiveness.

MENTAL ATTITUDE FACTOR

The most difficult thing, however, that a coach has to contend with in playing a hard schedule is in having his players keyed up and in the right mental attitude for each game. It is a well-known fact that if a team plays a hard game one Saturday, in which the players are highly aroused, the following week there is very likely to be a noticeable letdown. In other words, only an outstanding team, well fortified with substitutes, can be at its best for every game.

A very good example of the point I am trying to make is illustrated by a series of games which were played last fall.

You will remember that early in the season, Notre Dame pointed for Army and won by a 12-6 score. The following Saturday, Carnegie Tech set itself for Notre Dame and surprised it with a 27-7 victory. It was only a week later that a New York University team defeated Carnegie Tech, 27-13. Just five days after the New York U.-Carnegie Tech game, the Oregon Aggies came East and won from New York U. in a surprising victory by the score of 25-13.

In each of the instances cited, the team which had been victorious on one Saturday let down the following week, showing the difficulty encountered in keeping a team at its best playing form during a series of hard games.

PITT, NOTRE DAME BEST

At this time it appears that Notre Dame and the University of Pittsburgh have the best chances of going through the 1929 season with a clean record. Remaining on the Notre Dame schedule are games with Southern California, Northwestern and Army, while Pitt has only Carnegie Tech and Penn State standing in its way for a perfect season.

The Pitt-Tech game, which is scheduled for tomorrow in The Stadium, promises to be one of the most interesting games that these rivals have staged in a long time.

Pitt, with an undefeated season and a trip to California as its goal, will be playing for all it is worth and attempt to keep its slate clean. Carnegie, on the other hand, will be playing hard to make a good showing and thereby make up for its tie with W. & J., and its defeat at the hands of Notre Dame.

Pitt has a great team and Coach Sutherland's fine record has been recognized everywhere as one of the best in the country. With victories over such powerful opponents as Duke University, West Virginia, Nebraska, Ohio State and W. & J., the Pitt team ranks a strong favorite over Carnegie, whose record for this season has not been very impressive.

CLOSE GAME EXPECTED

However, the Pitt-Tech game each year is one in which the rival teams care little for previous records, and, although Pitt should win tomorrow by two touchdowns, the game will not be by any means a walkaway.

Tech has shown a fairly stubborn defense in its games to date, but offensively it has had rather hard going and the Carnegie boys will have to show a much better display of offensive power than they have displayed so far this season if they expect to gain against Pitt's strong defense.

Uansa and Parkinson are the two boys Carnegie must stop, and to date none of Pitt's opponents have come even close to checking either one of the Panther stars.

Both teams are in good physical condition for the battle, and each will be ready to give its best exhibition of the season.

In the good old days Benny Leonard, retired undefeated lightweight boxing champion, used to sign for fights. Since purchasing the Pittsburgh Hockey Club last year he has become adept in signing checks, and, last night, at a celebration at the Y. M. & W. H. TROJANS REACH CHICAGO

CHICAGO, Nov. 15.—(AP.)—The University of Southern California football team, 50 strong, arrived in Chicago today determined and confident for its big intersectional clash with Notre Dame's undefeated eleven on Soldier Field tomorrow.

Shortly after their arrival, the Trojans went to Stagg Field at the University of Chicago for a warming up drill and Coach Howard Jones said every man was ready and fit for action.

Typical football weather, clear and crisp, was the weather man's promise for the game, which will be witnessed by approximately 120,000 fans.

Thiel Gridders Lose Uniforms in Fire

GREENVILLE, Pa., Nov. 15.—A small fire in the Thiel College gymnasium yesterday, only a few hours before the team was to leave for a game with Fordham at New York City, destroyed several football uniforms which were to have been taken on the trip.

The fire started in some unexplained manner in a large clothes dryer. The uniforms had been placed in the dryer when the squad left the practice field the night before, but the heater had been lighted only a few minutes yesterday when the fire broke out.

The football pants for the entire squad were burned, along with the practice jerseys, sweatshirts, socks and a few shoes. The team had enough reserve equipment on hand so that it will not be handicapped.

The Carleton brothers, one playing at Columbia and the other at Penn, both wear the same number, 21. Unfortunately an injury to the Penn member of the combination prevents their clashing in tomorrow's game.

Graduate Manager Holohan of Duquesne has completed arrangements for an orderly handling of the crowd at tonight's game at Forbes Field. The Duquesne students entrance has been changed from the Schenley Park portal to the Bouquet street entrance, next to the Press gate.

Extra lights have been strung on the front and side of the ball park and more policemen engaged to handle the boys before they get into the joint. Professional ticket sellers will be in the box office and on the gates. The crashing business figures to take a licking.

Waynesburg's Yellow Jackets will leave today for Mendville, where they play Allegheny tomorrow afternoon at Montgomery Field. A winning streak of three in a row, and tough ones, too, will be nursed by the wolfpack in tomorrow's game.

Bethany heads for Buckhannon W. Va., today. Tomorrow, the Bisons meet the Wesleyan Bobcats in the Cats' annual Homecoming Day classic. The contest will mark the last home appearance of Wesleyan's famous backfield, Battles, Batchel, Young and Rodriguez.

Geneva is in Boston today for its second game this week. Tomorrow, the Covenanters play Boston University. Geneva beat the Beaneaters a year ago.

Grove City has an easy one for its week-end game. The Grovers play Marshall College of West Virginia at Huntington.

died last Sunday, defeated Brooklyn 13 to 3 and 8 to 4, while pitching for the Pirates in a dual bill on September 12, 1891.

Joe McGinnity

The Pittsburgh club twice was the victim of doubleheader victories pitched by National League hurlers. Al Demaree, while with the Phillies, beat the Bucs 7 to 0 and 3 to 2, on September 20, 1916, and Fred Toney, while with the Reds, downed the locals 4 to 1 and 5 to 1, on July 1, 1917.

ONLY one pitcher in the majors ever won both games of a double-header by the shut-out route. The hurler to accomplish that feat was Ed Reulbach, of the Cubs, who defeated Brooklyn 5 to 0 and 3 to 0 on September 26, 1908. Grover Lowdermilk, of the Browns, beat the Cardinals in the first game of a city series double-header in St. Louis on October 7, 1917, 2 to 0, and also blanked them in the second contest, but his own club also failed to score in this event and the game ended in a scoreless tie. Other pitchers to win both games of double-headrs were Grover Alexander, of the Phillies, and Ed Walsh, of the White Sox, twice each, McGinnity's closest rivals; Charley Ferguson, of the Phillies; Frank Owen, of the White Sox; Arthur Davenport, of the Browns; Poll Perritt, of the Giants; Bill Doak, of the Cardinals; Carl Mays, of the Red Sox; John Stuart, of the Browns; Herman Bell, of the Cardinals; Urban Shocker, of the Browns, and Emil Levsen, of the Indians.

RULES DEPRIVE HILL OF CUT IN SERIES

By CHARLES J. DOYLE

Spectacled baseball stars have given the sport a very interesting turn, but this is a bad year for them.

Carmen Hill, late of the Pirates, has just been relieved of $1,000 by Judge Landis; George Toporcer has been expelled from the game for a year, while Lee Meadows saw 1929 write his unconditional release from the big leagues.

"There's nothing I can do about it, I guess," said Hill today. "The judge seems to have dug up a rule that was new to most of us. I was with the Pirates almost up to the first of September, and after the boys had voted me a share I felt I was entitled to it."

LOSES MONEY

Hill also disclosed that he will not receive any of the fourth-place money from the Cardinals. So here we have the inconsistent picture of an athlete giving his best through a year for two clubs that finished in the money without getting a cent of the spoils. The Judge ought to try that one out on his equity pianola. The rule is in the book, nevertheless, unfair as it is in this specific case.

Carmen, by the way, has taken a position with a local automobile company. He will be associated with H. J. Hetzler, formerly of Franklin, who is a close friend of Joe Harris and the big Corry pitcher. The spectacled athlete already has started on his duties and he plans to make his winter home in Pittsburgh.

Hill is well satisfied with his berth in St. Louis, even with Willie McKechie pulling out for Boston. Carmen and Gabby Street, new manager, played ball together some years back and the Corry giant has a wholesome respect for Street, both as a man and a leader.

HAS AILING BACK

An ailing back almost took Hill out of the Pirate lineup last season. Carmen has been advised to take some extensive treatment for the bad spot during the winter months. He has been advised that his tonsils may be causing part of the trouble and if a test shows as much he will have them removed.

Hill's trouble has the effect of making him lose his stuff after the fourth or fifth inning. The tender place can be tolerated for a part of the game, but the wear and tear of a full battle is too much.

In the event that the big fellow finds relief for his trouble he should prove a winning pitcher in the majors for seasons to come. He is smart on the mound and when his curves and fast-ball are at his command he is a tough hurler to penetrate.

HONOLULU, Nov. 15.—(AP.)—Over the tricky Waialae course, 33 golfers of the United States, Japan, the Philippine Islands and Hawaii start this afternoon on the first 18 holes of the second annual Hawaiian $6,000 open golf championship.

Among the mainland golfers expected to place well up in the finals, if not carry away the title, are Horton Smith, of Joplin, Mo.; Tommy Armour, of Detroit; Gene Sarazen and Billy Burke, of New York, and Johnny Dawson, of Chicago.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Nov. 15.—(AP.) The $25,000 Agua Caliente open golf tournament, which will be played in January on the new Mexican course south of here, will be limited to 90 entrants.

Yank Officials Off To Sign Babe Ruth

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—(INS.)—Col. Jacob Ruppert and Edward G. Barrow were here enroute to French Lick today for a conference in seclusion before signing on Babe Ruth for a new contract.

It is understood here that the slugger's contract would be made out for only one season, even if it necessitated a larger payment than the Babe has been demanding for a two-year contract. Babe has made it known he is asking $85,000 for a one-year contract, and $75,000 for a two-year document.

Ruth has just completed his three-year contract under which he netted $70,000 per annum.

Notre Dame 7-5 Favorite to Beat U. S. C.

CHICAGO, Nov. 15.—(INS.)—Bank notes as well as opinions today favored Notre Dame to whip Southern California in the intersectional game here tomorrow.

Notre Dame ruled a 7-to-5 favorite in most of the wagering. Some of the more staunch supporters of the Irish championship hopes were willing to wager 3 to 2 on a Notre Dame victory.

STUDENTS EGG DEAN'S HOME

DES MOINES, Ia., Nov. 15.—(AP.)—Student revolt against the attitude of Drake University authorities toward the campus warfare with Iowa State College as a prelude to the school's football game at Ames tomorrow flared into open indignation early today with a rotten egg bombardment of the home of R. O. Davies, dean of men.

Davies last night refused to consider a petition asking for the reinstatement of six Drake students who were suspended for painting signs on Iowa State buildings and sidewalks yesterday. He told the group who presented the petition that it would have to come through the student council before he would consider it.

In retaliation, a dozen or more students came to his home shortly after midnight this morning and at 1 a. m. rushed to the house and plastered the front of it with eggs.

They disappeared in three automobiles before they could be identified.

Shortly before the egg episode, an effigy of Dean Davies, bearing a sign "Dean Hawkshaw" was hung on the campus in front of the administration building.

Pitt, Tech Harriers In Race Tomorrow

The Panther and Tartan of Pitt and Carnegie Tech meet in cross-country as well as in football tomorrow, when harriers of the two schools race over a five and three-eighths mile course in Schenley Park at 11 in the morning, for the hill-and-dale championship of the city. The varsity run is to be preceded by a chase of three miles between freshmen teams of Pitt and Tech.

The Carnegie harriers will face the starter tomorrow, in the last meet of the year for both teams, with a better record to date than their Pitt rivals. After dropping a close race to West Virginia by a 25-to-30 score early in the season, the Tartans have trounced hill-and-dalers of both Westminster and Geneva. The Technites also hold an edge through their win at the expense of the Panthers by a one-point margin in last year's setto.

Babcock to Be Host To Shady Side Squad

Fred C. Babcock, son of County Commissioner E. V. Babcock, and star guard of the Shady Side Academy football team, will be host at a banquet to be given the members of the squad and their fathers at the Longue Vue Country Club at 7:30 tomorrow evening.

Howard Harpster, coach of the team and other members of the athletic department also will attend. Among the guests will be Clarence E. Overend, Carnegie Tech graduate manager.

Foundation Official Raps Paid Athletes

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—(INS.)—College athletes accepting financial aid are false to sport ideals, declared Dr. Howard J. J. Savage, co-author of the Carnegie Foundation report, in the current issue of "Sportsmanship."

Coaches and directors who approve or do not attempt to suppress such practices are "teaching young men dishonesty," he also declared.

SIR JOSHUA, 7-1 CHOICE, WINS DERBY CUP

DERBY, England, Nov. 15.—(AP.)—Sir Joshua, aged gelding owned by Maj. F. B. Sneyd, won the Derby Cup today by a short head from the Aga Khan's Silver Hussar. Bonny Boy II, owned by M. E. St. Alary, of France, in third place, was only another short head behind.

The winner, by Gainsborough out of Jessica, started at 7-to-1 against second at 100 to 8 and third at 15 to 2. The distance was a mile and three-quarters and 14 ran.

This is nearly the last meeting of the flat racing season. Only one more important handicap remains, the Manchester November handicap, which will wind up the season on November 23.

Yankee Officials To Prepare Ruth Contract

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—(AP.)—Col. Jacob Ruppert and Edward Grant Barrow, holders of the Yankees' purse strings, have departed for a session at French Lick to prepare themselves for the ordeal of signing Babe Ruth to a new contract. The Babe had just served out a three-year document calling for $70,000.

Ruth has informed friends that he will ask $85,000 for one year or $75,000 a season for two years. Negotiations with Ruth, Barrow said, would not be completed until some time in December. The business manager himself will return from French Lick in time for the Notre Dame-Army game at the Yankee Stadium on November 30, but Col. Ruppert will remain at the resort until time to depart for Chattanooga, where the minor leagues will meet early in December.

Greene County School Title At Stake

WAYNESBURG, Pa., Nov. 15.—The Greene County scholastic football championship for the present season will be decided this afternoon, when Carmichaels and Jefferson high schools meet at Carmichaels. With seven consecutive victories and no defeats, Jefferson is rated a slight favorite, although they will be outweighed by Carmichaels. Jefferson has not yet been scored on this season, although they have played all other leading teams in the county except Carmichaels.

JACKETS LEAVE FOR MEADVILLE

WAYNESBURG, Pa., Nov. 15.—The Waynesburg College football team, leading contenders for the district Class B football championship, left here this morning for Meadville, where tomorrow they meet Allegheny College, the outcome of which will have an important bearing on the district title.

A squad of 24 players, in addition to a student manager and trainer, was taken on the trip. Faculty Manager James M. Miller, and Head Coach Frank Wolf, are in charge of the team. Tonight will be spent at Saeggertown, the Yellow Jacket party planning to proceed to Meadville shortly before game-time.

Pitt, W. Va. Frosh Battle Tomorrow

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., Nov. 15.—Still undefeated and with only a scoreless deadlock with the Carnegie Tech Plebes to blemish an otherwise clean record, the West Virginia University freshmen grid outfit will meet the University of Pittsburgh Plebes here tomorrow afternoon in a game which will have considerable bearing on the "Little Four" grid championship for the season.

The Little Mountaineer Plaid yearling tie game and the victory of the Tartan juniors over the Panther Cubs Monday afternoon, 7-6, places the West Virginia frosh outfit in an uncompromising situation and a victory over the Pitt Plebes is imperative if Trusty Tallman's team is to gain even a titular deadlock with the Tech freshmen.

BENNY LEONARD ENTERTAINS AT MITT SHOW

Benny Leonard, retired undefeated lightweight champion of the world and present owner of the Pittsburgh Hockey Club, was well in the limelight at the local Y. M. & W. H. A. last night, first entertaining his locmen at a banquet, and then entertaining the fans during an amateur boxing show.

After being introduced to the fans, Leonard told them of his fights with Johnny Kilbane and Freddie Welsh. Needless to say he received a big hand.

In the main bout of the boxing card, Mose Butch, of the Willow Club, 118-pound titleholder, won the decision over Joey Leonard, of the Pittsburgh Lyceum, in a great battle. Marty Gornick, of the Duke O'Hara Club, defeated Eddie Hebner, of Clairton A. C., in another good contest. The summary:

112-pound class—Matt Callagher, Hazelwood A. A., knocked out Alfonso Elizond Duke O'Hara Club, in two rounds.

118-pound class—Mose Butch, Willow Club, won from Joey Leonard, Pittsburgh Lyceum, three rounds, decision.

126-pound class—James Kemper, Superior A. C., won from Jimmy Loises, Duke O'Hara Club, three rounds, decision.

135-pound class—Marty Gornick, Duke O'Hara Club, won from Eddie Hebner, Clairton A. C., three rounds, decision; Simon Brown, Willow Club, won from Denver Gravely, West Newton A. C., three rounds, decision; Chuck Mullins, Twenty-seventh Ward A. C., won from Fighting Dick Pritchard, Pittsburgh Lyceum, on a foul in the first round.

147-pound class—Max Ellin, Willow Club, won from Larry Signs, Duke O'Hara Club, four rounds, decision.

WANTS TILT

YOUNGSTOWN, Nov. 15.—South High, of Youngstown, is looking for a football game for November 23, to fill an open date on the schedule. Any first class high school team interested in making the trip to Youngstown is asked to telephone or telegraph Coach Russell G. Ashbaugh.

SCHENLEY BATTLES WESTINGHOUSE TODAY

CITY CROWN HINGES ON OUTCOME

SCHOLASTIC SCORES

Carrick, 12; Perry, 7.
Peabody, 12; South, 0.

For the second year in succession, Schenley High School stands squarely in the path of the Westinghouse High gridiron juggernaut, seeking to roll onward to another City League gridiron title. These two elevens meet on Schenley's field today in the classic battle of the Section I campaign.

For the past few seasons, winning the Section I title has been tantamount to winning the city flag, so the victor today can be accounted all but "in" and the 1929 champion.

TOPS DAY'S CARD

Westinghouse will enter the game a favorite, principally because of its decisive win over Peabody last week. Peabody held Schenley to a scoreless tie.

This game tops the day's scholastic card, which includes two fracases in Section II. Langley meets South Hills on its own gridiron and Oliver and Allegheny tussle at Oliver field.

OLIVER, ALLEGHENY MEET

Allegheny and Oliver, with nothing in the way of a title chance at stake, are expected to put on a great battle on the North Side. The two teams battled to a tie last year and also in 1927.

In a feature W. P. I. A. L. intersectional game, Ben Avon will invade Dormont for a game with the up and coming Dormonters. The South Hills eleven has been coming along in fine fashion, winning five out of seven games.

In games played yesterday, Carrick High set down Perry High, 12 to 7, in their Section 2, City League battle, while South High was shut out by Peabody, 12 to 0. The lineups:

Carrick High—12.		Perry High—7.
Hirt	L.E.	Ochsenhirt
Linhart	L.T.	Goodman
Carapellucci	L.G.	Curtis
Doyle	C.	Brandt

Touchdowns—Noonan, Wilson. Referee—Dennis. Umpire—Atkinson. Head linesman—Bolder.

BELMONT, REED TO FIGHT

ton has been set back an additional week to December 2. It originally was slated for next Monday night and then postponed to November 25. The arena will not be available for this date, causing the second change.

AMATEURS AT CLEVELAND

The team of local amateur boxers that lost an intercity meet with Cleveland at the P. A. A. last Saturday night is in Cleveland for a return engagement tonight.

Charley Tarzan, middleweight, formerly of Rochester, Pa., who now is boxing in Columbus, plans to study for the Free Methodist ministry, continuing his boxing career to earn money to keep his wife and two children. When he last boxed around here, less than a year ago, it was under the name of Charley Wolf.

Jersey City, N. J., which produced Frankie Burns, the Shugrue brothers, Irish Johnny Curtin and Johnny Buff, all good fighters, now has a new idol in the person of Harry Carlton, a young Irish junior-lightweight, who is being managed by Lew Brown, of New York, and meets Dominick Volante, of England, in one of the 10-round preliminaries to the Maxie Rosenbloom-Jimmy Braddock bout in Madison Square Garden, New York, tonight. Among the men he already has fought are Gaston Charles, Jose Martinez, Georgie Baldue, Jack Bernstein and Al Ridgway. Leonard Zazzarino and Dominick Petrone are in another 10-rounder at the Garden.

Harry Lenny, of New York, wants to show his two stars here. They are Paul Swiderski, the Polish heavyweight, of Binghamton, N. Y., who has boxed Lou Barba, George Courtney, Jake Warren, Tiger Payne, Tom Kirby, Jimmy Braddock, Pete Latzo and Joe Monte, among others, and Al Ridgway, the highly-touted featherweight champion of New Jersey.

MINELLA VS. MASTRO

Johnny Minella, of Detroit, has been matched to box Earl Mastro, the Chicago featherweight star, at Detroit next Friday night. Leo Lomski and Charley Belanger meet there tonight, at the Olympia, where Scotty Monteith is matchmaker.

Bud Taylor boxes Santiago Zorilla in the main bout at the Chicago Coliseum tonight. Vince Dundee and My Sullivan are in the semi-final.

Al Wolgast, brother of the famous Ad, former world lightweight champion, has been matched to box Young Rudy, of Charleroi, in the 10-round main bout at McKeesport next Thursday night.

Andy Martin boxes Sailor Fay Kosky in a return bout in Boston tonight. Joe Glick is in with Eddie Murdock at Hollywood, Cal.

Now that Izzy Schwartz has retired from the ring, following his recent beating by Gene Huat in the New York flyweight elimination tournament, Willie LaMorte, of Jersey City is back under the management of Phil Bernstein, who, it is said, handled both of them when they fought recently in Jersey City, with LaMorte winning the decision and gaining recognition in that state as flyweight champion. Incidentally, LaMorte alleges in an interview that Izzy wanted him to "dive" for him or claim a broken hand along about the fourth round, and that he received only 5 per cent of the receipts for his end while Schwartz dragged down 50 per cent.

GRAHAM-O'DOWD GO SOUGHT

Promoter Harry Sully, of Columbus, is angling for a Bushy Graham-Midget Mike O'Dowd bout for December 2.

Billy Drasko, German welterweight, formerly of Hamburg, who was boxing in his native land when Hans Roberts, the local sensation, was competing as an amateur over there, meets Bowers Baldwin, of Philadelphia, in the main bout of a show at the Cambria A. C., in Philadelphia, tonight. Drasko has boxed Joe Dundee and many of the other leading men in his class in the several years he has been campaigning in this country.

Sharon High Sees Oil City as Tough

SHARON, Pa., Nov. 15.—Sharon High gridders will try the "iron man" stunt tomorrow when they step out against Oil City High, at Oil City.

The locals met and defeated Farrell, one of their rivals, last Monday in the Armistice Day feature. And that gave Coach David Stewart and his charges only four days in which to get ready for the Oilers, coached by Alex Fox, former Pitt star.

Stewart gave his men a rest Tuesday afternoon but practices were resumed in great style on Wednesday.

There is no overconfidence in local ranks. Oil City was beaten by Sharpsville and Meadville, two teams which Sharon licked, yet Coach Stewart is of the opinion that Sharpsville and Meadville were at their best against the Fox men.

W.-J. WINDS UP HOME SEASON

WASHINGTON, Pa., Nov. 15.—The final tilt of the Washington and Jefferson College home gridiron season is daily looming as more important as reports of the intensive preparation being made by Wittenberg, invader for the struggle, drift into the Wash-Jeff camp. The Ohioans are coming here tomorrow fired by the vision of turning back the powerful President machine, and beginning the grid relationship of the two schools by hanging up a win on the Lutheran side of the ledger.

Coaches Ray Ride and Bill Amos are driving the Red and Black varsity this week with two objects in view. One of these is the Wittenberg struggle and the other the contest at Morgantown on Thanksgiving Day with the University of West Virginia Mountaineers. Through some uncanny manner, the West Virginians always pull a lean season out of the fire by turning in on the holiday and administering a sound thrashing to the invading Presidents. It is believed that this jinx will have run its course when the teams come off the field this fall.

While the varsity is taking on the "Fighting Lutherans" at College Field tomorrow afternoon, Pete Henry will take the Wash-Jeff frosh eleven to Morgantown for the annual encounter with the Mountaineer first-year men. The Vice Presidents have had anything but a successful year, losing to Pitt and Tech plebes and to the Kiski outfit. They are primed for the Morgantown contest and will present a strong front to the enemy at Mountaineer Field.

Uniontown Remains In Grid Title Race

UNIONTOWN, Nov. 15.—Uniontown High School apparently stands in the way of high school football teams aspiring to the Fayette County championship. In fact, Uniontown has a mighty fine chance to land the honor if the local eleven can down German Township in the battle scheduled for November 23 here.

Uniontown trounced Redstone, 7-0, on the latter's field and then Redstone nosed out German, 8-6, on the McClellandtown field. If Uniontown can defeat German, it seems most improbable that either German or Redstone, two of the chief contenders, can be awarded premier honors. But if German can down Uniontown here then the State College Alumni cup no doubt will be awarded to that school.

Following is an official record of the Fayette County high schools:

	W.	L.	Total Score	Opp. Score
German	5	1	195	20
Redstone	5	1	164	26
Masontown	5	1	137	26
Belle Vernon	4	1	137	41
Georges	5	2	163	70
Uniontown	4	2	67	53
Fayette City	3	2	80	66
Point Marion	3	2	59	80
Dunbar	4	3	109	76
Connellsville	3	4	105	92
North Union	2	4	75	92
All Saints	2	4	79	160
Perryopolis	1	4	19	105

WEST VIEW READY FOR OLYMPICS

By TOM BIRKS.

The West View Football Club, in preparation for its game with the Iverson Olympics of McKeesport, went through its final drill last evening, and the conclusion found Manager Paul Muzzio elated at the vim and bustle the boys put into their work.

"The defeat at the hands of McChesneytown last week possibly was the best thing that ever happened to my squad. The team was over-confident, and now they realize that West View can be beaten and will play with a different spirit," stated the irrepressible Muzzio.

One thing about this fellow Muzzio, he certainly has taken the defeat with a better spirit than most men would have. He signed the contract when the Latrobers were unbeaten, but never whined and cried he should have had a clause canceling the contract, and he has come out of the ordeal with due credit, and everyboby likes the fellow who is a real sport. Now the question is, "can the Olympics score a touchdown through that perfect line?" and this will be countered with another question, "will West View be able to cross the Olympics' goal line and become the first team to do so this season!" Mussio reports that Klinzing and Koelsh are in fine shape, and this should improve the backfield.

PLAY ON NORTH SIDE

On the North Side, McChesneytown will be meeting Hope-Harvey. Art Rooney's club also being undefeated, will it suffer the same fate West View suffered? Rooney says with Levey in shape, together with Vaughan and Whitmore, his club will be undefeated when it meets West View the following Sunday, but he realizes McChesneytown has a great line and a good backfield.

One of the best games of the season will be flashed at the Quarry Stadium, East Pittsburgh, when Monessen Olympics, one of the best teams in the district, clash with the Firemen. Monessen has been going like a whirlwind, defeating Smock A. C., Charleroi Whippets and Erwin Mohawks, since its defeat at the hands of the McKeesport Olympics. Jack Miers feels Monessen will avenge that last-minute defeat of last season.

At Midland on Sunday, Doc Benedict's club will meet the Library Tigers. This game is for the benefit of Hibbert, who formerly played with Midland, but who lost a foot in a mill accident. Hibbert will be remembered as playing with St. John's in the City Baseball League. The unfortunate accident finished his athletic career.

WANTS TO PLAY HERE

Benedict wants to show his club in Pittsburgh before the close of the season. Concrete, former Carrick player, is starring for Midland. He watched the McChesneytown-West View battle, and stated openly that Midland can beat both clubs. Midland only has lost one game, that was to Burns, 7 to 6. What Benedict says about that game is plenty.

One big game will be staged in the Oakland district, and this battle will be a local affair with Oakland Community and the Lawrenceville Mohawks playing. This natural rivalry should be good for the game, and a great crowd is expected.

The only local session to follow will be the meeting between Oakland and rGeenfield Community clubs. Being situated on either side of the Hollow, it should be a natural from a box office standpoint.

CANUCKS, SENATORS TIE

OTTAWA, Nov. 15.—(AP.)—The Montreal Canadiens and the youthful Ottawa Senators fought through 70 minutes of hectic hockey to a 3-3 tie in the opening tilt of the National Hockey League schedule here last night. The lineup:

Canadiens.		Ottawa.
Hainsworth	G.	Connell
S. Mantha	D.	Clancy
Burke	D.	A. Smith
Morenz	C.	Lamb
Joliat	W.	H. Kilrea
Wasnie	W.	Finnigan

Third period — Canadiens, Joliat (Burke), 10:35. Penalties—Martha 2, Burke, Morenz, Finnigan 2, Touhey, Grosvenor, Kilrea.

Braves Purchase Berger From Angeles

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 15.—(AP.)—Walter Berger, right fielder of the Los Angeles Baseball Club, yesterday was traded to the Boston Braves for two players and an unnamed consideration, Oscar Richow, business manager announced.

In return for Berger, the Angeles will receive Arthur Delaney, right handed hurler, who was formerly with the Oakland Club, of the Pacific Coast League, and the veteran outfielder, George Harper.

Westminster Outweighs Dukes

Although weight has not meant much to Elmer Layden's Duquesne University Dukes this season as is shown by their victories over the heavier teams of Chicago Loyola, Geneva College, Albion and Catholic University of America and their tie with the mighty West Virginia University gridders, the Red and Blue warriors again will be outweighed when they line up against Westminster College at Forbes Field, tonight. Figures show that the average weight of the Duke team is 164 pounds, whereas that of the Titans is 169 8-11 pounds. The Westminster line, being 177 3-7, while the Duquesne average is 162 6-7, outweighs the Laydenmen by 14 4-7 pounds. The backfields which will start are almost even, the Titans having only one-half pound edge on the Dukes, the backs averaging 166 and 166¼ pounds respectively.

ED BRANNON, CORSEY DRAW

Despite the fact he won at least six of the 10 rounds, lost three and held his own in another, Eddie Brannon, clever Hill District Negro only got a draw in his main bout with Young Corsey, Canton newsboy, last night at the Palisades, McKeesport.

Several weeks ago, in the same ring, Corsey took a decision over Brannon in a six-round affair, giving the Negro lad an artistic trimming, but last night Brannon fought a different battle, carrying the fight to his Italian opponent and landing hard with his right to the head and body. He took the first three rounds by comfortable margins, was held even in the fourth, lost the fifth, sixth and seventh rounds, and then came back to win the remaining sessions. Brannon came in at 133¾, while Corsey scaled 140¼.

George Panka, heavyweight sensation of Homestead, fighting his first 10-round bout, won easily over Ray (Babe) Fay, the Charleroi veteran. Panka fought a beautiful fight, landing hard and often with his short right uppercut and terrific left hook. He wore down Fay in the infighting, had him bleeding freely from the nose, mouth and a cut over the left eye and plenty groggy before the bout ended. Panka took every round except the fifth and sixth. He weighed 198½, against 180½.

Sammy Paris, of Pittsburgh, won the decision over Bus Hardy, of Beaver Falls, in the second bout of six rounds. Several times Hardy shook up Sammy with stiff rights to the jaw. Paris weighed 123, while Hardy scaled 126½.

In the other, Allen Beatty, McKeesport Negro, making a comeback after an absence of nine months from the ring, knocked out Luther McCarthy, of Butler, after two minutes of fighting in the third round.

AL FRIEDMAN WINS

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 15.—(AP.)—Al Friedman, of Boston, won a newspaper decision over Big Sid Terris, Chapel Hill, in a 10-round go here last night.

New Downtown Golf Club to Open Tonight

The new Downtown Golf Club, on the second floor in 313 Fourth avenue, will be formally opened by the Loeffler brothers, Ben, professional at the Valley Heights Country Club, and Archie, former Willow Springs (San Antonio, Tex.) Country Club pro, tonight, with elaborate ceremonies.

MOUNTAINEERS IN CAPITAL

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., Nov. 15.—(AP.)—Twenty-eight members of the West Virginia football squad entrained last night for Washington, D. C., scene tomorrow of the annual clash with Georgetown. They arrived there this morning. A short signal drill on a wet gridiron completed preparations of the Mountaineers, who are attempting a comeback after the crushing defeat administered last week by Detroit.

A special train bearing the West Virginia University band and the football fans leaves for the capital tonight.

PALMO, SAYLOR DRAW

CLARKSBURG, W. Va., Nov. 15.—Frankie Palmo, 150 pounds, Cincinnati, and Young Saylor, 150 pounds, of Charleroi, Pa., battled to a draw in the main go here last night. Tiger Dick Clark, Cincinnati, outpointed Dave Davies, Charleroi, in six rounds. Young Hendrickson, Akron, outpointed Louie Colombo, Clarksburg, and Young Reddy, Clarksburg, and K. O. Postolwait, Weston, W. Va., fought a draw.

STOCK MARKET RALLY GAINS MOMENTUM

Scores of Issues Carried 2 to 20 Points Up—Some Recessions Made at Close

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—(AP.)—The recovery in stock prices, which started yesterday, gained considerable momentum today from a series of constructive financial developments. Trading failed to maintain the pace set yesterday, or the day before, but there was a steady demand for the seasoned dividend paying issues, scores of which were carried up to 2 to 20 points. A few specialties recorded even larger gains.

The reduction from 5 to 4½ per cent in the New York Federal Reserve rediscount rate, which accompanied a further decrease of $710,000,000 in brokers' loans, was followed today by a lowering of acceptance and time money rates and a drop in the call money renewal rate to 5½ per cent, the lowest level since August, 1928. Little business was being done in the time money market because of the recent rapid changes in rates.

TRADE NEWS MIXED

The day's business news was rather mixed in character. Youngstown dispatches reported a lowering of steel operations in the Mahoning and Shenango Valleys, due, in part, to a reduced demand from automotive manufacturers. Directors of Prairie Pipe Line and Prairie Oil companies declared extra dividends out of large profits piled up earlier in the year.

Otis Elevator ran up 35 points, Detroit Edison 33, and Ingersoll Rand, American Machine and Foundry, J. I. Case, American Tobacco A, Columbian Carbon, R. H. Macy, and Allied Chemical sold 16 to 20 points higher. Johns Manville ran up 14¼, Underwood-Elliott-Fisher 13, and General Electric, Eastman Kodak, Missouri Pacific common and U. S. Industrial Alcohol advanced 10 to 11 points.

SOME RECEDE

U. S. Steel common moved up to 167, an overnight gain of 7 points, and then eased to 165. Moderate recessions also took place in some of the other leaders on week-end profit-taking in the last half hour.

The close was strong. Total sales were 4,329,600 shares.

CHICAGO BOARD

CHICAGO, Nov. 15.—Material fresh upturns in wheat values here took place early today owing to Liverpool quotations much higher than due and because of stock market advances. Word that black rust might reduce wheat yields in Argentina tended to promote speculative buying. Opening ½ cent to 1⅞ cents higher, Chicago wheat afterward showed further gains. Corn, oats and provisions were also firmer, with corn starting ⅛ cent to ⅝ cents up, but subsequently reacting somewhat.

Broad general buying of wheat future deliveries sprang up anew today in the wheat market here and was given decided momentum on account of overnight North American export business estimated as high as 2,000,000 bushels. Besides, friends of higher prices here for wheat were encouraged not only by upturns in stock exchange values but also by a sharp unlooked for rise in the Liverpool wheat market. Meanwhile cables today from Chicago crop experts in Argentina said black rust on wheat stems continued to increase and that damage has resulted in the provinces of Cordoba and Santa Fe.

Reports of keen demand from domestic millers today for wheat acted as further stimulus to price gains in wheat future deliveries. Talk was current that milling purchases of wheat today amounted to 2,000,000 bushels and that these purchases were distinct from overnight export buying of an an equal amount of North American wheat for export. Primary receipts of wheat in the United States today were only 703,000 bushels compared with 1,609,000 bushels a year ago.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—Cotton opened steady today at an advance of 14 to 19 points in response to relatively steady Liverpol cables and buying was also promoted by the firmer opening of the stock market. January sold up to 17.43 and May to 18.00 during the first few minutes making net advances of about 18 to 21 points on the active months. Southern selling was comparatively light, but the higher prices met considerable realizing and after the initial demand had been supplied prices eased slightly and the volume of business tapered off to some extent. The undertone was steady at the end of the first half hour, however, with prices ruling about 13 to 15 points net higher.

Liverpool cables reported covering with local, Continental and Bombay buying and said selling pressure had diminished. These advices also reported a fair cloth inquiry from India, but said many offers were unworkable.

FINANCIAL NEWS AND VIEWS

Virginia Vs. N. Y. Curb.

The New York Curb Exchange has been designated by the Virginia Securities Commission as a stock market entitled to full recognition under the Virginia law, thereby allowing securities fully listed on the exchange to be freely bought and sold in that state without requiring further sanction by the commission.

General Baking Co.

The General Baking Company is offering for sale properties in six cities, which it has replaced with more up-to-date plants. The properties, having an aggregate value of $2,000,000, and including land and buildings, are located in Philadelphia, Rochester, N. Y.; Norfolk, Oklahoma City, Wichita and Allentown, Pa.

Big Four Shares.

The protective committee representing minority stockholders of the Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis Railway has recommended acceptance of an offer by the New York Central of $240 a share for all stock deposited with or represented by the committee. New York Central already owns a minority interest in the Big Four.

Duval Texas Sulphur.

Stockholders of the Duval Texas Sulphur Company, of Houston and Corpus Christi, Tex., have authorized a change in capitalization from 100,000 shares of $10 par stock, now outstanding, to 550,000 shares of no par value.

Structural Steel Awards.

Awards of structural steel contracts during the past week totaled 26,000 tons, compared with 22,500 tons in the previous week. Inquiries totaled 19,000 tons, as against 23,000 tons in the preceding week.

Lone Star Leads Upward Movement in Gas List; Industrials Hold Firm

Stocks continued to work in a relatively narrow range on the Pittsburgh Stock Exchange today with only a few issues showing changes of a point or more.

Lone Star Gas reflected improving sentiment in regard to the company and its present and future outlook, and there was a moderate improvement noted in Western Public Service and Arkansas Gas. Statement of an official of Lone Star that the company was doing the largest business in its history has encouraged holders who have seen value of their shares shrink so woefully the past few weeks, but it failed to bring in much new buying. The explanation is simple in that buying power of many would-be purchasers of Lone Star and other high grade stocks has been so seriously impaired that they are obliged to stand aside in the presence of favorable opportunities of which they are fully cognizant but unable to accept.

In the industrial section there was evidence of betterment, but no effusiveness such as would mark a situation as now presented in the New York market where powerful banking support and institutional buying are having such conspicuous influence on stock quotations.

FAITH IN FUTURE OF INDUSTRY JUSTIFIED

Outright Purchase of Stocks Now Will Pay Well in Years to Come

By MERRYLE STANLEY RUKEYSER

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—The convulsive untangling of the recent bull market has been accompanied by an ebbing of confidence.

In a few short weeks, the public took a precipitous leap all the way from the peaks of overoptimism to the valleys of unwarranted despair. The passing hysteria, as reflected in stock prices, may be regarded in the light of financial history as a passing phase. Modern economic civilization is cemented by faith. Faith in the longer term future of America's premier industrial, railroad, and public utility corporations, is justified by all the standards of reasonable conduct. For those with surplus cash, this is no time to be pessimistic. Venturesomeness, if backed by prudence, will yield far handsomer dividends.

The exit from stock speculation was far too narrow to accommodate all those who wanted to get out of the market at once. Accordingly, the recent chaos sprang from technical speculative factors, rather than from any material weakness in the real worth of business. America still leads the world in gold, in raw materials, and in inventive genius and managerial skill. Ownership of shares in America's outstanding companies is as desirable as ever, though a frenzied public, caught in the throes of marginal speculation which it could no longer support, has registered price levels which mirror blackness, instead of the confidence which the balance sheet position of the great corporations now justify.

TURN TO BE SUDDEN

In such circumstances, anything besides cash purchases holds the hazard of making the purchaser a victim rather than a beneficiary of the existing plight. But outright purchases of sound securities of well managed companies, with a substantial past and a presumably good future, will lay the basis for highly satisfactory long-term commitments. Potential buyers cannot indefinitely count on the abject surrender of sellers. On the basis of past experience, the necessitous liquidation will all of a sudden dry up without warning, and stocks will then no longer be in supply at prices which bear no traceable relationship to their underlying value.

Of course, the setback constitutes nothing more than a temporary backward step in the long-term march toward greater prosperity. The country will not recuperate immediately from the deep financial wounds which have been suffered, but recovery in time will certainly come.

As R. W. McNeel, Boston security analyst, remarked:

"When this whole affair of these trying days passes into history, it will be recognized as merely an incident punctuating our progress as a nation towards greater things. We have been through similar crises before, and as long as human nature is what it is, we may expect to pass through them again, as the years roll on. For booms and panics represent in general the excesses of a young, growing and optimistic nation, and the temporary sobering up processes, which are necessary from time to time. After each crisis, we have risen to greater and still greater financial and industrial heights, and we will do so again. Fortunately, young and vigorous nations are like young men—they quickly recover in the morning from the excesses of the evening."

LOWER INTEREST RATES

The abandonment of the dear money policy of the Federal Reserve system and the drastic release of credit by the stock market point to significantly lower interest rates, especially after the turn of the year. Accordingly, the advice to buy well selected bonds still holds. Bonds offer safety of principal, a good return, and also prospects of some price consideration.

Col. Leonard P. Ayres, vice president and economic soothsayer of the Cleveland Trust Company, peering into the future, says today: "General business has slowed down somewhat, and will probably slow down still more, but a general slowing down in 1927 did not prevent the development of a bull market based on the easy credit policy of the Federal Reserve System. Those central banking authorities have now suddenly swung back again to an easy credit policy which may ultimately have similar results."

Humor is based on a sense of proportions, and Wall street, which has temporarily lost is perspective, will find a needed tonic in Eddie Cantor's book, entitled "Caught Short, or the Saga of Wailing Wall Street," which is published today. Mr. Cantor has hit upon the novel way of recouping speculative losses by telling the world about them. The comedian confesses that he has not only been in the market, but also under it. Funny as Mr. Cantor's tome is, it hardly compares from the standpoint of humor at the present reading, with the foolish market letters which brokers sent out during the summer months.

Nowadays, when so many speculators have been cleaned out, Mr. Cantor's words of light-hearted consolation are perhaps more useful than an investment handbook. "Only one fellow I know got a lucky break in this panic," Cantor points out. "That was my uncle. He died in September, B. C.—before the crash."

Columbia Gas Co. Extends Payments

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—Columbia Gas & Electric Corporation announces for the benefit of its shareholders that the corporation will not require payment of the second installment when due November 15, 1929, on subscriptions for additional shares of its common stock.

Holders of outstanding subscription receipts are given the option of paying the second installment when due or deferring it in their discretion not later than February 15, 1930, and including with such second installment payment when made 6 per cent interest thereon from November 15, 1929, to date of payment.

Per Capita Use Of Oranges Grows

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 15.—The California Fruit Growers Exchange, said in its annual report that the per capita consumption of oranges in the United States had been increased from 4.34 dozens in 1927-1928 to 5.67 dozens for the present period through advertising.

The increasing use of citrus fruit juices for making beverages was credited with having absorbed a large part of the gain.

Lower Money Seen for Future Months

By GEORGE H. SNYDER.

THE big broom of the bears has done a thorough job. It has swept out the weak holders of stocks. It has given the credit structure a thorough housecleaning. Were it not for the severe blow given to business confidence and the wiping out of a large amount of purchasing power, fundamental business conditions might be said to be sound.

In only four weeks $2,632,000,000 has been taken out of brokers loans. This brings the total down to $4,172,000,000, a decline of 38 per cent from the peak of $6,801,000,000. The loans are at the lowest point since June 27, 1928.

But this does not tell the entire story of the increase in the liquid position of the banks and the decline in the use of Federal Reserve credit. Member bank borrowings from the New York Federal Reserve on November 13 were $40,000,000 against $135,000,000 a week before and $108,000,000 a year ago.

Rediscount Rate Cut

AS WAS predicted in this column a week ago, the Federal Reserve rediscount rate has been reduced. In view of the enormous increase in bank resources and the small amount of borrowing from the central system, it would not be surprising if the future should see another cut. Such action, however, probably would have to be preceded by a cut in the Bank of England rate so that the movement of gold from the United States would not be too greatly stimulated.

While the business outlook has been greatly clouded by the break, the lower rediscount rate will tend to soften the effect by making cheaper money available to business. Cheaper money also may mean further stimulation of the bond market.

Call Rate Artificial

FOR two weeks the call money rate appears to have been pegged at 6 per cent. Credit conditions indicate that a lower rate will be available in the future and that the current rate has been due to an arbitrary stand by the New York banks.

These institutions have been careful to keep money from going low enough to influence the withdrawal of more of the money loaned by industrial organizations. It will be recalled that the New York banks were compelled to make up a tremendous deficiency in call money caused by withdrawals to interior points.

New York Situation

THE decline in loans since the first big drop has given the New York banks a chance to reduce the amount of call loans made for their own account to nearly a normal figure. The statement made yesterday showed them to be loaning $1,156,000,000 compared with the peak of $2,069,000,000 on October 30 and with $1,077,000,000 on October 23.

Within a week or two it seems quite probable that the New York banks will find the situation in such a stabilized condition that they will be able to safely withdraw from their stand on the call money rate. Lower call money will act as an influence to stabilize the stock market since many of the dividend paying issues can be carried at a profit.

Building Confidence

MOST of yesterday's news indicated that the important business interests in the country feel that it is time to use their influence to check the downward movement of stocks. Apparently they believe that the break has squeezed out the inflation in stock prices and that it is now necessary to restore confidence before more serious harm is done to business than that to be occasioned by the reduction in buying power attributable to stock market losses.

These developments included plans to cut both personal and corporate income taxes, an extra dividend for General Motors, the cut in the rediscount rate and a large number of bullish statements by business leaders.

There is a difference between these efforts and the flood of statements made following the first big break. Instead of talking in generalities, our captains of industry and finance seem to have been using their influence to actually have something tangible done to keep business in 1930 from going for a real toboggan ride.

Bank of Poland Discount Rate Cut

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—National Bank of Poland has reduced its discount rate from 9 per cent to 8½ per cent. The 9 per cent figure was established April 19, this year.

Atlantic Refining Reduces Gasoline

The Atlantic Refining Company has reduced the price of gasoline, effective today, 1 cent a gallon, making tank wagon prices 15 cents a gallon and service station price 17 cents.

Proposed Tax Rate Cut Counted Factor in Market Upturn.

BUYING in response to the announcement that Secretary of the Treasury Mellon was determined to recommend a cut of a full 1 per cent in individual and corporation tax rates to the next session of Congress was electrical in its effect on the stock market. This action was widely viewed as an expression of the administration's confidence in the outlook for business and moreover as a most formidable offset to such depressing influence as the collapse in the speculative market might have exerted had such action not been taken. Nothing that has been said or done previously during the two months' decline in stock prices went so far in the direction of reassuring both business and the public alike.

Commenting on his proposal for a downward revision in tax rates by the income Congress, Secretary Mellon stated plainly that no such recommendation would have been made if the government had been apprehensive of the business situation. All factors have been considered, he declared, and allowance made for the prospective situation a month ahead. The decision was reached after such matters had been duly weighed. He expressed the view that it was somewhat of a coincidence that the announcement at this time, though pointing out that this was the time when it was due, inasmuch as all estimates had been brought in and a decision reached with congressional leaders.

THE general theory is that the questionaire of the Stock Exchange demanding the statement of members' positions with regard borrowing and lending of stocks takes the nature of a warning to the element which may be making capital out of the short side of the market. But it was contended today in more than one quarter that even if this was the case, the information to be obtained at the moment might not prove very helpful in discouraging bear operations. As a matter of fact, the opinion generally held is that the "bears," if they were as powerful a factor in the decline as some seem to think, must very likely have covered in their commitments prior to this time.

Steel shares responded to the news of the adjustment of differences between the steel corporation and the Bethlehem Steel Corporation over certain patents of the Bethlehem corporation which had resulted in the institution of court action by that company against the steel corporation. Joint announcement by both companies today set forth that the matter had been settled by negotiations which resulted in an agreement for the licensing of the steel corporation and its subsidiaries to manufacture and sell products made under such patents for the balance of the patent term running from 12 to 16 years. Steel common reached its highest levels for the day after the announcement and Bethlehem also was strong.

DUE to difficulties arising as a consequence of the changed condition in the speculative market and consequently in the money market, it has been decided to forego the plan for merger of Continental Can and Owens Illinois Glass Company. The plan called for the reorganization of the two companies and also for the raising of considerable new money through an offering of subscription "rights." But in view of present circumstances, neither of the boards of these two companies feel that the plan should be carried through just now.

It required but little thought to guess the origin of the firm bid placed in the market yesterday for 1,000,000 shares of Standard Oil of New Jersey at 50. It is a 10-to-1 shot that the order came from the Rockefeller interests who, a few weeks back, stated bluntly that they would continue to buy stocks when they considered them undervalued. There was no occasion for calling upon the backlog of buying yesterday, with Standard of New Jersey selling well above the price fixed. But one thing is reasonably certain, and that is that the bears, if they had any previous desire to do so, hesitate to attempt a play on the short side of "Jersey" while that buying order stays placed.

Union Oil Company Extends Rights Date

Utilities Below Real Worth, Says Pierce

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—Henry J. Pierce, president of several subsidiaries of the Electric Bond and Share Company, in Washington, declared public utility stocks are selling well below their real value.

In Mr. Pierce's opinion, it will be a long time before Wall Street sees such bargains in stocks generally and more particularly in utilities.

Mr. Pierce said he has taken up as much stock in utilities as he can conservatively carry.

Investments...

THERE never was a time like the present when the greatest possible care in the selection of securities was necessary.

Fortunes have been lost by listening to tips and not being particular about the character of the security purchased.

Officers of our Bond Department will be glad to give you the benefit of their experience in the investment of your surplus funds.

NOTICE OF REDEMPTION
THE LEWIS FOUNDRY AND MACHINE COMPANY

To the Holders of the Lewis Foundry and Machine Company First Mortgage Six per Centum, Sinking Fund Gold Bonds Issued Under and Secured by Indenture of Mortgage dated June 1, 1927, Between the Lewis Foundry and Machine Company and the Union National Bank of Pittsburgh, as Trustee:

Notice is hereby given that, in accordance with the terms of said Bond and said Indenture of Mortgage, The Lewis Foundry and Machine Company has elected to redeem and pay off on December 1, 1929, otherwise than by the use of the Sinking Fund, all of the above mentioned Bonds then outstanding at One Hundred Two and One-Half (102½) per centum, of the face value thereof, with accrued interest thereon to the said date at the office of The Union National Bank of Pittsburgh, at Fourth Avenue and Wood Street, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, and that all of said bonds are called for redemption and will be due and payable on that date.

Payment of the sum payable for principal and premium of said bonds will be made upon surrender of the said bonds with all coupons for interest maturing after December 1, 1929. The coupons due December 1, 1929, should be detached and presented for payment in the usual manner. Interest on said bonds will cease to accrue from and after December 1, 1929, and coupons for interest maturing after that date will be null and void.

DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED STATES, WESTERN DISTRICT OF PENNSYLVANIA.
IN THE MATTER OF SAMUEL RUBINSTEIN, JR., TRADING AS THE FASHION WALLPAPER COMPANY, DUQUESNE WALLPAPER & PAINT COMPANY, AND KENSINGTON WALLPAPER COMPANY, Alleged Bankrupt, No. 15102 in Bankruptcy.
To Samuel Rubinstein, Jr., trading as The Fashion Wallpaper Company, Duquesne Wallpaper & Paint Company, and Kensington Wallpaper Company, in said District, Greeting:
For certain causes offered before the District Court of the United States of America within and for the Western District of Pennsylvania, as a court of bankruptcy, we command and strictly enjoin you, laying all other matters aside and notwithstanding any excuse, that you personally appear before our said District Court to be holden at Pittsburgh, in said District, on the 3rd day of December, A. D., 1929, to answer to a petition filed by Atlas Paste Company, Perlman Brothers & Peerless Wallpaper Company, Pittsburgh, Pa., in our said Court, praying that you may be adjudged a bankrupt; and to do further and receive that which our said District Court shall consider in this behalf. And this you are in nowise to omit, under the pains and penalties of what may befall thereon.
WITNESS the Honorable The Judges of said Court, and the seal thereof, at Pittsburgh, in said District, this 13th day of November, A. D., 1929.
J. WOOD CLARK, Clerk.

ALMAZAN SEEN MEXICO CHIEF

LONDON, Nov. 15.—(AP.)—European observers of Mexican affairs have followed with interest the recent movements of General Juan A. Almazan, brilliant federal commander in the Mexican revolutionary campaign last spring. Many persons here believe that Gen. Almazan will be Mexico's next "strong man" and that he will get the portfolio of war in the next cabinet.

High Mexican officials in London said last week that Almazan was still in Paris with Gen. P. E. Calles, whom he had accompanied to Europe. They said that, like Calles, he was ill. Meanwhile however, it is credibly reported that he was dining this week in a London restaurant much frequented by Spaniards and Latin Americans.

A well-informed Mexican, who lives in London, affirmed that Gen. Almazan had come to London on private business for two days and then returned to Paris.

ORDERS WOMAN FROM COUNTY

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Nov. 15.—Released from jail when her attorney threatened habeas corpus proceedings, Miss Jessie Chandler, dressmaker, was ordered out of the county and later given 10 days in which to furnish $2,500 bond in a $10,000 alienation suit instituted by Mrs. Mary Sansone, wife of Anthony Sansone.

"The only reason why I am not sending you to the workhouse is because I can't," declared Judge Thomas H. Hudson. "Don't you know that Mr. Sansone has a wife and two children, and that you should leave him alone?"

Miss Chandler had been ordered out of Fayette County at the time of her conviction. She said she returned to collect bills.

Convictions Upheld In N. Y. Sewer Fraud

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—(INS.)—The conviction of Maurice E. Connolly, former borough president of Queens, was sustained by the Supreme Court in Brooklyn. The sentence of Frederick Seeley also was affirmed.

Connolly and Seeley were convicted of conspiracy to defraud the city in the awarding of sewer contracts.

Veteran Employes Guests at Banquet

AMBRIDGE, Pa., Nov. 15.—One hundred employes who had been with the Wyckoff Drawn Steel Company for five years or more were entertained at a banquet at the Ambridge Country Club. Col. A. W. Wyckoff, Pittsburgh, president of the company, and W. C. Undercoffer, manager, were speakers.

Methodist Leader Dies in Australia

SYDNEY, Australia, Nov. 15. —(AP.)—The Rev. John Gladwell Wheen, president of the General Methodist Church of Australia, died yesterday. He was a native of Sheffield, England, and entered the Methodist ministry 45 years ago.

The Sun-Telegraph Fifteen Cent Pattern

A GOOD STYLE FOR A SCHOOL DRESS.

Checked woolen in brown and tan is here combined with tan crepe. The dress is trimmed with band facings at the neck, which extend lengthwise on the right front, and form a wide plait over the center. Smaller plaits are also shown in groups on back and front. The sleeve is of the "bishop" type gathered at the wrist above a narrow cuff.

This pattern is cut in 4 sizes: 6, 8, 10 and 12 years. To make the dress for a 10 year size will require 2⅞ yards of 35 inch material. To make the facings, cuffs and belt of contrasting material will require ⅞ yard 35 inches wide cut lengthwise or ½ yard cut crosswise.

COUPON.

This pattern will be sent on receipt of 15 cents (silver or 2c and 1c stamps). Make number, name, address, etc., plain. Send to Pattern Department. The Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Greensburg Man Bags Gray Fox

GREENSBURG, Pa., Nov. 15.—Hunting on his father's farm, near here, F. Leslie Wirick, of Greensburg, bagged one of the best specimens of gray foxes seen here in many years. The animal had an unusually heavy coat of fur.

Student Arrested For Rink Attack

BROWNSVILLE, Pa., Nov. 15.—Alleged to have attacked Jake Rosenfield, deputy sheriff and proprietor of a skating rink near here, Joseph Zablonsky, California, a student at California State Teachers College, was held for court.

VETS ORGANIZE NEW POST

BROWNSVILLE, Pa., Nov. 15.—Philip S. Pizzano, former commander of the A. Kramer Axton American Legion Post here, is commander of the newly organized Colonial Post No. 275 at Grindstone.

The new post was formed primarily to care for the 100 or more World War veterans located in and around Grindstone. Plans include formation of a ladies auxiliary, sponsorship of a troop of Boy Scouts and other activities for boys and girls of the Grindstone district.

Other officers named are: J. W. Fleming, senior vice-commander; Thomas L. Jolly, junior vice commander; Ralph E. Christopher, adjutant; Dr. A. W. Spears, finance officer; John Masuga, sergeant-at-arms; Thomas J. O'Toole, chaplain and O. D. Black, post historian.

Find Unconscious Man Carrying $3,523 Cash

BEAVER, Pa., Nov. 15.—Summoned to a nearby brickyard by the report a man was ill, Motorcycle Officer Adam McConaughy and Tax Collector Everett Tomlinson found Paul Zurich, 40, unconscious. The officers found $3,523 in currency in the man's clothing. The money was deposited in the bank.

SUITOR NABBED, WEDDING OFF

WAYNESBURG, Pa., Nov. 15.—An attempted elopement ended in Clarence House, 24, landing in the Greene County jail and Rebecca Blouir, 21, preparing to return to her job in an Akron rubber factory. Eight months ago House and Miss Blouir met at Akron, where both were employed. Last week they decided to marry, but when a clerk in Akron refused to grant them a license on account of Miss Blouir's youthful appearance, they decided to come to Waynesburg, where both have relatives.

Miss Blouir withdrew her savings of $503.15 from an Akron bank. Yesterday she reported her money and sweetheart missing. House later gave himself up and denied that he had taken the money.

House told police that his absence was because he had gone to Morgantown and was unable to return here at the time appointed.

Miner Twice Hurt In Same Ohio Workings

TILTONVILLE, O., Nov. 15.—This is Santo Mancuso's unlucky autumn. After weeks in the Martins Ferry Hospital, due to an injury to his foot hurt in a Warner Colleries Company mine, he is back again with an injury to the same foot, and to his head. He was caught in a fall of stone in the same mine.

UTILITIES PLAN BUILDINGS

YOUNGSTOWN, Nov. 15. — The Pennsylvania-Ohio Power and Light Company will start construction early in 1930 of a six-story building to cost $750,000. It will house all departments of the utility.

The Ohio Bell Telephone Company will spend $750,000 for a new main telephone building in Youngstown, and $450,000 for mechanical installations to improve local and long distance service, L. A. Chapman, manager, announces. This work will go forward at once.

Varied Programs Offered On Radio Tonight

By DARRELL V. MARTIN, Sun-Telegraph Radio Editor.

TONIGHT'S schedule is as vari-hued as the rainbow—and as spectacular.

Continuity writers have contracted the footlights, the gridiron, Sherlock Holmes, the garage, the concert stage, the days of Lillian Russell, and even the muse of Aesop, for material with which to mesmerize America's radio audience of 30 millions.

Hark to the common carrier of WJAS at 8 o'clock for something brand new—the Brown Footlights, being bright novelty bits by the Sunshine Boys and Vee Lawnhurst.

Mary and Bob will help celebrate a football victory in a small college town near Little Rock, Ark., WJAS at 9; Raymond Knight has concocted an Aesop Fable for the Triadors, KDKA at 8; Frank Banta, pianist, will entertain with two solos for Cities Service, WCAE; the Philco Hour, KDKA at 9:30, will give us the second act of "Mlle. Modiste," and the Widow Biddle will return to haunt the minds of Gus and Louie during the Schradertown period through WCAE at 9:30.

Old Timers' Night, WJAS at 7:30, will be something of the songs of Lillian Russell's heyday.

Seth Parker's Singing School over WCAE last night was exceptionally well done and members of the cast deserve the plaudits of the radio audience for demonstrating that home town folks can "put across" a good feature when they want to.

We Now Present

RADIO RALPH'S PERSONAL KOLUM:

Jim Hughes plays the harmonica.

His radio partner, Emma Bishop, sells music in a downtown store.

C. Herbert McGee, announcer at WC, studies voice under John L. Rodrigues.

Promptly at eight every morning Josephine Fresh drops in the KDKA studios to practice a bit at the piano.

Ed Kroen has all the mannerisms of a "hick" in the Seth Parker Singing school.

Innes Harris, the publicity man who knows lots about what's going on in the experimental plants at East Pittsburgh but can't tell anybody, is named after George Innes, the Scotch painter.

Gundla Johnson handles all the details for markets, weather, etc., at KDKA—and it's some job!

Cousin Lora has given up her dancing lessons.

Alice King Roop is a good bridge player.

Evelyn Gardiner bakes delicious fruit cakes.

Fred Webber resembles Ronald Colman and has a nicety about everything.

G. Dare Fleck, whose office is the vortex of all program activities at KDKA, is an experienced newspaper man. He shuns publicity but is one wonderful man.

TODAY'S TID BIT:

Sitting at a formal dinner party, a WLW announcer jumped to his feet to give a "correct time" announcement when the hall clock chimed the hour.

Wins King's Heart.
The story of an ugly duckling who blossomed into a woman beautiful enough to captivate a great king, will be dramatized.
Marie Mancini was one of the nieces of the powerful Cardinal Mazarin who dominated Anne of Austria and France during the seventeenth century. When Marie was young she was so awkward and ugly that Cardinal Mazarin decided that she had best spend her life in a convent. However, Marie had developed her intellect and beauty to such a degree that the young King, Louis XIV, fell in love with her and urged his counsellors to let him marry her. Marie's famous "Goodbye" to Louis has made her immortal. It was brief: "Sire, you are king. You weep. I depart."

Celebrate Football Victory.
Mary and Bob will be present at the lively ceremonies following the football victory of a small college situated near Little Rock, Arkansas.
The victory on the gridiron that day has been an important one for the school, and, in appreciation, the jubilant students have made elaborate plans for a rousing celebration. All that tends to make such an occasion a huge success will be in evidence. There will be the burning of an effigy; the antics of the mascots—goats, bulldogs and other animals—the ransacking of the town for fences, barrels and all inflammable materials for the towering bonfire around which college yells and songs will fill the night air.

Act II, "Mlle. Modiste."
The first scene of the second act of "Mlle. Modiste," a comic opera by Victor Herbert, will be presented with Jessica Dragonette, soprano, and Colin O'More, tenor, in the leading roles.
The scene takes place in the dining room of the Chateau de la Mar. The Count, afflicted by gout, limps in attended by his niece Marie. Hiram Bent arrives on business. The Count blames his gout in his rage at his nephew's desire to marry the shop girl, Fifi. Hiram defers the business talk and leaves.
Fifi arrives for the charity bazaar and proceeds to make the Count comfortable. She is asked to stay for supper but explains that she is Hiram Bent's protege and is engaged to sing at the charity bazaar. The Count suspects her of an engagement with Capt. Etienne and forbids her to sing. Fifi replies that if Capt. Etienne is to marry her, the Count must come to her and beg the favor.

Widow Biddle Again.
Much to their regret Gus and Louis are not rid of the scheming Widow Biddle as they had supposed, but are more deeply involved than ever before. The two garage partners realize that there is more than superstition in the belief that pearls are jewels of sorrow. The string purchased for the widow quite lives up to its reputation. Their only bright moment comes when Gus and Louis are invited to rejoin the Schradertown Band once more.

DENIES ABUSE OF MEXICANS

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 15.—(AP.)—Gen. Lazaro Chacon, president of Guatemala, has replied to a query by Rafael Martinez, a Mexican newspaper publisher, that reports concerning maltreatment of Mexicans in Guatemala were false. He explained that the rumors arose from the arrest at Amatilan, Guatemala, of a Mexican commercial attache who got into a quarrel with another man.

The Guatemalan charge d'affaires here told newspaper men that the affair had been ended by the discharge and imprisonment of the police commissioner of Amatilan.

Genaro Estrada, acting foreign minister of Mexico, said that Guatemala had answered some of the queries from his department, but that a definite announcement regarding the incident could not be made. He had previously told the press that active representations had gone forward to Guatemala and that the situation was "delicate."

Bus Leaves Road, Passengers Shaken

NEW CASTLE, Pa., Nov. 15.—Passengers on a Greyhound passenger bus, en route toward this city, were shaken up during a heavy rainstorm half a mile from Harbor Bridge, on the New Castle-New Bedford road, when the driver, unable to make a curve, ran his car into the ditch.

The bus scraped a telephone pole and crashed into some shrubbery on the Stevens estate. The bus was only slightly damaged and continued on its way.

Racketeer Found Murdered in Auto

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—(AP.)—Apparently "taken for a ride" by his own kind, Monte Schubert, 40-year-old racketeer with a long police record, was found slumped inside a closed motor car under the elevated subway structure in Broadway near One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street. Most of the left side of his face was shot away.

7 CHINESE HELD AS KIDNAPERS

TIENTSIN, China, Nov. 15.—(AP.)—Seven men have been arrested on suspicion of belonging to the gang of kidnapers who recently held Aaron Brenner, an American fur dealer, for ransom. They were taken into custody last night but the police did not make the fact known until today.

Brenner was reported as having promised to pay the ransom after his recent release. The fact that the money had not been sent to the kidnapers caused apprehension for his safety among his friends, but this tension has been greatly relieved by the arrests.

Much Smoke, Little Damage from Fire

FRANKLIN, Pa., Nov. 15.—Dense smoke caused by fire in the business district yesterday caused excitement but did little damage to Ostwind's radio supply store.

POLISH CABINET FALL SEEN

WARSAW, Nov. 15.—(AP.)—Ignace Daszinski, speaker of the Polish Diet, defended his course in the dispute between Parliament Marshal Joseph Pilsudski. Four newspapers, all listed as opponents of the government, published a statement by the speaker in which he reasserted the right of the legislative body to control its own proceedings.

The statement also said that collobaration between the Diet and the present cabinet was impossible. The only way out was given as either dissolution of the Diet, followed by new elections, or by resignation of the present cabinet.

MINE RESCUE HERO BURIED

RAYLAND, O., Nov. 15.—Funeral services were held here for William White, 60, Negro, who died Sunday. White was the hero of the Eastern Ohio mine field, having saved the life of Russell Moore on July 24, 1925, in a Glen Robbins mine.

Moore and several other miners were working in a room when a section of the roof let go. It pinioned him to the floor. All the miners except Moore fled. White rallied the other miners. Five white men agreed to follow him. He went into the room beneath the loosed stone and extricated Moore's legs as the others yanked and pulled. Finally he was hauled free.

"Next Stop... Rome, Italy!"

The story of Charles B. Ellsworth, chief wireless operator of the Naval Station at Bar Harbor, Maine, 1927.

"You've heard of the adventures of a Brandes headset on the high seas, but aviation has used Brandes too! Remember the time that gallant, but ill-fated plane, Old Glory, took off from Old Orchard, Maine? Its next stop was to be Rome, Italy. The last thing I put aboard that ship was a Brandes headset!

"Years before, when Lieut. Commander Read on the NC4 flew to the Azores, I transmitted and received messages constantly with my Brandes headset. I created a record for plane to shore communication—from Bar Harbor, Maine, to the Azores, 1712 miles away!

"So I guess I know Brandes quality. And now I say that your new radio beats every other Brandes achievement! It's the top-notcher in radio receivers!"

C. Ellsworth

AN ORDINANCE—Re-fixing the width and position of the sidewalks and roadway providing for slopes, parking, retaining walls and steps and re-establishing the grade of Brushton avenue, from Avella way to Hermitage street.

SECTION 1. Be it ordained and enacted by the City of Pittsburgh, in Council assembled, and it is hereby ordained and enacted by the authority of the same. That the width and position of the sidewalks and roadway and the grade of the westerly curb line of Brushton avenue, from Avella way to Hermitage street be and the same are hereby refixed and re-established as follows to wit:

The westerly curb line from Avella way to Mount Vernon street shall be parallel to and at a perpendicular distance of 7.50 feet east of the westerly line of Brushton avenue as widened; thence shall continue in a straight line along the prolongation of the above described portion of the easterly curb line to an intersection with the westerly 7.50 foot line of that portion of Brushton avenue extended southwardly from Mt. Vernon street; thence shall coincide with the above mentioned westerly 7.50 foot line of Burshton avenue to Hermitage street.

The westerly sidewalk shall have a uniform width of 7.50 feet and shall lie along the westerly side of the above described westerly curb line and contiguous to the same.

The roadway shall have a uniform width of 25.0 feet and shall lie along and contiguous to the above described westerly sidewalk.

The easterly sidewalk shall have a uniform width of 7.50 feet and shall lie along contiguous to the above described roadway.

The remaining portions of the street lying without the lines of the sidewalks and roadway as above described shall be used for slopes, parking, retaining walls and steps.

SECTION 2. The grade of the westerly curb line shall begin at the southerly line of Avella way at an elevation of 445.07 feet; thence falling at the rate of 15.0 per cent for a distance of 104.40 feet to the northerly line of Upland street to an elevation of 429.41 feet; thence falling at the rate of 5.73 per cent for a distance of 51.47 feet to the southerly line of Upland street to an elevation of 426.46 feet; thence falling at the rate of 15.0 per cent for a distance of 628.35 feet to the northerly line of Hermitage street to an elevation of 332.21 feet.

UNSCRAMBLE THESE ANAGRAMBLES
DAILY ANAGRAM PUZZLES

TRY your hand at this fascinating game of Anagrambles—the game that is taking the town like the crossword puzzle craze took the whole nation for a ride through the dictionary.

The game is quite simple. Merely change the following words by the addition of the single letter indicated. Do not omit any letter of the original word. The letter may be inserted at the beginning of the word, anywhere within the word, or at the end. Thus, the word "pate," by the addition of the letter "l" becomes either "pleat" or "plate." The word "drag" may be changed to either "grade" or "raged" by the addition of the letter "e."

The original word must be changed in meaning by the commentary letter. To change "mine" by adding "d," to form "mined," would be incorrect. Rearrange the letters of your word to change its meaning, not its tense or number. Take a pencil now and write in your newly formed word in the spaces provided.

BOOK REVIEW

Gems from "Palaces of Sin," By Colonel Dick Maple, of Indiana.

"She was not bad looking to look at—"

Reformer Maple has told how he created the impression that he was worth $9,000,000 in order to be taken into society at Washington, D. C. He has described the dreadful goings on at the party of a Mrs. Middle. We continue with sizzling excerpts from his book, "Palaces of Sin"—

"MRS. MIDDLE and her daughter Clara seemed determined to have me understand that I was to marry the young lady and they tried in every conceivable manner to impress all with the idea that 'Col. Maple' had proposed and been accepted. However, I never missed an opportunity to let them know that Col. Maple was not on the market, and had no desire to become the husband of a 'female distillery' and son-in-law of a 'she-lobster!'

(Ed. Note—That's telling it to them, Colonel!)

"I will frankly tell you, readers, that I was interested in Clara to a certain extent, for she was not a bad looking girl to look at, and had been a bright lady-like country girl before her father had entered politics, which turned his wife's head and had sunken Clara deep down in the crime of drink.

"All at once Clara, the dear 'thing,' ceased to show her 'hosiery' at social functions and I could not imagine where she had disappeared to until—" rior avenue to the traffic circle near the intersection of Wortman and Florida streets, including the locating, relocating, opening and widening, establishing and re-establishing the grades, and fixing the lines of the said Ohio River boulevard, and providing for the payment of the City's share of the costs, damages and expenses thereof, said Agreement to be in the following form:

AGREEMENT

MADE THIS.....day of.....; A. D. 1929, between the County of Allegheny, a quasi-municipal corporation of Pennsylvania, hereinafter called "County," party of the first part, and the City of Pittsburgh, a municipal corporation of the State of Pennsylvania, within the limits of said County, hereinafter called the "City," party of the second part.

WHEREAS — The Ohio River Boulevard in the City of Pittsburgh, beginning at the western property line of Superior avenue and extending in a westerly direction to the eastern terminus of the McKees Rocks Bridge Traffic Circle near the intersection of Wortman and Florida streets, as located by Ordinance of the City, is to be a principal thoroughfare and a part of the Ohio River Boulevard on the northerly side of the Ohio River, and

WHEREAS, The County Commissioners of Allegheny County deem it advisable and necessary to improve said Ohio River Boulevard in said City, between the points mentioned, and are of the opinion that the County should bear a portion of the cost, and the corporate authorities of the City of Pittsburgh believe it will be greatly to the interest and advantage of said City and a great saving of expense thereto, if said improvement of said Boulevard within its corporate limits be made, and the cost and expense thereof be paid jointly by the City and County as hereinafter specified.

NOW, THEREFORE, THIS AGREEMENT WITNESSETH, That for the consideration hereinafter mentioned, the parties hereto do covenant and agree, to and with each other as follows:

FIRST. The parties hereto agree that the Ohio River Boulevard within the limits of said City, for a distance of approximately 5,374 feet, shall be improved between the following terminal points:

BEGINNING at the western property line of Superior avenue and extending in a westerly direction to the eastern terminus of the McKees Rocks Bridge Traffic Circle near the intersection of Wortman and Florida streets. The consent of the City of Pittsburgh is hereby given to the County of Allegheny to carry out the provisions herein set forth.

SECOND. Said Ohio River Boulevard between the terminal points shall be improved by the County to a width of forty (40') feet and graded to a width of sixty (60') feet, exclusive of slopes. The work shall be done to lines and grades established by the City and in conformity with plans prepared by the Department of Public Works of Allegheny County and approved by the Commissioners of said Allegheny County and the Director of the Department of Public Works of the City of Pittsburgh, to the limits shown on said plans, which plans are indentified as Ohio River Boulevard, Contract No. 3, Plan 1256, Sheets Nos.1 to —, and made a part hereof by reference thereto and filed in the office of the Director of the Department of Public Works of the City and County.

THIRD. The improvement of said Ohio River boulevard as set forth in the first and second paragraphs under this agreement, shall be done by contract or contracts, awarded therefor, by the County of Allegheny, after approval of plans by the Director of the Department of Public Works of the City of Pittsburgh, pursuant to Acts of Assembly relating to same. Said contract or contracts shall include the replacement of existing sidewalks where same are destroyed by reason of the relocation or change of grade on existing City streets necessitated by this improvement. The County shall have charge of the work, and the City may, at its own cost and expense, furnish whatever engineering and inspection service it so desires. Any complaint which the City may have as to the manner of construction or the materials or methods used shall be made in writing to the Director of the Department of Public Works of Allegheny County, within three (3) days, otherwise all work and materials shall be considered by the County as being done and furnished, placed or erected, satisfactory to the City.

FOURTH. The City agrees at its own cost and expense to construct all sanitary and combined sewers, including house or other connections required within the limits of this improvement, prior to or during the construction work to be done by the County under this agreement, exclusive, however, of the storm drains shown on the boulevard plans as approved. The City also agrees to require the construction of any water lines with the necessary house or other connections, fire hydrants, gate boxes, etc., within the limits of this improvement, at the cost or expense of the City, individuals or public utility companies, prior to or during the construction work to be done by the County under this agreement. All work on sanitary and combined sewers and water lines shall be done by the City or Utility Companies in such a manner that there shall be as little interference or delay as possible to the County's contractor on this work. The altering, resetting or reconstructing of existing catch basins or storm inlets within the limits of this improvement shall be included in the construction work to be performed by the County under the terms of this agreement.

FIFTH. The City agrees to enact any ordinances which may be necessary to vacate, locate, relocate, open or widen, establish or re-establish the grade and curb lines of said Ohio River boulevard, as shown on the plans as approved, as well as any existing streets or ways affected by this improvement and to condemn or otherwise secure all private or public property necessary for this purpose.

SIXTH. The City agrees to assume and become liable for all damages occasioned by reason of this improvement by the vacation, opening, locating, relocating, widening, establishing of re-establishing of grades required for the aforesaid improvement of the Ohio River Boulevard and the existing streets and ways affected, as shown on the plans as approved, between the terminal points hereinbefore mentioned. The City agrees that it will assume and become liable for all damages to property, including surface and subsurface structures, caused by said improvement of the Ohio River Boulevard, including damages to persons or property occasioned from any obstruction on said roadway or part thereof, not due to the negligence of the said County or its contractor or contractors.

SEVENTH. The City further agrees to petition for Viewers to award damages to property affected by this improvement, and to proceed before the Viewers the same as if the improvement was entirely a City project. The County agrees to furnish any legal or engineering assistance which the City may desire in the preparations of "Viewers' Plans" and in the defense or prosecution of any claims for damages to property. The County further agrees to reimburse the City of Pittsburgh for all damages assessed against the City, exclusive of damages for the realignment of California avenue, from Superior avenue to Romig street. Payment for damages shall be made by the County to the City within ninety (90) days after the report of the Viewers to the Court of Common Pleas of the County has been filed, but appeal from any award of damages which seems excessive or unjust to the County, shall be taken by the City at the request of the County.

EIGHTH. The City has condemned, at its own sole cost and expense, all property necessary for the realignment of California avenue from Superior avenue to Romig street, to a width of sixty (60) feet and to petition for Viewers to award damage to property affected by said realignment. The City shall proceed before the Board of Viewers on these condemnations as if the Ohio River Boulevard was not to affect property in this vicinity and settle at its own cost and expense, all awards of damages occasioned by said realignment.

NINTH. The County agrees to include in the contract or contracts for the work outlined in this agreement, the construction of the realigned section of California avenue between Superior avenue and Romig street. Said construction to include grading, curbing and paving to a width of forty (40) feet between curbs, including the street railway area.

TENTH. The City agrees to have the tracks of the Pittsburgh Railways Company removed from the present location of California avenue, from Superior avenue to Romig street, and have same relocated upon the realignment of California avenue between said terminal points. The repaving of the section of California avenue from which the railway tracks are removed, shall be done by the City in accordance with agreements now in force between the City and the Pittsburgh Railways Company.

ELEVENTH. The City agrees to reimburse the County for work done on the realignment of California avenue, in the amount of $25,000.00 for street improvement and in the amount of $8,000.00 for concrete base and surface paving in the street railway area. The County shall be relieved of the responsibility for the relocation of the street railway tracks, including the subgrading for tracks, ballast, ties and rails, on the realignment and the repaving of the area of California avenue from which the tracks are removed.

TWELFTH. The City shall have installed the necessary Boulevard lighting system. Plans of the poles, fixtures, etc., approved by the Director of the Department of Public Works of the City, shall be furnished by the Department of Public Works of Allegheny County. It is further agreed that after the completion of the improvement aforesaid, the City shall light the Ohio River Boulevard, between the terminal points hereinbefore described, and the County shall be forever afterwards relieved of any responsibility for the maintenance or repair of the lighting system.

THIRTEENTH. It is agreed that after the completion of the improvement aforesaid, the County shall maintain and keep the Ohio River Boulevard, including bridge structures, between the terminal points herein described, in good repair, except curb and sidewalks constructed by the County, City or others, on the boulevard, and the paving, curb and sidewalk of the realignment of California avenue, between Superior avenue and Romig street. The City shall be forever afterwards relieved of any responsibility for the maintenance or repair of the Boulevard, except the curbs, sidewalks and lighting system of the boulevard and the paving, curbs and sidewalks of the realignment of California avenue. The County shall be forever afterwards relieved of any responsibility for the maintenance or repair of the curbs, sidewalks or lighting system of the boulevard and the paving, curbs and sidewalks of the realignment of California avenue.

FOURTEENTH. The City agrees to give all notices necessary to fully advise all parties concerned of the proposed improvement, and to require all service companies and private parties to make the necessary adjustments, repairs and connections to existing utilities and to install any new utilities with their house or other connections to points outside the limits of this improvements, prior to or during the construction of the boulevard.

FIFTEENTH. In case the City constructs water lines, sanitary sewers or combined sewers within the lines of this improvement after the signing of this agreement, the City agrees at its own cost and expense, to backfill the trench or trenches in a workmanlike manner and place any concrete over the same that may be required by the County, to reinforce the sub-grade to insure the stability of the Boulevard pavement. Where public service companies or individuals open such trenches, either at their own request or by order of the City, the City shall require said companies or individuals to backfill the trench or trenches in a workmanlike manner and place any concrete that may be required by the County to reinforce the sub-grade and insure the stability of the Boulevard pavement. The City may require said companies or individuals to pay for said backfill and concrete work. The City agrees to relieve the County of the responsibility for the failure of any part of the pavement of this improvement or any structures connected therewith, occasioned by the subsidence of any trenches opened by the City, public service companies or individuals, whether said trenches are opened before or after the improvement of this Boulevard by a contract or contracts let by Allegheny County.

SIXTEENTH. The City agrees to pay to the County the additional cost of backfilling any trenches with slag and the cost of removing and replacing concrete slabs or pavement over said trenches, when trenches opened by either the City or others are found in such condition as to endanger the strength or stability of the work to be done by the County. In case such trenches are found, their condition shall be brought to the attention of the Director of Public Works of the City by letter, and if the condition is not corrected by the City within three (3) days after the delivery of such letter, the County shall correct the condition and bill the City for the actual construction cost of same.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, The County has caused its common and corporate seal to be affixed hereto, duly attested by the Chief Clerk of the County Commissioners, and this agreement to be signed by its County Commissioners, and this agreement is signed and executed in the name of the City of Pittsburgh, and for the City of Pittsburgh, by the Mayor and the Director of the Department of Public Works, and the seal of the City is by its proper officers hereto affixed, they being duly authorized so to do by Ordinance of said City, all done this day and year aforesaid.

President Disconcerts Diplomats by Declaration for Freedom of Seas and Against Starvation as War Weapon

The diplomatic world is still rubbing its eyes and wondering if it read aright the Armistice Day remarks of President Hoover on the freedom of the seas.

It is true that, most of the time since the American government was founded, the freedom of the seas has been the central point of our foreign policy.

It is true that we went to war four times on behalf of this principle: Our war with the Barbary pirates, our war with France in 1783, our war with England in 1812 and our war with Germany in 1917.

It is true that President Wilson, near the end of the last war, included the freedom of the seas in his famous fourteen points that were to form the basis of the peace.

But the world knows that Wilson then proceeded to conveniently forget all about this particular one of his fourteen points. Freedom of the seas evaporated along with self-determination of peoples and other high principles which the American President took into conference with Lloyd George, Clemenceau and Orlando.

Now President Hoover revives the ancient American contention in a most appealing form:

"For many years, and born of a poignant personal experience, I have held that food ships should be made free of interference in times of war. I would place all vessels, laden solely with food supplies, on the same footing as hospital ships. THE TIME HAS COME WHEN WE SHOULD REMOVE STARVATION OF WOMEN AND CHILDREN FROM THE WEAPONS OF WARFARE.

"The protection of food movements in time of war would constitute a most important contribution to the rights of all parties, whether neutral or belligerent, AND WOULD GREATLY TEND TOWARD LESSENING THE PRESSURE FOR NAVAL STRENGTH."

Why would it "lessen the pressure for naval strength"? President Hoover makes it clear:

"The rapid growth of industrial civilization in the past half century has created in many countries populations far in excess of their domestic food supply and thus steadily weakened their natural defenses. As a consequence, protection for overseas or imported supplies has been one of the most impelling causes of increasing naval armaments and military appliances.

"The world must sooner or later recognize this as one of the underlying causes of its armed situation, BUT FAR BEYOND THIS, STARVATION SHOULD BE REJECTED AMONG THE WEAPONS OF WARFARE."

The London Daily Telegraph calls the President's proposal "revolutionary." It is revolutionary because, violating the language of diplomacy, it talks about something REAL. It is revolutionary because in effect it asks England to renounce her long asserted "right" to control the seas for the purpose of starving any enemy nation into submission to England's power and will.

How honest and sincere is British statesmanship? For years it has been demanding that the British food supply be made safe in future war time, by abolition of the submarine, which is the only answer of a nation threatened with starvation by Britain's superior sea power. Is Britain ready likewise to abandon ITS tried and tested method of applying starvation?

When MacDonald came over to see Herbert Hoover, he started something. Good luck to him, over there, in his task of seeing it through.

Pitt and Tech Contest Big Game of Season

Tomorrow will be the big football day of all the year for Pittsburgh. Importance of the contests of Pitt and Tech with other teams fade as these two groups of gridiron warriors invade the Stadium to struggle for the supremacy that carries with it the championship of the city, now held by Tech by virtue of having emerged victorious from the game between the two teams last year.

This annual competition has developed in significance in just a few years. In former seasons W. & J. or Penn State provided the chief interest in the matter of local rivalry with Pitt. Tech gradually advanced in importance in the eyes of football fans. From an "under dog," admired for its pluck and spirit, it suddenly burst upon the football world as one of the leading teams. It may have been sudden for the fans elsewhere, but here we knew that Tech had been developing gradually and on merit, until finally it reached the point where annual games with Pitt became see-saw affairs, Tech being on the upper side after last year's tilt.

Just now fans are wondering if the result tomorrow will be the other way. Pitt is acknowledged to have a wonderful "machine" while Tech's real strength is a puzzle. So far, its success has not been conspicuous, its record including one tie game and one defeat. Yet there is belief that it will rise to needs of the moment in its contest with its greatest rival, Pitt. What has gone before doesn't count. The task at hand is to beat Pitt.

And the Pitt boys, despite their more glorious record for this season, are too wise to hold Tech cheaply. They do not want any upset to mar that fine record. Disregarding the "shade" that experts give them they know that Tech is a foe worthy of their keenest effort and resourcefulness in the intricacies of the pigskin sport. In short, measuring the psychological along with other values, it appears that the teams will meet on even terms and that the city championship contest will be a great game to see.

Things Here and Now

Modern Things Can Express Love of Life.

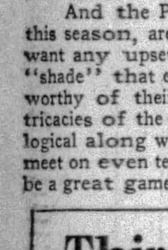
When Gothic architecture was born, classical minds in Italy deplored the departure from set standards. Indeed, the very word Gothic depicts the attitude of the critics. It means rude, barbarous, fierce. In time Gothic architecture became appreciated as a fine and independent expression of the vigorous life and attitude that bore it. Architecture can and should be a living thing, expressive of the thought and time and taste and rhythm of the period. The same is true of music and literature. Modern things at least can express a love of life here and now. And the fact that new expressions are not yet classified and accepted by academies is a point in favor of new expressions. Because the very classification means congealing. And progress is fluid.

An All-American Cackle

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

THE contest between Rudy Vallee and Will Osborn ay result in a crooning zone.

Rudy claims that he was the first croonister and wants Will to decroon himself.



"Bugs" Baer

Osborn claims he is the cheer leader of static and that Vallee is very rude.

Seems that Vallee took the collegiate crooning course at Yale, was All-American cackle on the Glee Club and studied through a megaphone.

Crooning is operatic congestion of the epiglottis. It is a throttled, monotonous chirp about an octave below the merging of a mosquito's stinger on a snoring commuter.

The alternating current hum has become very popular with the radio public. Music has reached that mixed stage where nothing is interference.

We do not see how Vallee can top Osborn from crooning himself into a gelatinous scramble of oral entertainment.

We have been studying music off the ticker tape for the last three months and our voice is now a robust bowl.

Ever time the market hopped like a Mexican jumping bean, which hops because it is wormy also, we learned a new high note.

As a member of the community chours of stock crooners we challenge both Vallee and Osborn to a low, moaning cantata.

There is no sound now that can startle us. Even the salute of all the royal navies of the world would seem like the nibbling of mice.

We are over-crooned. We understand that crooners get their effects through a megaphone or a funnel, but we don't care if they yodel up a rainspout.

Radio crooning is more or less artificial. Down on the street they sing from the heart.

If you have never heard the Four Horsemen in a mixed quartet then you have never heard crooning.

The crying towel is flying at half-mast and we salute it.

We hope that the Vallee influence gains momentum and power and that eventually bankers will have their voices cultivated to that musical pitch where they can say, "Yes."

The Woodsman

HE has learned much from each leafy way
Where merrily light and shadow play;
Meaning of footprints and whirring wings,
Calls of feathered and furry things,
Warning of storm in the swallows' flight,
Message of rainbow at fall of night,
All this and more
Is the woodsman's lore.

Slow and chary of speech is he,
Straight as his brother, the great pine tree,
Keen of senses and strong of will,
Tree-taught in patience and forest skill.
He has learned trust in those shadowed ways
Where the rustle of leaves is a murmur of praise;
Boughs of aspen and birch
Roof the woodsman's church.

Willow and oak,
They are forest folk
And like man to man
With the woodsman's clan.

Isn't It So?

UNCLE SAM'S STEPCHILDREN

By Herbert Kaufman

EDUCATION is the ONLY process through which democracy can diminish racial, social and environmental handicaps.

No political system will EVEN standardize intelligence.

But enlightened government is obligated by self-interest to afford all subjects the same chance to discover and develop their capacities.

To deprive a single American child of such opportunity is to violate his birthright and narrow his choice of careers.

Franklin, Lincoln and Edison are "sports"—variations from type. Steinmetz would have designed a kit of mathematical formulas, if he had never heard of calculus or seen a logarithmic table.

Prodigies are a law to themselves. Genius is self-sufficient—but AVERAGE folk are not.

THE ordinary brain is intrinsically commonplace, un-original and incurious. Precision, reason and logic are largely dependent upon stimuli.

Every normal person has some qualification which renders him FITTER to succeed in one field than another.

And it's education's mission to reveal the task in which the individual will ENTHUSIASTICALLY function.

Inefficiency is usually UNAROUSED interest. Nine out of ten of us have definite affinities for GIVEN occupations.

The SEEMING dullard is often merely dormant, like Wagner the composer, Newton the philosopher, Scott the novelist—unaware of talents whose bell-buttons have not yet been pressed.

Heaven alone knows how many UNWHITTLED pegs have wasted potential distinction in obscure and mental cubbyholes where lack of information or illiteracy squandered them.

THE backwaters and backwoods of the United States are filled with boys and girls competent to be merchants, lawyers, engineers, surgeons and inventors, but who will remain ignorant of their possibilities until local compulsory education acts enlarge their horizons and put their neglected wits on the whetstone.

Training alone divides the skilled and unskilled worker. Reading, writing and arithmetic are bridges on which millions of drudges might YET pass from uncertainties to independence, if legislation were not so laggard in recognizing that every dollar spent on night schools and home courses, would return TENFOLD via increased earnings and decreased public aid expenditures.

There'd be need for HALF as many old age appropriations and widow's compensation acts if we spent TWICE as much money to equip their children for the attainments at which a previous generation had no chance.

TODAY must have common access to all current research, revisions and contemplations.

Each citizen is constitutionally entitled to set his sons and daughters on the SAME scratch as his neighbor's.

But census surveys indicate that millions of Americans are STILL without immediate hope of equality for themselves or their families.

Universal education won't banish or abolish poverty, but it WILL increase the odds AGAINST failure and AGAINST poverty—strengthen the fiber of citizenship—raise the standards of public service—purge the ballot box of prevalent stupidities and provide structural material for safer and shrewder tomorrows.

The world is moving too fast to wait upon Lincolns and pine knots, Edisons and barrage-car laboratories, Franklins and kites.

The Twentieth Century is too busy to postpone schedules, while Fortune's stepchildren battle the barriers of circumstance.

It's the state's duty to REMOVE them.

THE SCIENCE OF LIFE

By H. G. WELLS
In Collaboration With
Prof. Julian Huxley and George P. Wells.

THERE is then a rapid succession of events; first a pause in the masticatory movements of the diaghragm, then a violent thrust upward and backward of the tongue, which shoots the bolus back into the oesophagus.

As this last movement occurs, the soft palate moves back to protect the nose-cavity, the cartilages of the larynx displace themselves so that the opening of the windpipe becomes a tightly closed slit, and a curious little flap of cartilage, the epiglottis, which normally sticks out into the throat, ducks smartly out the way of the oncoming bolus.

H. G. Wells

The oesphagus (and this is also true of the rest of the digestive tube), is able to perform active movements automatically without any direction from the brain. Its muscles are always slightly contracted and their contraction is maintained by the agency of a special local nervous system in its tissues. The presence of a bolus in any part of the oesophagus, large enough to stretch its wall, sets these muscles going. This process is called peristalsis. In the oesophagus, peristalsis is so powerful that a man can swallow well when he is standing on his head. He can and most animals do drink "upwards."

The stomach's capacity is about three-and-a-half pints; it has two openings, that of the oesophagus through which the mixture of food and saliva enters the stomach, and that of the duodenum (the first part of the intestine), through which the products of gastric digestion go out.

The wall of the stomach is complex in its minute structure, the essential parts to notice being the inner layer, containing thousands of glands which make the gastric juice, and an outer layer of plain muscle-fibres, by means of which the stomach executes slow churning movements during digestion.

Food remains in the stomach for at least an hour and undergoes slow permeation by the gastric juice.

The final result is a soft, slightly acid pulp known as chyme.

The gastric juice is a liquid made by a multitude of very tiny and simple glands situated in the inner layer of the stomach wall. It has several important characters: it is acid, containing a little hydrochloric acid, and it includes enzymes—pepsin, which attacks proteins, and lipase, which attacks fats.

The glands begin to secrete this juice about five minutes after a meal is swallowed, and it soaks slowly into the new mass of food.

As it does so it produces certain profoundly important changes. The pepsin begins the dissection of the protein molecules. At the same time some of the simpler carbohydrates, such as cane sugar, are attacked by the warm hydrochloric acid and broken down to glucose.

A certain digestion of fats also occurs, partly under the influence of the hydrochloric acid and partly under that of the lipase. Oil and fat are exclusive: they keep themselves to themselves, which is probably the reason why fat is the chief stored fuel found in the body.

In many of our tissues, and especially in the liver, there is storage of a carbohydrate, glycogen, but only in limited amounts.

Glycogen, being soluble in water, cannot be accumulated in a cell without affecting its chemical and physical processes, but a fat remains aloof and does not interfere with the processes about it until it is called into use.

The most important aspect of the stomach-phase is the breaking down of proteins by pepsin and the consequent loss of structure which prepares the food for more effective action in the intestine. The clotting of milk, in the stomach, is due to a change in its protein constituents. This change is often taken as evidence for the existence of a separate enzyme, rennin; but it is probably due to pepsin.

Ptyalin cannot work in an acid medium and is therefore inactivated by gastric juice; but during the 30 minutes or so before the middle of the food mass is got at by the juice, digestion of starch by ptyalin continues.

As we have already pointed out, the process of gastric digestion is assisted by slow churning movements of the stomach wall.

The newest in celebrities are beauties of the cigaret ads. Helen Morgan is now the most widely publicized actress in town.

A new bank with no cages—just long counters. Vina Delmar. The Broadway messenger boy who looks like Buster Keaton. Herb Roth, a San Francisco boy, who made good in the city. Wonder why a Jap chauffeur gives a limousine a smartness? Fake jewelry auctions day and night.

Martin Littleton, the criminal lawyer. A new chain of waffle parlors. With futuristic decorations. Chic Sale now has a business office on Broadway, the old plutocrat. The gamblers who dress so sedately. A famous stage souse at a buttermilk bar. Run-over heels. Soiled spats.

Sandwich men with rhuemy eyes who mumble and scan the gutters for snipes. Pigeons about the eaves of the Astor. Saucy ladies who patronize flossy all night shoe shops. Irving Berlin's gloomy music publishing house over old Churchill's. Abe Attel's boxing studio.

More self photo shops. And they are a flop in the outland. Ginger beer parlors. The beautiful blind girl who goes to the theater nightly to sit with her father—a stage doorman. Jobless actors who stand about in cabinet photograph poses. Drug stores give away bi-carbonate of soda.

The furtive look of those who dart into free sex lectures. And come out with a $3 book. Rouged ladies who smile and look back. Flip lads about coffee pots. Cuff shooters. Chorus ladies and their familiar "Hello honey!" Phoneys, racketeers and sucker steerers. Broadway's children!

Drowsing taxi drivers awaiting the after theater rush. The beautiful horses of mounted policemen. Faded blondes who cling to baby talk. The blinking sign of Zit's theatrical weekly. The incessant murmur of split weeks, lucky breaks, club tours and cheap gin. Aspirin Alley!

The most prosperous theater in New York is the New Amsterdam on West Forty-second street. It was built long before the new type of intimate lobbyless playhouse and is spacious and somber. The New Amsterdam is owned by A. L. Erlanger and is said to net him a million a year. It seldom houses "a flop." For years it was the home of The Follies and latterly has been occupied by Ziegfeld for his experimentation in musical comedies. There are many visitors to New York who order tickets for "the show at the New Amsterdam" without knowing what is playing there. Experience has taught them they are likely to see a good performance.

The old Empire was filled for years as the result of the same impression. It has not lately entirely lived up to the traditional hey dey of its Frohman stars, but as a rule seats there are a good theatrical buy.

Theaters opening to a bad start have difficulty in shaking off the hoodoo. An unsuccessful play is often deadly for a new playhouse. One of the most beautifully built in years housed three successive flops and after a struggle went movie.

At a pier the other day three husbands bade a happy bon voyage to wives shoving off for Paris divorces. They all dined together previous to the sailing and offered toasts to happier days. Divorce at least has been clipped of rancor.

George Jean Nathan has written the most caustically of the New York theater and its players, and is about the only critic who hasn't been temporarily barred. No reason. Just lucky.

I ran across the most contented fellow in the world today. Even when he sees the other fellow's food arrive in a restaurant he is satisfied with his own order.
